RAMPANT AND QUOR FLOWS, SAYS NORWEGIAN CONSUL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

March 21.—In the belief that the little gather- witnessed the suicide of the beautiful Pauline Vir- was in reality a "suicide party," and that those have been accessories before the fact, Dist.-Atty. decided to summon all those present at the time Newbury-street apartment, their case to be the grand jury if the theory is borne out.

panion get a quantity of stronger liquor and go back to the quiet apartment."

LARSEN UNMARRIED.

That Larsen was not married was the assertion of his friend, the Consul. This interpretation had been given by some to the statement in the dead student's last message to the effect that "he was not free to marry Miss Clark," but that young Wharton, the young Philadelphian at Harvard, "was free to do so."

It was made known yesterday that Miss Clark announced her engagement to Bayard Wharton a scant hour before she drank her death potion in her Newbury-street apartment in the presence of Wharton, Larsen and others she had invited there.

The Norwegian consul made it known today that he sought to take possession of Larsen's apartments following his death as was his privilege under the treaty between the two countries. It was Medical Examiner MaGrath, he declares, who caused him to abstain from insisting upon this right. The consul said:

REFUSED ADMITTANCE.

"Medical Examiner MaGrath intimated that many folks of high position are involved in the affairs of this woman. When I went to take possession of Larsen's apartments MaGrath assured me that the apartment had been sealed up and that he did not wish me to enter. He intimated that the apartments contained information which would involve other men and he felt that he ought to keep it under his own jurisdiction.

Dist.-Atty. O'Brien promises a clean-up-vice campaign and says that he will use the utmost powers of his office to rid the Back Bay of all alleged "dens of vice."

In an interview tonight O'Brien said that he would "fire the first gun" in his vice crusade just as soon as he had in his possession the report of Medical Examiner MaGrath on the Clark and Larsen cases.

An interesting commentary on conditions in Boston is furnished by Miss Adelbert Hilling of Norway who is studying voice culture at the New England Conservatory of Music. This young woman declares "girls are not safe on the streets of Boston."

"Even on the important streets they are not free from insult," she declares. "It is not so in Norway."

No Help for Red Russia, is Plan of Paris Experts; France Prepares Agenda

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, March 21.—French experts now meeting in London with the experts of the other Allies, to prepare the agenda for the Genoa conference, have an ambitious plan for the economic reconstruction of Russia. Perhaps more important than the positive part of the French plan, which seems to be exaggerated, are the negative provisions, which are:

(1.) No loans or credits for the soviet government.

(2.) No help for Russia unless the Russian government recognizes the Russian foreign debt, restores private property to foreigners and hands back the Russian oil fields to their prewar owners.

IMPORTANT TO PARIS.

Inconsistent as these two negations may appear, the French attach great importance to them, and declare they are a sine qua non of doing anything to help Russia.

The positive part of the French plan consists of a scheme of economic rehabilitation in zones of Russian territory by outsiders. In certain zones special rights would be granted to foreign capital and constructors.

In several weeks of preparation the French experts have paid most of their attention to the Russian problem. Great was the surprise of the French government when it received last week the draft plans of the British experts, which scarcely mention Russia, except to exact that Russia recognize her debt.

Most of the British experts have been given over to plans for the establishment of a monetary unit for Central Europe and for removing barriers too much politics had placed in the way of commerce across many borders of Central Europe.

FEAR EXPRESSED.

This difference in the reports brings the fear expressed in several French papers today that Lloyd George wishes to wait until he has the Russians at Genoa—and the French, too—before he gets deep into the Russian problem.

The French report starts out by a whack at what it regards as the British plan to open a big market in Russia for English goods. It says that Russia should not be flooded with merchandise from without in payment for which the little capital remaining would leave Russia. The way to help

HOUSE REVOLT LAUNCHED.

Insurgents in Army-Navy Row, Led by Kahn, Rebel Against Appropriations Committee Officiousness.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Open revolt started in the House today over the growing concentration of power in the hands of the "small-Army-and-little-Navy" Appropriations Committee, as manifested by its apparent determination to reduce the nation to its prewar condition of unpreparedness.

Although the insurgents, under the leadership of Representative Kahn of California, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, met defeat in the opening skirmish the prediction was generally made that much more serious rebellion could be expected in the near future.

Under the provisions of the budget system, the jurisdiction over all appropriations, including those for the Army and Navy, was lodged, in the Appropriations Committee. There was considerable grumbling over this radical departure from the time-honored practice of the House, particularly by members of the Military and Naval Committees, but the recognized necessity for rigid economy induced these who were dissatisfied to acquiesce in the new procedure.

When, however, the Appropriations Committee, disregarding the urger, recommendations of the President and the War Department, reported the Army bill, arbitrarily cutting the size of the Army to 115,000 enlisted men, the dissatisfaction was revived. Representative Kahn and others who are striving to keep the country from reverting to its defenseless condition of before the war took the position that the committee was usurping general legislative functions which the House has never intended it should have. They pointed out that the Appropriations Committee was attempting to write into the general supply bills legislative measures dealing with questions of general policy which should come under the jurisdiction of other committees of the House.

Mr. Kahn undertook to test the general legislating powers of the Appropriations Committee under the rules today. He was defeated, but he sowed the seeds of dissension which may in time reach the proportions of the "parlous days" of 1909-10, when the concentration of the vast powers in the hands of the Speaker led to the revolt against "Cannonism."

BONUS BILL UP THURSDAY.

Speaker Gillett Consents to Program of Majority in House; Democrats Still Fighting.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Speaker Gillett consented today to permit the compromise soldiers' bonus bill to be taken up in the House Thursday under suspension of the rules. It is the plan to have the final vote before adjournment that day after four hours of general debate divided equally between opponents and proponents.

A two-thirds majority will be necessary to pass the bill under this procedure, but those in charge of the legislation predicted that they would have votes to spare. By this method, the majority will succeed, not only in shutting out all amendments, but also in preventing the Democrats from offering a motion to recommit the bill.

PRELIMINARY PLAN.

The preliminary plan for the measure was determined upon at a five-minute conference today between Speaker Gillett and Chairman Campbell of the Rules Committee.

A special rule will be presented immediately after the House convenes Thursday, Campbell said, but whether any debate will be permitted has not been determined. The chairman might cut off discussion by moving the previous question after explaining the rule. A majority vote only will be required to adopt the rule, which Democratic leaders said would be opposed almost solidly by their side.

With the rule adopted, the next step would be for the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, who will be in charge of the bill, to move to suspend the rules and pass the measure, thus opening the way to general debate on the bonus it-

Dr. Derome said that in the auto had been found some feathers of a great similarity to those that had been found under the quilts that were found about the youth's head.

There also was Chief of Police Lorraine. He stood before the effigy and said he had received through the mail a watch bearing the priest's initials and a fragment of a cane that fitted another fragment that had been found attached to the dead man's clothing.

The priest had said his brother had the watch, and on that point Dr. Derome, as handwriting expert, said the priest had mailed the package to mislead the police.

PARIS GOWN GRAFT HIT

Lillian Russell to Buy Here.

Scores French Extortion in Lingerie, Hats and So-Called "Creations."

Prefers American Stores to Hold-up Prices, at Twice Rate of Exchange.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Miss Lillian Russell (Mrs. Alexander P. Moore) has just returned to this country after a prolonged stay in Paris without having purchased a single new gown or hat in the French capital. The reason for this extraordinary restraint on Miss Russell's part is that she came to the conclusion after thoroughly examining Paris clothes that she could get better gowns and hats at her favorite shops in the United States.

"I looked all over Paris," said Miss Russell, in her apartment at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel today, "and after seeing all that they had to show in spring creations came to the conclusion that I could get better gowns and hats here at my favorite department stores in New York.

"One pays very little more for imported gowns here than in Paris and there is a better opportunity to obtain the most attractive gowns and hats in New York. In Paris they are not showing the best things to individual purchasers any more. They are saving them to show to the buyers from our big stores who deal with them on the wholesale plan. Consequently Americans get better clothes when they buy them in New York than when they try to get them in Paris.

ESTABLISHED A RECORD.

"I established an all-around record. I did not even buy any underwear. The Paris shopkeepers are all charging Americans according to the exchange rates of the dollar at par, then doubling it. It seemed to me. In the smallest shop in Paris where one might stop to buy a bit of antique lace for instance, they know the rate of exchange and Americans are charged accordingly. They inform themselves every morning so that they will make no mistakes in letting us have anything at low rates.

"I saw nothing in Paris that tempted me to buy, nothing that I could not resist. I have been in Paris once or twice before without buying many things, but only for flying visits. This is the first time that I have ever made a prolonged stay there without purchasing a wardrobe.

BUYS BETTER HERE.

"But now that I have seen what they are showing and know just what is to be worn I can go to my favorite stores and purchase my spring wardrobe to better advantage for several reasons. If I want imported models I will be able to obtain them for very little if any more than I would have paid abroad. In our best stores the buyers are skilled people who bring home the very best models. If I prefer American modifications of the French models I can find them also without even having to go to the private dressmakers. The department stores of the best class will be able to show me a great variety of modified designs.

EASIER FITTING.

"Besides being able to see all the best French models here and to obtain them at about same prices as in Paris, the American stores offer the advantage of easier fitting. They do those things more simply and effectively here. In Paris, it takes a whole day to have a gown fitted. They have you come for a fitting, offer you a cup of tea and then keep you two hours before the fitting begins.

"In the best stores here also one's personality receives more consideration than in Paris. Suppose, for example, I selected a Paris model in Paris. No alterations whatever are made in the design of the gown. There may be some sort of trimming that I do not want at all, as it is not suited to my style, but the Paris dressmakers would not think of leaving it off. Afterward, of course, I may cut it off myself.

RECOGNIZE ONE'S TASTE.

"I have cut off quantities of hanging things from French gowns, things that I would not wear, but could not get them to leave off. Here in New York the dressmaker or department store fitter is willing to recognize one's individual taste a little and I feel that I have occasionally an idea in design which I want carried out, something that I know to be individually suitable and becoming."

Miss Russell confirmed the news of the long skirt's return to favor most emphatically.

"The skirts now shown in Paris," she said, "are not more than six inches from the ground. But the effect of the short skirt is still obtained to some extent because the skirts are transparent up to about ten or twelve inches from the ground.

"I did not see a full skirt in Paris, although there is a great Woman Sought in Slaying of Circus Owner.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RIVERSIDE (N. J.) March 21. A photograph of a woman seated in a rowboat, upon which was scrawled "Cherchez la Femme" (find the woman) is the latest clew in the killing of John L. Brunen, circus owner, slain in his home ten days ago.

The photograph and a letter written by a man in New York were received today by Prosecutor J. H. Kelsey of Burlington county. The new lead, Kelsey said, would be followed as faithfully as other clews.

"Find the woman," the writer of the letter declared, "and you will find the murderer of John T. Brunen."

He added that he had been a close friend of the showman and that circumstances prevented his going further than to state that if the woman whose likeness was shown could be found the mystery could be solved.

A contest over Brunen's estate was promised today, when action was taken against the probating by the widow of any will.

TEACHER IS KILLED BY OLD SUITOR.

Man Then Ends Own Life; Terrified Pupils See the Double Crime Committed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FORT MORGAN (Colo.) March 21.—Helen Mura, 22 years old, teacher in the North Star rural school, was shot and killed in the sight of her twenty pupils yesterday by Maggarino Stabio, 24 years old, said to be a rejected suitor.

Stabio then turned the gun on himself, falling dead at the side of the girl.

Stabio drove to the schoolhouse early yesterday, according to pupils, and on being refused admission, remained around the building, making repeated attempts to engage the teacher in conversation.

As the noon hour approached, Miss Mura refused to permit the children to leave the room for lunch, telling them she "feared the man outside."

Later she stepped into the hallway, where she was seized by Stabio. The children saw him press a gun to her forehead and fire. He then placed the weapon to his head and fired, dying without releasing his grasp of the girl.

The pupils, thrown in a panic, raised the windows at the front of the building and escaped, crying for help.

Stabio was said to have been employed at one time by the girl's father near Weldona, Colo.

ARREST SIKHS IN INDIA.

Government Opens Drive Throughout Punjab; Carter Harrison Says Seizure of Gandhi Mistake.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LAHORE, March 21.—The first day's drive against Akali Dal throughout the Punjab opened at dawn this morning when squads of police and troops visited villages and towns in various districts with orders to confiscate arms and arrest the leaders of the movement. The Sikhs made little resistance and no trouble has been reported at a late hour tonight.

A compromise has been effected regarding the Kirpan, which the Akalis were permitted to retain under certain conditions, viz, if the Kirpan was slung from the waist and sheathed it would not be touched. If worn slung from the shoulder or carried drawn, it would be considered an offensive weapon and be confiscated.

Many government officials have criticised the compromise, declaring the Akalis will remain a danger until the long Kirpans are taken from all. It is believed the job must be done in the near future.

MANILA, March 21.—"The arrest of Mahatma Gandhi by the British was a great tactical error," said former Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago in a statement today.

Harrison and his wife have just arrived at Manila from India where they spent six weeks sightseeing and observing political conditions. Continuing, Harrison said:

"India virtually is against British rule. The Hindus and Mohammedans have buried the hatchet in order to present a solid front to the English. To an American it appears that the overbearing attitude of many British is already responsible for the present unrest. Lately officials have been instructed from London to treat the Indians more on a plane with the British but this order came too late. It seems impossible for the British to win the respect of the Indians again.

"Mr. Gandhi's arrest might have been effective a year ago but now the mischief has been done. By imprisoning him the British have succeeded in making a martyr of him."

Attempt to Shoot Way Out of Trap Fatal to Mexican

As he was preapring to shoot his way out of a police trap at 1262 Elysian Drive last night, Thomas Ayala, a Mexican, about 25 years of age, a suspected burglar, was shot and mortally wounded by Detective Sergeant James E. Davis of Central Police Station.

Ayala, who had his picture and crime record in the Rogues' Gallery at Central Station, was caught attempting to break into the home of Cecil G. Ament at the address on Elysian Drive, according to the police. Unaware that he had been discovered, he continued his search for a possible entrance to the house from the rear. Meanwhile neighbors of Mr. Ament telephoned to the detective bureau at the Central Station. Detective Sergeants Davis and Carr responded to the call.

When the detectives arrived at the Ament home they cautiously approached from two sides. Both heard a noise at the rear at the same time and hurried around to the back. Ayala, hearing the approach of the detectives, darted to the left and almost ran into Detective Carr. He swung about, drew a revolver from his pocket and ran to the right. Encountering Detective Davis, he was about to level his revolver when Davis fired. Ayala fell with two bullets in his breast. He was rushed to the Receiving Hospital in the police ambulance, where he died several minutes later.

PREMIER TO KEEP POST

Lloyd George is Not to Resign.

Will Demand Full Authority from Commons to Attend Genoa Conference.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, March 21.—Prime Minister Lloyd George has made up his mind to carry on and the latest crisis is definitely over, according to Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who returned to London today from Criccieth. He brought with him a letter to Austen Chamberlain announcing this decision and outlining the coalition's strategy for the next few weeks.

Today Mr. Chamberlain, who is the government's spokesman, announced in the House of Commons that Mr. Lloyd George will be in his place on April 3, and he would then immediately take the opinion of the House regarding the Genoa conference. Mr. Chamberlain said a motion would be submitted raising in the clearest terms the question of whether the Lloyd George government possesses the confidence of the whole House.

DEMANDS AUTHORITY.

"The whole House," said Mr. Chamberlain, "must recognize that it would be impossible for the Prime Minister to go to Genoa if there was any doubt about his authority."

Mr. Chamberlain also said that the British delegates to Genoa would be the Prime Minister, Foreign Minister and Chancellor of the Exchequer.

From a source in the closest touch with the Prime Minister, I learn that Mr. Lloyd George is absolutely determined to make the Genoa parley a success, and he still has great hopes of seeing Premier Poincare there. It is stated in Downing street that M. Poincare's hesitation about going to Genoa Hughes Denies Secret Understanding With Britain; Scores Borah.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Comprehensive denials today by President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes that there is any secret understanding between the United States and Great Britain, growing out of the arms conference took the last breath of wind out of the sails of the opposition to the four-power Pacific pact.

The Borah charge of a sinister secret Anglo-American agreement aimed at Japan was the last desperate effort of the opposition to bolster up its case against the treaty. It was based upon a far-fetched construction of a speech by Paul D. Cravath and even this ground was removed by a repudiation of Borah's interpretation of his utterances which Cravath telegraphed to Senator Lodge.

REALIZE FUTILITY.

Indications that the opposition realizes the futility of its fight are not wanting. Ratification of the treaty on Friday by a safe margin is now deemed a certainty. In fact, it would not be surprising if there should be a band wagon movement on the Democratic side at the last moment, increasing the majority for ratification.

President Harding could not restrain his indignation at the charge of an Anglo-American agreement to combine naval forces against Japan in the event of trouble in the Pacific. He knows and wants the world to know there is no such understanding which would place the United States in the position of inviting Japan to the arms conference and then conspiring against her. This the President regards as a charge of perfidy, unthinkable and he cannot understand how any intelligent man could make it.

HUGHES SCORES FOES.

Secretary Hughes paid his respects to Borah and his co-adjutors in the following brief and sharp note which Senator Lodge had read in the Senate:

"I notice that the latest charge in the course of the debate over the four-power treaty is that there is a secret agreement or understanding between this government and Great Britain with respect to Pacific matters. Any such statement is absolutely false. We have no secret understandings or agreements with Great Britain in relation to the four-power treaty or any other matter.

"In my letter to Senator Underwood on March 11, in relation to the four-power treaty, I said:

"'There are no secret notes or understandings.'

"Permit me to express the hope that the American delegates will be saved further aspersions upon their veracity and honor."

Cravath's denial, addressed to Senator Lodge and also read to the Senate, said:

"My attention has been called to a charge by Senator Borah in the Senate to the effect that I had stated that there was a secret understanding between the United States and Great Britain regarding Far Eastern and Pacific questions and that members of the Washington conference were my authority for this statement. I hope I need not assure you that this charge is unfounded. I never made such a statement, nor have I ever talked with any member of the Washington conference on the subject of the alleged statement, or on any subject remotely resembling it.

Mine Union Officials Order 600,000 Men Quit Their Jobs April 1.

COAL STRIKE CALLED IN WAGE AGREEMENT ROW.

Government Entertains Hopes of Averting Trouble; Out to Win, Says Lewis.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21.—Suspension of work by all union coal miners at midnight March 31 was ordered today by officers of the United Mine Workers of America, the call being the first ever issued for both bituminous and anthracite workers to walk out simultaneously. Six hundred thousand men will be affected by the order, it was estimated officially. The suspension, the order provided, will continue until stopped by union officials.

The order, which was sent to the 3000 local unions, directed the miners to give the operators their fullest co-operation in the protection of mine property and counseled against violence and violations of the law. In addition to affecting all union miners in the United States, the order also directed approximately 5650 union men in Western Canada to join in the walkout but did not apply to 14,000 miners in Nova Scotia.

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY.

"Never before in the history of the coal industry has a suspension or strike order called for cessation of work by all union miners in the United States. In the past, wage contracts in the bituminous and anthracite fields have not expired at the same time but a complete tie-up in union fields was considered during the great anthracite strike in 1902. A sympathetic strike by the bituminous miners at that time was rejected by the union's convention, it being argued that the soft coal workers were bound by a contract.

The issuance of the call came with the recent strike vote of soft coal miners not completely tabulated, but it was said officially that the work of the union's board of tellers had progressed to such a point as to show every field voting overwhelmingly in favor of a suspension. Indications were that nine-tenths of the miners favored the walk-out. Cessation of the suspension, in whole or part, is left to the union's policy committee, composed of more than 100 union officials, which will meet in Cleveland on Friday to consider plans for conducting the strike. Outstanding among the questions to be considered by the committee is that of negotiating single State wage agreements. A division within the committee on this question seems certain with the indications that the majority will oppose the State proposition.

THOSE NOT AFFECTED.

The union's membership, excluding that in Nova Scotia, which will not be affected by the strike, is about 500,000 men. Of these approximately 75,000 are in the three anthracite districts of Pennsylvania and the remainder scattered over the soft coal fields. Past suspensions in the anthracite fields, however, have practically stopped all operations, leading to the official estimate that almost 500,000 men will be called out of the mines.

The order was not sent into Nova Scotia because the miners there were said to be working under an arrangement made some time ago when a contract expired, and it was said that the injection of the strike order might so complete the situation as to make any future agreements impossible.

WASHINGTON QUIET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 21. — While the government had not entirely abandoned its efforts to get a settlement in advance of the coal strike, called for April 1, particularly in the bituminous fields, and while the Department of Justice is studying the possibilities of legal redress in case danger results to public peace and welfare, it was learned today in White House and Cabinet circles that no action is contemplated unless the strike develops.

SHORTAGE NOT EXPECTED.

At the White House, along with the statement that the effort to bring about a national conference between the employers and the miners in the bituminous industry was still continuing, notwithstanding the almost complete refusal of the operators to co-operate, the existence of a great coal surplus was emphasized as a most important factor.

The goverment's survey indicated, it was said, that with production continuing in nonunion fields the surplus would prevent any shortages in industry and should prevent any inflation of coal prices.

The government's concern with the anthracite situation is not so great because of the disposition there for amicable relationship between the mine owners and their unionized employees.

FAIL TO AGREE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—After failure to reach an agreement which would avert the general coal strike April 1, the anthracite miners and operators wage arbitration committee of eight tonight ended its first conference here.

Members of the committee declined to say whether the session pointed to an early adjustment of wage scale differences.

In a formal statement, James A. Gorman, secretary of the committee, and a neutral, nonvoting member, said:

"We did not get beyond a general discussion of the nineteen wage demands of the United Mine Workers and the attitude of the operators as they defined it when the miners presented their demands last week."

Thus far, it was said, the operators have not offered any counter-proposals. Their arguments today were based upon their announced determination that a decrease rather than an increase in miners wages is the only compromise they will consider.

The conferences, which it is freely predicted will continue for several weeks, will be resumed tomorrow.

"SUSPENSION" WRONG.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers' union, tonight declared that, although the order to cease operations of the anthracite and bituminous mines is termed a suspension, it is, in reality, a strike.

"The only difference in this case is that we will not begin paying strike benefits—not just yet," he said.

"We are determined to continue the strike until we have attained our goal. We hope it will not be necessary to remain out more than a few weeks, but are prepared to keep the mines closed indefinitely."

In the bituminous industry, he said, the strike will call out unionized miners who produce 2,225,000 tons a day.

Nonunionized mines have a capacity of 600,000 tons a day, he said.

Union men estimated that the present reserves of hard coal would be used up within seven weeks after the strike goes into effect.

FOUR THOUSAND HIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HELENA (Mont.) March 21.—Approximately 4000 miners in Montana will be affected by the nation-wide coal strike called for April 1, according to Commissioner Davis of the State Department of Agriculture, Labor and Industry.

Most of the coal mining activities of the State are confined to the Bear Creek and Roundup fields. The State Department of Labor expects all of the union miners to walk out in obedience to the April 1 strike call.

Most of the division points of the various railroads in the State have been stocking up with coal for months past, it is said, and will be able to run trains for a number of weeks without difficulty.

SUPPORT IN COLORADO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, March 21. — Union miners in Colorado will support whole-heartedly the decision of the United Mine Workers of America, Mike Livoda, acting president of district 15 of the miners' organization, said today over the telephone from district offices at Pueblo, when informed that a call for suspension of work had been issued.

At the same time, Maj. A. L. Hart, of the adjutant-general's department, speaking in the absence of Adjt. Gen. Patrick J. Hamrock, declared that adequate protection would be given to property and to "any one who wants to work," when the suspension order goes into effect.

Livoda said that District 15 had voted 95 per cent for suspension in the poll recently taken by the miners' organization, and that the union miners were ready to stand together for any action taken by the international officers. A meeting of policy committees will be held at Cleveland, O., March 24, at which time a policy to guide the course of the miners will be adopted, he said, and until that time, he could not further discuss plans of the miners in this district.

PROTECTION ASSURED.

Maj. Hart said that preliminary plans for protecting property and miners who wished to remain at work, had been considered by the adjutant-general's department. "The policy of Adjt.-Gen. Hamrock, and of Gov. Shoup, is that adequate protection be given both to property and to anyone who wants to work, now, as always," Maj. Hart said.

Tragedy Again Marks Trail of 'Unloaded' Gun

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Six-year-old Emma Bauer was all dressed up as a gypsy to "surprise grandpa" when he came home from work last night.

As she heard his footsteps in the hall, she scrambled under the dining-room table, while daddy, grandma and Uncle Richard sat watching for the nightly game to be enacted.

"Where's my little sweetheart," inquired Grandpa Ernest Fuchs, as he entered the dining-room.

"You'll have to find her," smiled Grandma Fuchs.

A giggle gave grandpa the clew and he started toward the table, but drew back in mock alarm as the "gypsy" emerged.

To make the play more exciting, he seized a pistol from the sideboard drawer and pointed it at Emma. There was an explosion and she fell with a bullet through her heart.

Ambulance surgeons found the old man sitting in a daze, with the limp form of the little "gypsy" in his arms. She had died instantly, they said.

PARIS AGAINST AID TO RUSSIA.

Russia, the French experts say, is to provide ways for increasing Russian products. The French think the Allies should work out a scheme to apply their capital and direction directly to Russian reconstruction by opening up factories and building railroads.

The suggested plan for the installation of the capitulation system in Russia is thrown aside on the ground that foreigners could not expect in Russia rights refused to Russians, which is how the capitulation scheme works out. While no such plan could be applied to all Russia, the French experts think zones should be established in which foreigners could have special privileges which would enable them to restore economic life.

BEGIN IN SMALL WAY.

They give suggestions which ultimately would provide zones for most of Russia in Europe. They would begin in a small way and mark out the first zone on the western frontier of Russia. Nothing would be undertaken under the French plan in any other region until the system had been tried out in the first chosen territory.

The French experts' report points out at length the difficulties any plan to restore Russia from the outside will meet so long as the soviets maintain a monopoly of foreign trade, as Foreign Minister Tchitcherin declared only two days ago in his note to Premier Poincare they intended to do. Therein the experts see a political question to be met by statesmen and not by technicians.

As for salaries which would be paid in factories established in the proposed zones, the experts propose a concession to the soviet system of arbitration boards to hear disputes between the workers, soviets and the proprietors of the factories.

The French plan seems full of difficulties and contradictions. But it is only a starting point and probably will prove valuable because of the advice it contains from a number of Frenchmen who know a great deal about Russia. But the truth of the matter is that whether the French like it or not, no Russian plan is any good at present without the consent and co-operation of the Moscow government. Perhaps Lloyd George has a keener realization of that than has M. Poincare.

deal of talk over here about full skirts. All the skirts I saw were close fitting in evening, afternoon and street clothes. There are a great many overdraperies, however, and these give the impression of full skirts, perhaps, to persons who are not keely observant of fashions.

"Next to the long skirts the high necks in the evening gowns are the most striking feature of Paris fashions. The gowns are made with neck coming up to the chin. These gowns are sometimes entirely sleeveless or they have flowing transparent sleeves. All the sleeves are full and there are no elbow sleeves.

"All the trains of evening dresses are on one side. I did not see a single gown with a train in the back. Black and white seem to be the favorite colors, although there is still a good lot of French blue and I saw some striking red crepe de chene dresses trimmed with black, very handsome for those who can wear red.

"But as for the hats—think of going to Paris and not seeing one hat that was irresistible. The Paris hats this season are really awful. If you look over the pictures in the fashion supplement of the newspapers those showing the new French hats I think you will agree with me. I have seen hats made by American designers that I really could not help buying but I came away from Paris leaving all the hats behind me without a pang.

"I believe that today the American department stores have the best of everything, including hats and gowns.

"I've come home perfectly willing to do my buying in America."

self. After four hours the final roll call will be ordered.

MAY OPEN WAY.

After his conference with Campbell, Speaker Gillett said he was inclined to think that it would be just as well not to open the way for the Democrats to offer a motion on the bill, which would have to be permitted unless the rules were suspended. He called attention that in their minority report the Democrats had urged that the bonus be paid by an excess profits tax and increased surtaxes.

Asked if a motion to re-enact those taxes would be germane, since the bill had no tax provision, Gillett said that he might rule that it was not, but that there then probably would be an appeal from his decision, which would bring the matter of those taxes to a vote of the House.

After their failure to get the bill up yesterday under a suspension of the rules, those in charge of the legislation appeared to be highly gratified that their original plan finally had been approved. They expected little difficulty in executing their program on the floor and believed that by Thursday night the problem with which they have been wrestling for several months would be off their hands.

MRS. GOODWIN HELD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—Mrs. Ethel Goodwin, said to be the divorced wife of Abe Attell, former pugilist, was arrested here yesterday charged with being a member of a band of thieves that had been planning wholesale robberies of big fur stores and factories through the corruption of employees of burglar alarm protective companies. She was held in $2000 bail for a further hearing March 25.

LLOYD GEORGE TO KEEP POST.

was due largely to the uncertainty of Mr. Lloyd George's being there, and that the French leader cannot afford to stay away, leaving the undisputed leadership of the conference to the British Prime Minister. This is felt all the more to be the case as Italy is now definitely lined up with the British policy.

WANTS ARE EQUAL.

One of Mr. Lloyd George's chief objects is to try to abolish the divisions existing in Europe so that the nations will work together as a whole to restore stable conditions. Another phase is his desire to bring back into the council of nations as equals the former enemy states, getting rid of the present attitude of the victors toward the vanquished, who are treated as serfs, being called up and given orders which they must obey.

The Prime Minister also feels that Russia must be recalled to consultation at the conclave of nations, whether this involves virtual recognition of the soviet government or not. The Prime Minister is convinced that Europe's health cannot be restored while so large a body of Europe is amputated. On Russia's side he demands that the soviet give convincing proofs of its desire to return to the acknowledged ways of civilization.

GERMAN PAYMENTS.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, March 22.—After an all-day session, and another lasting until after midnight, the commission on reparations announced early this morning agreement on the sums Germany must pay this year and on the conditions under which the reduced payments were agreed to.

In 1922, Germany must pay the following on the reparations account:

Seven hundred twenty million gold marks cash, of which 280,000,000 already have been paid.

One billion four hundred fifty million marks gold value in materials.

This sum includes the 220,000,000 gold marks in payment for the armies of occupation of England, France and Belgium.

CONDITIONS LAID DOWN.

The commission will make public today, after transmission to various governments, the conditions Germany must fulfill. These are understood to be:

(1.) Autonomy of the Reichsbank.

(2.) Balance of budget by interior loans of 1,000,000,000 marks gold.

(3.) Immediate limitation on the issue of paper money.

(4.) Return to Germany of values hidden abroad since the armistice.

Germany is called on to agree to give the Allied Commission supervision of the execution of these measures. Technically, Germany's consent is not needed, since action is taken under the treaty of Versailles; actually German co-operation is necessary to make the plan work.

The figures fixed by the commission reduce by 40 per cent the amounts due from Germany this year by the terms of the reparations accord of last May.

POINCARE FIRM.

Foreign Minister Schanzer of Italy last evening failed to persuade Premier Poincare to attend the Genoa conference personally, but he obtained the promise of a strong French delegation. Signor Schanzer stated that Italy would not ask a postponement because of Holy Week, and insisted that everything would be ready by April 10.

The Italians are supporting the French viewpoint favoring a revision of the Sevres Treaty in order to weaken their ancient enemy, Greece, and to give the Italians equal commercial opportunities in Asia Minor, through Smyrna, with the Hellenics.

The French believe if Greece loses Smyrna, Thrace and Gallipoli, that King Constantine will lose popular support and may even be overthrown, and former Premier Venizelos returned to power, insuring friendly relations between Athens and Paris.

Lord Curzon, the British Foreign Minister, arrived in Paris this evening. He refused to make a statement.

EXTRADITION CASE TO BE HEARD TODAY.

JACK HARRIS AND "GLOOMY GUS" SCHAFFER TO PRESENT ALIBI.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—A hearing on the extradition contest of Jack Harris and "Gloomy Gus" Schaffer, under arrest in Oakland, who are wanted in Minneapolis to answer to a charge of robbery, will be held tomorrow afternoon. The men are alleged to have forced a jewelry salesman to open the vault of his employer's shop, from which they took $150,000 in jewels and escaped.

Harris is also wanted in St. Paul, where he is alleged, with a companion, to have shot and killed a taxicab driver, Lysle Neely, whom they robbed of a payroll of several hundred dollars.

At Governor Stephen's office, where the hearing will be held, it is understood the men will present an alibi.

YANKEES' DEPARTURE MOURNED IN COBLENZ

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COBLENZ, March 21.—Officials and merchants in the Rhine area which has been occupied for many months by American soldiers are downcast over their prospective departure. The merchants foresee a big slump in business, while the officials are loath to go through the process of getting acquainted with a new army.

"It is with regret that we hear of the withdrawal of the Americans," said Dr. Russell, ober burgomaster of Coblenz, today. "The American forces in Germany have done much to alleviate suffering among the poor, and it is the poor who will miss the Americans more than the others."

ARBUCKLE ON TRIAL AGAIN.

Third Hearing of Manslaughter Charge Against Film Actor Begun in San Francisco.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Dr. William Ophuls, first witness for the prosecution, took the stand this afternoon in the third trial of Roscoe C. Arbuckle on a manslaughter charge. He was on the stand, under cross-examination, when the session closed.

Dr. Ophuls testified that a rupture of the bladder which caused the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress, four days after a party in Arbuckle's suite in the Hotel St. Francis last Labor Day, might have been caused by the application of external force. As in both previous trials, his testimony was largely technical.

REPORT IS READ.

The witness testified also as a member of the commission appointed in the first trial and composed of three physicians, selected by the court, the prosecution and defense attorneys, to determine whether there were any predisposing or contributory causes to the rupture. He read the report of the commission, which said microscopic examinations showed a chronic inflammation existed, but very slight in extent and not necessarily of a nature to predispose the bladder to rupture.

The testimony of Dr. Ophuls followed opening statements by Asst. Dist.-Atty. Friedman, and by Gavin McNab, chief defense counsel. McNab departed from his course at the first two trials when he reserved his opening statement until the prosecution had concluded its initial presentation of testimony.

JUROR IS NAMED.

The morning session opened with the selection of the fourteenth, or second alternate juror, a woman, after Judge Louderback denied a motion of the prosecution for the right to exercise a peremptory challenge against Juror Edward W. Brown, a grocer. Brown was accused by the prosecution of prejudice and bias as a result of his being twice prosecuted for alleged violation of the state pure food laws.

The prosecution indicated in its opening statement that testimony of Arbuckle in the first trial would be read into the present record in an effort to show Arbuckle made three explanations of the occurrence in his hotel suite Labor Day.

The defense gave notice that Arbuckle would again take the stand in his own defense, as in the first trial, and also told of a new witness considered an important one—Mrs. Emma Delean of San Francisco, who would testify that she had a room adjoining Arbuckle's at the hotel and overheard part of what happened at the film comedian's party.

Greater interest than has been shown in the third trial heretofore was manifested this afternoon and the police guard was kept busy with the crowd.

Federal Jury Sworn In.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The United States grand jury for the March-July term was sworn in yesterday by U. S. Judge Rudkin. James K. Moffitt, vice-president of the First National Bank, San Francisco, was elected foreman, and John H. Wood, secretary of the Mechanics' Institute Building, secretary.

VETERANS NOT WELL CARED FOR.

So States Official of Men's Organization After Visit to Palo Alto Hospital.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Ralph Horr of Seattle, national vice-commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, today inspected the Veterans' Hospital at Palo Alto, Cal., and expressed displeasure at conditions he said existed there. He reiterated criticism of the administration of Maj. J. M. Wheate, and declared the resolutions passed some months ago by veteran organizations condemning Wheate should be presented again at Washington.

Horr is on the last lap of a 30,000-mile speaking tour of the United States, comprising four round trips of the country since leaving Seattle last fall.

He said that in his visit to the hospital today he had received complaints from many of the ex-service men who were patients there. He stated that cases of ill-treatment that had been reported to Maj. Wheate had received little or no attention.

In regard to the coming national convention of disabled veterans, Horr said that every State in the country would be represented by its "greatest hero," officially designated by the Governors of the States. Horr will return to Seattle after a conference with Veterans' Bureau officials here tomorrow. He was the guest tonight of the national convention committee at a banquet attended by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., and other city officials.

WILL MAKE MOTION PICTURES OF DEER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CANTON CITY (Or.) March 21. At the last meeting of the Fish and Game Commission it authorized I. B. Hazeltine, deputy game warden, to make an attempt to get motion pictures of deer that are wintering by the hundreds in the vicinity of Murderer's Creek, in Grant county.

GRAIN GROWERS CONV

Chicago Convention Will "Make or [illegible] tion, Delegates Are Told In Address.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 21.—The basic principles of the seventeen which outlined the plan under which the Grain Growers, Inc., was formed should be retained in the the organization, officers of the grain growers [illegible] ing the first annual convention.

Both President C. H. Gustafson and Secretary Frank M. Myers urged that the grain growers should follow the program prepared by the organizing committee, while Mr. Gustafson, in his welcoming address, told the delegates that "what you do at this meeting will either make or break the organization."

TALKS CO-OPERATION.

While declaring that the grain-growers' organization had ample work to do without "trying to become associated with other co-operative organizations which would try to dictate its policies," the president asserted that the best form of co-operation would be "of working separately on the details and problems that concern us differently, and then working whole-heartedly together on those problems that are of mutual concern."

The nearly sixty delegates attending the convention have the authority to cast a total of 41,790 votes, representing the membership on January 17 of this year. Since that time Mr. Gustafson said, the membership has increased to more than 50,000.

Today's sessions largely were taken up with organization work and with the routine reports of committees, with most of the important questions to come before the gathering remaining to be threshed out tomorrow.

POOLING ISSUE.

Among questions on which lively discussion was expected was the pooling issue, but there was no indication in what form this would come before the convention. The president's address, in which it was urged that the organization follow out its original program, was taken as indicating opposition to any move toward pooling of co-operation with other marketing agencies based upon the 100 per cent pool.

A bright picture of the future of the co-operative marketing agency was painted in the reports of officers and directors. President Gustafson said he hoped to announce soon that the agency was ready to receive grain from members. With more than 50,000 growers and farmers' elevators signed, it was stated that 500,000,000 bushels of grain were under contract for a five-year period.

LONG BEACH IS HEARD ON PACT.

Lineberger Reads Message Into House Record.

Coast City Body Advocates Backing of Harding.

Declares People Tired of Armament Burdens.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—California's attitude on the four-power Pacific treaty is not that of its senior Senator. This was made clear in the Congressional Record of today when Congressman Walter Lineberger of Long Beach obtained permission to address the House briefly and read to his associates a telegram from the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce which typifies the sentiment all through the State of California and fairly reflects the opinion of the Ninth Congress District, which Maj. Lineberger represents.

DELEGATION DIVIDED.

"Inasmuch as there is pending before the Senate," said Congressman Lineberger, "a very important treaty vitally affecting the future of mankind, but upon which one-half of the California delegation there has taken an attitude which I feel is in direct opposition to the will of the vast majority of the people of California and particularly to those of the Ninth Congress District which I have the honor to represent, I desire to have read in the record for the remaining portion of my time a telegram from my constituency which is typical of many expressions which I have received and which I believe to be the almost unanimous sentiment of the people of California on this important matter.

"I refer to the so-called four-power treaty now pending before that great body, the United States Senate. Although I realize that this House has no voice in the making of treaties I desire to add to the sentiments expressed there my heartiest approval."

MESSAGE FROM COAST.

The telegram from Long Beach follows:

"The board of directors has adopted the following resolution:

"Realizing the tremendous burden borne by our own people and those of other world nations because of national ambitions to excel in naval and military strength, and believing that world problems never will be settled satisfactorily by force of arms, but rather by an agreement between nations and national leaders, therefore we deeply appreciate the spirit and vision of President Harding in calling the world nations together in the Disarmament Conference and we congratulate our own and other interested peoples on the spirit, the wisdom and the actual accomplishments of the conference, and we hereby call on our United States Senators and Representatives in Congress to co-operate in every way with President Harding and the disarmament delegates, Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, Hon. Elihu Root, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Senator Oscar W. Underwood in securing the approval of the United States Senate to the splendid agreement reached at the Disarmament Conference, which is a great accomplishment than most of our people considered possible, to the end that the United States as well as other nations may limit military and naval expenditures and thus have advantage of huge sums for construction and development as well as to enable all the nations to develop good will and the policy of settlement of problems and disputed questions in friendly conference rather than armed force with all the attendant evils."

SPIKE GUNS OF TREATY FOES.

on more than one occasion, is that to my mind the successful and sympathetic co-operation between the American and British delegations at the Washington conference, which is a matter of public knowledge, augurs well for future co-operation between those nations in dealing intelligently and effectively with the problems of the Pacific.

"I did not remotely have in mind any secret agreement or understanding between the American and British governments, but simply that sympathy and understanding which is engendered by successful co-operation and mutual confidence."

OIL MAN TELLS COURT HIS WIFE HANDLED HIM ROUGHLY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 21.—Ten thousand dollars worth of clothes for his wife, a torn night shirt, a black eye and a razor figured in the sad recital of domestic woes that won a divorce for Harry J. Frank, president of the Junior Oil Company of Texas.

Frank told the judge that he had spent more than $10,000 for clothes to adorn Lillian, his wife, and that she had swatted him and blackened his eye because he tipped his hat to a friend. On another occasion, she demanded a new gown, and when he refused she tore his night shirt off his back.

Finally last Christmas he bought her a present that did not please her, so she ripped his coat to tatters with a razor. He then deemed it the part of discretion to get out and stay out. The couple were married June 22, 1921.

MR. HEARST IS TAKING METZ.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 21.—Under the caption of "Mr. Hearst is Taking Metz," the Chicago Tribune today says editorially:

Mr. W. R. Hearst, the newspaper publisher, does not want the United States Senate to ratify the Pacific treaties. He says they are bad, humiliating, shameful, abhorrent, dangerous, vile and outrageous to the American conscience. He is in a terrible state of mind, however he got that way.

"Why, Senators," Mr. Hearst writes, "if our escape from war is a perilous and disgraceful alliance with their (British and Japanese) imperialism, then better war—war now, war on land and sea, while our million men are ready to fall into their old ranks and our ships of battle still float on the waves!

"Either let our bright flag fly above a people free to follow their own policies, to go their own way in the world, to prepare their own defenses, to maintain their own sovereignty, to command and not to beg their own rights, or else let our fleets and our armies go forth to Armageddon and there rid the earth of the imperialism and the militarism which still curse and oppress it or else go down like men amid the universal crash of nations, tumbling in one common ruin."

At the close of the second day of the St. Mihiel offensive two American doughboys were sitting by the road. They had seen about all the war they cared to see for the time being and they had all the marching they craved.

"I understand we're going right on through to Metz and take it," said one.

"We can't take Metz," said the other. "How do you get that way?"

"Yes, Pershing says he's going to take Metz even if it costs him 200,000 men."

"He's a generous —— ain't he?"

Mr. Hearst has 1,000,000 ex-service men whom he is willing to lay on the altar of his country; but we do not know what he expects to get for his country when he has sacrificed them. We do not feel like sending Americans to war because a British judge has sent Gandhi to prison or because the Japanese have taken the Russian half of Sakhalin.

We know that the Pacific treaties mean peace and that their alternative is war, but we do not know what the United States has to fight about or what it would gain if it fought and won. A universal crash of nations tumbling in one common ruin would make an interesting piece of news, but we do not believe that J. B. Forgan would lend a newspaper publisher much on it.

We do not know why peace is less desirable because a person does not like the people who agree to remain peaceful. Frequently disagreeable people make less trouble when they are going quietly about their own business than when they are breaking into other people's houses.

We do not see why the American ex-service men should go back into their ranks because Mr. Hearst happens to dislike the Japanese and hate the English. Mr. Hearst's reasons for his dislikes may be satisfactory to him but they are not reasons Americans would use for making war. There ought to be some way in which he could gratify himself without having war now, war on land and sea.

If Mr. Hearst gets his war now he will deprive his four sons of the pleasure of being in it, whereas, if he would accept the treaties there will not be war, at least until his boys are grown up and can get in.

We are opposed to war, particularly opposed to useless war, and therefore are for the treaties which mean peace. If the Senate should reject the treaties the prospects for war would become very bright immediately. They were good before the Washington conference. They will be better if the work of the conference is thrown down.

The treaties give the United States peace. They give it a navy unsurpassed by any other, or if it is surpassed it will be because Congress will not make the American navy as good as it should be. The United States, with the Panama Canal, operates this navy on interior lines just as the German navy with the Kiel Canal operated on interior lines and could control the Baltic while it kept the British fleet occupied. The treaties break up the Anglo-Japanese alliance. They promote peace and sustain honor.

Mr. Hearst is a glutton for the crash of nations and the plunge into common ruin, but how many Senators want to allow him to talk them into it?

SMITH IS ORDERED TO LEAVE EUREKA.

CENTRALIA LAWYER AND FRIENDS WANTED TO DISCUSS SYNDICALISM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Elmer Smith, attorney of Centralia, Wash., who was ordered out of Eureka last night by a deputy sheriff after an attempt to speak at Scotia had resulted in his being arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace, arrived here today.

He said that H. M. Edwards of San Francisco, and Edward Singletary of South Fork, who accompanied him to Humboldt county in his efforts to discuss the criminal syndicalism law of California, were also ushered out of Eureka Sunday night.

Smith was tried and acquitted of a murder charge arising out of the Armistice Day shootings at Centralia in 1919.

Hoover Aplaudido por las Mujeres.

Ayer supo el Ministro Hoover por millares de ciudadanos de Los Angeles, que éstos aprueban de todo corazón la ratificación del tratado de las cuatro potencias. En un almuerzo en la Cámara de Comercio, y después en un mitin de damas de club, su aprobación al tratado provocó ruidosos y prolongados aplausos. Claro se veía que sus oyentes simpatizaban con sus opiniones. El Sr. y la Sra. Hoover salieron anoche para Palo Alto.

El Asunto de la Biblioteca Detenido.

Una de dos: o el Consejo de la Biblioteca recurre al pueblo en las próximas elecciones y solicita otro millón de dólares para comprar un lote para la biblioteca; o levanta el nuevo edificio en la plaza Pershing. Esto se vió claramente cuando el municipio se quedó en punto muerto en lo relativo al problema de comprar un edificio para anexo del ayuntamiento. La expedición de bonos por millón y medio de dólares votada en la última elección, se destinó a construir una necesarísima biblioteca en terreno de la ciudad, ya fuese en la plaza Pershing o en Normal Hill. Se eligió la última ubicación, y se trató de adquirir un edificio de oficinas para llevar las cosas de los departamentos que hoy existen allí. Hasta esta fecha, han sido inútiles las tentativas de obtener un edificio conveniente.

El Jurado Obenchain se Fija Para Junio 5.

La nueva vista de la causa de Madalynne Obenchain, acusada del asesinato de J. Belton Kennedy, ha sido fijada para junio 5, por disposición que tomó ayer el Juez Reeve. Era necesario este largo plazo, a causa de otros jurados que han venido aplazándose de tiempo en tiempo. El Agente del Ministerio Público ha abandonado la investigación sobre afirmaciones que se dice hicieron algunos jurados a raíz de las recientes audiencias. Se resolvió ésto después de una conferencia con el Dr. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor de la Iglesia Bautista Temple, con quien, al decir de alguno, había conversado uno de los jurados.

DEPORTES.

Pelota de Mano.

Max Gold, Ad. Schaumer y Bill Ranft, del Club Atlético de Los Angeles, llegaron con bien al segundo encuentro, en el torneo nacional de pelota de mano que se está jugando en Milwaukee. Maynard Laswell es el único miembro de dicho club que fué derrotado.

Juegos Atléticos Universitarios.

El equipo de la Universidad de Pensilvania de carrera de cuatro millas con relevo, se embarcó ayer para Inglaterra a fin de luchar allá contra los equipos de Oxford y de Cambridge, y disputarles el campeonato de los colegios en ese deporte.

Probablemente se permitirá a los alumnos de primer año que jueguen en los equipos universitarios en la nueva conferencia interescolar. California-Arizona-Nevada, según planes en proyecto.

Baseball.

El equipo de Rollie Zeider venció al de Hughie High en un partido de práctica primaveral, jugado ayer en el parque Washington. Los tantos fueron 5 a 3. Los "Angeles" se ensayaron laboriosamente ayer dos veces en el campo Elsinore.

Golf.

Joe Kirkwood, campeón profesional de Australia, se presentará esta tarde en el campo de golf de Hollywood para exhibir su colección de tretas a los jugadores de ese lugar.

Boxeo.

Según informes recibidos ayer, los bien conocidos púgiles, Mike Gibbons y Harry Greb, están pensando visitar pronto a Los Angeles.

SPRING RESULTS IN WANDERLUST

Aquitania, Sailing from New York, Takes 1525 to Foreign Lands.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Today, being spring's first official day, marks the beginning of the spring rush of Americans to Europe. There were 1525 persons for overseas ports on the passenger list of the steamship Aquitania, which sailed today for Cherbourg and Southampton.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC

"The existing epidemic is statewide in its prevalence. More cases are being reported from the southern part of the state than from the northern part. The outstanding feature of the 1922 outbreak lies in the large groups of cases that occur in offices, factories and stores where large numbers of individuals are in close daily association. The same feature was conspicuous in preceding outbreaks, but in the 1922 epidemic larger numbers of persons employed in the same offices, stores or factories are taken ill at the same time. This has crippled the service in many mercantile establishments, railroad offices, telephone companies and other institutions."

Accused Mail Robbers Ask Court's Mercy.

Three on Trial for Theft on Espee Train.

Men Declare They Found Stolen Bonds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Pleas of guilty were suddenly returned in court today on behalf of John Haanstra, A. H. Cain and W. D. Hooper, charged with conspiracy in connection with the theft of $160,000 in securities from a Southern Pacific train in this city last May. The men, it was intimated, would confess later that they did NOT steal the securities, but that they found them in Del Paso Park, seven miles from Sacramento.

SEEK COURT'S MERCY.

Testimony against the men, who had been on trial in Federal court for several days, became so strong, according to counsel, that the unexpected decision was made to throw the men on teh mercy of the court.

Haanstra was arrested in Seattle. Cain was apprehended in Milwaukee, and Hooper, a bond broker, was taken into custody in Sacramento several months after the robbery.

The mail car was robbed just as it was pulling into the yards here. Two men were seen to jump from the car in the dim morning light.

GARDNER GIVES CLUE.

Two days later Roy Gardner, then sought as an escaped mail bandit, held up another Southern Pacific train between Roseville and Newcastle, Cal. When he was arrested at Roseville he told a story of having knowledge of a deposit of stolen securities at Del Paso Park, a Sacramento municipal recreation ground. Later Gardner was taken to the scene in an effort to verify his story, but the securities were missing, although there was indications that some kind of a cache had existed at the spot.

Gardner afterward was cleared of any connection with this robbery.

The specific charge to which the men pleaded guilty was that of conspiracy to conceal bonds and securities stolen from the United States mail.

Two other charges against them—sale of stolen property and possession of stolen property—will not be pressed by the government, it was announced.

FOUND MAIL POUCH.

Counsel for the men, said, after adjournment of court, that Hooper, Cain and Haanstra had stated to him they found the pouch containing the bonds hidden in Del Paso Park. He declared he did not believe they were implicated in the theft of the bonds and as their previous records had been good, they decided to plead guilty.

In fixing March 29 as the date for passing sentence, Judge Van Fleet informed the defendants they must satisfy the government attorneys and postal inspectors that they had told everything they knew of the case and had revealed the location of every bond and security which had come into their possession.

Postal inspectors announced that the value of the securities taken from the train in Sacramento aggregated $160,000 and that $105,000 worth had been recovered. Suspecting that the balance, $55,000, is in a safe deposit vault in New York City, officials late today were trying to arrange for opening the vault to endeavor to verify their suspicions.

ARMY OFFICERS TO LOSE SOFT BERTHS IN WASHINGTON; MANY WILL BE SENT TO TALL GRASS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The clanking spur and the variegated decorations on the Army uniforms will not be so prominent in Washington. One out of every four officers now stationed in the capital will be detailed out to the tall grass before July 1. By April 1 there will be a reduction of one-quarter in the number of officers and by July 1 one-half of all the officers here will have been banished from the drawing-rooms and pink teas of the capital.

Most of the men welcome the change, but members of the petticoat brigade are in tears and their sway in military politics which has been in the ascendancy for four or five years is now about finished. The change is one of the signs of the return to normalcy and is a sure indication that peace has overtaken the country.

Furthermore, the drastic limitation of money for transportation for officers will leave the officers where they are sent now, and very few trips to the capital for the good of the service at government expense are in sight for those who would keep in touch with the inside movements of the Army.

Many a dream of rapid promotion and social ascendancy has been nipped by the weeding out of officers from Washington official life and many a tear will be shed at the outlying Army posts when the tragedy of any social campaigns planned for the capital is told.

HOMES OF LOYALISTS DESTROYED

Carnival of Arson and Murder Continues on Free State Border.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BELFAST, March 21.—The situation along the Ulster Free State border still was tense today. Firing was renewed at 6 o'clock this morning from commandeered houses on the Free State side between Augthnacley and Caledon, and lasted two hours. Telephone communication through Clogher Valley is broken and the northern side of the border is completely isolated.

Strong police forces were being rushed this afternoon to the Dromore district, County Tyrone.

Five houses were burned near Omagh, capital of County Tyrone.

After describing the shooting of Baird Trillick, the correspondent of the Belfast Telegraph says the burning of isolated Unionist houses was subsequently begun, and that during the night the sky was illuminated with flames.

John Stewart, in the Dromore district, who is 70 years old, and lives with his wife and two sons, the latter members of the "B" special constabulary—was shot in defending his home. The raiders then fired the house. In Trillick, Tyrone, terrorism was so widespread and the number of men engaged in attacks against Loyalist homes was so large, that the Crown forces were unable to check the incendiary activities. Several Protestant families in the danger zone on the northern side of the border were obliged to evacuate their homes and seek shelter elsewhere.

James Magee was shot by gunmen in Hardinge street last night. Military forces sent to the scene met a fusillade of revolver shots under cover of which the assassins escaped. Magee died today.

Many carters failed to report for work today in protest against the lack of protection from snipers. As the day advanced the carters' strike became practically complete. The city's traffic resembled that of the usual Sunday, only tram cars and bread vans being operated.

DODGE BLAMES WILD DRIVING ON SPRING.

WEALTHY YOUTH'S TROUBLES CAUSED BY SOFT ZEPHYRS, NOT GIN, LAWYERS SAY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

KALAMAZOO (Mich.) March 21.—Was it the spring in the air or the gin in the bottle that prompted John Duval Dodge to make the wild auto trip with a man friend and three girls from the Western State Normal School? That question was put to a jury here today.

The State offered as its exhibit a half-emptied bottle of Gordon gin. It offered testimony that Dodge's eyes were red and his driving wild. It argued that he was driving a car while intoxicated. The defense blamed it all on the spring and a young man's fancy.

"The young man's invitation" [Dodge is 24,] said his attorney, "to the girls to ride was just the way of the man and the maid. It was spring time and no doubt the girls relished the idea of going for a ride. Dodge opened the cut-out, but that was nothing but the spirit of youth. Then he turned his car on a sixteen-foot pavement. That in itself showed he was not drunk."

Ethel Clemons, a Normal school girl, said she had told Dodge he was going the wrong way, not that which would have taken her and her two girl friends to the rooming-house, and that his answer was that he wanted to show them more speed, whereupon he "stepped on the gas." To Earl Rex, Dodge's friend, Miss Clemons assigned the role of keeper of the gin bottle. He offered it and Dodge refused, she said.

Emeline Kwackernack, the girl whose leap from the auto almost cost her life and who for a time was believed a victim of skull fracture, sat where Dodge could see her, but he did not recognise her.

Dodge, fresh from his five days in the House of Correction at Detroit, was listening to the attorney's talk about youth and spring. His wife did not say what she thought about it all, but tonight she is under the care of a doctor. She was taken to a hospital. Nervous collapse is said to be her trouble.

For the State, a deputy sheriff testified that Dodge was in an unsafe condition when arrested. His eyes were red, said the deputy, and he wanted to draw the deputy aside for a confidential talk.

WOOD ORDERS LEPER COLONY BE IMPROVED

DECLARES POOR EQUIPMENT AT CULION CAUSE OF DEATHS.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MANILA, March 21.—Gov.-Gen. Wood ha sent a telegram from the leper colony of Culion ordering the Bureau of Science and Health and other government services to hasten the completion of improvements at the colony. He declares scores of lepers have died recently where better conditions might have saved their lives. He has ordered more nurses and army tents for temporary shelter.

The Governor-General also insisted that the water supply project be put through immediately. The water supply for the 5000 lepers in the colony now comes through four-inch pipes and must be carried uphill to "topside." He has ordered a supply of American stoves for lepers who have been using native clay stoves.

The Governor-General has directed Col Sweet of his staff to see that the orders are obeyed.

SECRET TREATY IS DISCOVERED.

French Betrayal of the Allies is Asserted.

Pact With Angora Turks is Condemned.

Action to be Discussed by Ambassadors.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, March 21.—I have obtained from unimpeachable sources the secret protocols of a treaty made by Franklin Bouillon for France with the Angora Turks. This treaty, it is claimed, constitutes a betrayal of the Allies by France, tearing up the Sevres Treaty, and has been the chief cause of the Anglo-French friction.

It will be seen that it definitely promises to set aside the Sevres Treaty in many particulars and abandons non-Moslem populations in all Turkish territories, except those formerly under the control of France.

TEXT IS GIVEN.

The treaty will form the chief subject for discussion in the Near East Conference of Ambassadors, which meets in Paris Wednesday. The following is the text of the principal protocols:

Annex A—To the agreement concluded in Angora, Oct. 20, 1921, between His Excellency, Henry Franklin Bouillon, envoy plenipotentiary of the French republic on one hand, and Yusuf Kemal Bey, envoy plenipotentiary and commissary of foreign affairs of the national government of Angora, on the other hand.

Article I.—The contracting parties assume the obligation to keep the secret as long as the explicit consent of both parties to the contrary has not been secured, the stipulations contained in the present protocol and in the annex to the main agreement between them.

GUARANTEES GIVEN.

Art. II.—Inasmuch as the French government has secured guarantees to the effect that the Turkish government will respect the rights of minorities in territories which France has undertaken to evacuate and make over to the administrations of the Turkish national government, the French government does not regard it as necessary to receive distinct guarantees as to the extension of the guarantees made to non-Moslem minorities in other Turkish territories.

Art. III.—Foodstuffs, war material, arms and munitions belonging to the French military forces are to be withdrawn from territories over which Turkish sovereignty has been recognized by the French government.

AGREES TO LOAN.

Art. IV.—The French government hereby assumes the obligation to furnish a loan to Turkey in Turkish currency or its equivalent in other currency of such a sum as shall be considered sufficient in regulating the financial position of Turkey in the course of negotiations to be considered after the conclusion of definite peace between Turkey and the Entente powers. In any case, however, this loan shall not be for less than 85,000,000 pounds, Turkish.

On account of the loan, the French government undertakes to pay to Turkey an advance of 4,500,000 pounds Turkish currency or the equivalent in foreign money. Of this 1,500,000 pounds Turkish currency shall be paid immediately on approval and ratification of the original agreement by the legislative assemblies of the two contracting parties. The remaining 3,000,000 pounds Turkish currency shall be paid in two installments at corresponding intervals of time.

Art. V.—The French government assumes obligation towards the Turkish national government to secure for the latter conference for settlement in the Greco-Turkish conflict.

(a.) The French government cannot accept or participate in any detachment from the Turkish empire of territories in which the French government has recognized the existence of a compact Moslem population.

(b.) The French government hereby assumes the obligation to abrogate any clauses in the Treaty of Sevres relative to financial, military or other controls in Turkish territory with the proviso and it reserves for itself the right and liberty of action to participate in decision to be taken by the Entente powers in regard to the settlement of regime of Constantinople and the Straits.

SETTLE OLD DEBTS.

(c.) The French government as a token of its sincere friendship for Turkey makes a special declaration to the effect that it will accept such manner of settlement of old debts of Turkey to France as the former shall define after discussion of this question.

(d.) The French government assumes the obligation not to put any hindrance in the way of the organization of the Moslem communities in territories already under French sovereignty as well as in those territories which have recently been put under French protection. Similarly the French government undertakes not to interfere in the administration of the Moslem vakofs with the practices followed in the past. In return for this the sublime Caliphate undertakes to exercise all its influence with a view to strengthening the bonds between the French government and the Moslem races under French rule.

Art. VI.—The Turkish national government undertakes to afford every facility to the French financial and industrial concerns in the territory of its sovereignty to grant concessions for public works to be applied for to permit working of French schools without any restrictions on teaching in them or any interference on its part in the curriculum of the schools.

WOULD GET CONCESSIONS.

Art. X—Turkey shall turn over all concessions and public works granted her subjects by her former allies "with the exception of Russian subjects" and to French firms in preference.

Art. XI—Turkey waives all claims and rights over all principalities under de facto sovereignty of France, whose annexation to France has not, however, been formally recognized by the Ottoman Empire.

Art. XII—The Turkish national government hereby accepts as the basis of reciprocity, the renewal and extension on condition of mutual advantages of all privileges and concessions granted the Franch companies and institutions in Turkey generally, and the term of such a concession shall be considered valid and not yet expired.

The present protocol A was signed and exchanged in Angora between the undersigned, being Franklin Bouillon, envoy plenipotentiary for the French government, and Yusuf Kemal Bey, Commissary of Foreign Affairs of the national Turkish government.

RISKS DEATH TO SAVE GRANDSON.

Aged Boise Woman Will Be Crippled Scarred by Flames.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOISE (Idaho) March 21. While saving her 5-year-old grandson from death in the burning home early this morning, Mrs. A. J. Downey, 60, received burns which probably will cripple her and may cost her life.

The soles of both feet were burned off and the back of her neck deeply scarred by the flames, which totally destroyed a three-room house in which a family of five were living. Mrs. Downey's son, Jesse James Downey, is at a local hospital, also in a precarious condition, as a result of entering the burning home to save his mother and his child.

An overheated stove is thought to have started the blaze.

UNITED STATES STEEL EARNINGS DECREASED

TWENTIETH ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS LARGE DEFICIT IN INCOME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The twentieth annual report of the United States Steel Corporation for 1921, issued today, shows total earnings of $100,791,379, a decrease of $84,204,080 from the previous year.

Net income of $55,267,323, disclosed a decrease of $74,044,702, and a deficit of $14,017,765 is shown in surplus net income, as compared with an actual surplus of $59,059,426, in the previous year.

Expenditures for the maintenance, etc., amounted to $96,841,708, a decrease of $58,284,251, and the output of all raw semi-finished and finished products showed marked shrinkage.

Production of iron ore mines decreased 58.3 per cent and rolled and other finished steel products were reduced to 44.5 per cent.

Total number of employees for 1921 was 191,700, against 267,845, in 1920. Total salaries and wages paid amounted to $332,887,505, as compared with a pay roll of $581,556,925 in 1920.

Average earnings of employers per day exclusive of the administrative or selling force, were $5.61 against $6.96 in the previous year.

BUTLER TELLS OF HIS LOVE.

Declares He and Heiress Planned to Wed.

Swiss Threatened With Being Deported Gives Name.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—"I loved Miss McKay and she loved me, even though she is the daughter of a millionaire. As soon as I could get a good position we planned to get married," said August Probst today in answer to the reports from Pittsburg that Miss Virginia C. McKay, daughter of Mrs. James McKay and heiress to some of her father's millions, had denied she knew him in any other way than as a servant who occasionally wainted on her at the Rolling Rock Club, the exclusive organization at Ligonier, Pa., frequented only by a dozen of Pittsburg's richest families.

ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

Probst, who is familiarly known as "Archie," was arraigned before Judge John Clark Knox in the United States District Court today on a writ of habeas corpus sued out by his counsel, Bernard Sandler, who alleges Probst is illegally confined at Ellis Island and threatened with deportation because he dared to make love to one of the Rolling Rock Club's debutante belles.

Personal interest taken in Probst's case by members of the Rolling Rock Club was indicated when Lawyer Frank Aranow appeared before Judge Knox and asked to be heard as representing the club. Aranow denounced as false Probst's story that he had been kidnaped by detectives, at the point of a gun and shipped to New York to be held there until he promised to go back to his home in Switzerland and never return.

ACCUSED BY LAWYER.

"This young man," said the lawyer, "was found in the room of one of the maids employed at the club. He fled in his underclothes and hid in a stable. He was then discharged and told to leave Ligonier."

"That's a lie," said Probst later. "The man who was found in the maid's room was a member of the club, who had been drinking. He was chased out in his pajamas. My experience was quite different. When Mrs. Mellon, mother of Miss Sarah Mellon, Miss McKay's constant companion—Miss Mellon is the niece of Andrew H. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury—had questioned me and learned that Miss McKay and I were in love she advised me to go back to Switzerland as our marriage was impossible.

DRAGGED FROM BED.

"The next day I was dragged out of my bed by men who had guns, and locked in a garage until they brought me to New York. Here they kept me locked up until I agreed to go back to Switzerland. Then when I was at liberty they set the immigration people after me and they took me to Ellis Island, where they put me in the psychopathic ward, saying I was insane.

"I'm not insane, unless as Schiller said, love be insanity. If Miss McKay has been persuaded to give me up, it is a hard blow to me. But what I want is my liberty."

Sandler and David Steinhardt, who also appeared for Probst, told Judge Knox they recognized that Probst might have entered the country illegally when he landed off the steamship Olympic in June, 1921, just before he got his job as steward at the Rolling Rock Club. But as he is able to support himself, desires to become an American citizen and in the lawyers contended, not at all insane, the order for his deportation should be revoked.

"I don't see anything very insane about him," remarked Judge Knox, who had been observing Probst closely as he consulted with his lawyers and answered, without hesitation, questions put to him.

RESERVES DECISION.

"It may be that as an alien seaman he might avoid deportation," added Judge Knox. "I will look into the papers and reserve decision."

Probst was returned to Ellis Island, but not to the psychopathic ward. After the hearing he defended both Miss McKay and Miss Mellon, with whom, he says, he often rode and played golf.

"They are girls of fine character," he said. "Very unusual these days. Neither of them drinks nor smokes and they hate petting parties. Miss McKay and I were deeply in love and she often played accompaniments to my songs. I sing Tyrolean songs, you know," he added, with a bashful smile.

Probst, 23 years old and good looking, speaks French, German and Italian fluently and is well educated.

FARE HEARING TO END TODAY.

Sachse Replies to Ost's Rate Statement.

Expert's Report Said to be Based on Old Figures.

Hearing to be Concluded This Morning.

Hollywood's protest against the Pacific Electric's fare increase had not been disposed of when the State Railroad Commission's hearing adjourned yesterday. The protest was made through the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce and the hearing was in the Masonic Temple in Hollywood. The protest was against the increase which the railway put into effect January 1, last. The concluding testimony will be heard by President Brundige in the commission's rooms in the Pacific Finance Building this morning. Later in the day the protests of other districts against the traction company's new fare schedule will be heard by Mr. Brundige.

The statements of Richard Sachse, chief engineer for the commission, made just before the adjournment of yesterday's session, gave a new view of the report of Paul J. Ost, assistant city engineer of San Francisco, employed as rate expert by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce to show that the basis on which the Pacific Electric recently asked authority to increase its mileage charge was unsound and not to be substantiated by its figures of earnings and expense.

Mr. Ost was called to the stand early in the day by Attorney Young, who is conducting the Hollywood protest. He explained, in exhaustive detail, the method by which he arrived at results given in his report, and asserting that his calculations were based on data supplied by the commission's engineers.

In his replying testimony, Mr. Sachse stated that the figures used by Mr. Ost were taken from an incomplete report of the State engineers compiled in June, 1921; that the figures, as originally set down were not used in the final report to the commission because they did not apply to conditions at a later date. It was also brought out, in another way, that, in his approach to establishing a rate basis, the San Francisco expert treated the Hollywood lines of the Pacific Electric as a separate entity, rather than as a part of a traction system and that, from an engineering standpoint, this mode of computation would be bound to produce results widely at variance with surveys of the situation previously made by both the State engineers and the Board of Public Utilities.

High lights from Mr. Ost's report indicated that earnings of the Hollywood lines in January and February of this year, or since the installation of the higher fares, showed an increase of approximately $36,000 over the same months last year. He eliminated, in his estimate of maintenance expenses of the Hollywood lines, any upkeep of the Hill street station, which, he stated, was not, at present, a need of this part of the system. Subsequent to the completion of the proposed Sunset-Glendale Boulevard tunnel, Mr. Ost thought the station might be necessary and its upkeep could properly charged in.

EXPANDING ZONES.

The expert also recommended the expansion of the inner zone, bounded at present by Sanborn Junction, to Vermont avenue on the Hollywood Boulevard line and to Western avenue on the Santa Monica Boulevard line.

This zone alteration, asked for in the amended protest filed with the commission by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce in February, was withdrawn yesterday at the request of Attorney Young, restoring the zoning to original bounds. Fear of political division which might ensue in Hollywood, in case the amended zones were established, was the unofficial reason given for the withdrawal of the amendment.

BREMERTON (Wash.) March 21.—Capt. Ivan C. Wettengell, U.S.N., who has just returned from Guam, where he was Governor of the island for the last year, has taken over the duties of yard captain at the Puget Sound navy yard here, succeeding Capt. Clark D. Sterns, transferred to the Asiatic station.

JILTED WOMAN FAINTS ON WITNESS STAND.

GIRL SUING BOSTON SOCIETY MAN COLLAPSES AFTER SEEING NOTE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 21. — Ethel Jay French, plaintiff in a $50,000 breach of promise suit against John Wood Brooks-Ladd, Harvard graduate, and Boston society man, collapsed in court today falling to the floor in a dead faint. She had just identified a letter she wrote to Ladd in which she ended with this sentence: "It won't be long before we can be married as you have promised me."

Ladd has stated that he did not consider Miss French his social equal but her attorney undertook today to show that her lineage was equal to his own.

"Do you know that Miss French is a Daughter of the American Revolution?"

"To the best of my knowledge she is not," said Ladd.

"Did you ever see a coat of arms in her house?"

"Yes."

"Did she ever tell you she was descended from Luther Mather?"

"Very often," said Ladd, with a smile.

The defendant seemed very little impressed either by the evidence that Miss French is his social equal or by her collapse during her testimony.

DETROIT.

DETROIT, March 21.—Berrien county faces the heaviest delinquent tax list in its history, according to city treasurers in three of the municipalities, Benton Harbor, Niles and St. Joseph.

More home and commercial building and less industrial construction is the official prediction of Detroit's building program for the coming season.

Methods to be adopted to make western Michigan farmers more prosperous and to increase the State's revenue from resorters and tourists will be discussed at Grand Rapids, March 29, when the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association and the Western Michigan Development Bureau hold their annual meetings.

UNIVERSITY BILL VETOED BY WOOD.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MANILA, March 21.—Gov.-Gen. Wood's veto of the $18,000,000 university supply bill, which places the assessment on the 1920 basis, has saved the financial situation in the islands to a great extent.

But his action is objected to by the Filipinos on the basis that it interferes with local legislation. Gen. Wood in all has vetoed sixteen bills. Senor Quezon, one of the rival leaders in the Legislature, declares he will bring the university bill up again at the October session "just as a matter of principle."

TRIES TO MURDER CHINESE MINISTER.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, March 21.—An attempt was made today to assassinate Mr. Chen-Lu, Chinese Minister to France. Four shots were fired at him by a Chinese youth, none of which, however, took effect.

Mr. Tsan-Gow, a Chinese engineer who was accompanying the Minister, was wounded in the head.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folk call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder, and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—[Advertisement.

-if more business men had boys appetites

"HOW'S your appetite?" is the first question the doctor asks when you feel run down and your brain isn't delivering clear thoughts quickly.

A man's appetite is a barometer of his mental and physical condition. The way he feels and acts depends largely upon what and how he eats.

If he eats heartily and enjoys what he eats, it is safe to assume he has a clear mind—a keen perception—a sharp wit—a firm and hearty handshake—and a brisk, buoyant step.

If more business men had boys' appetites there would be no question of proficiency in work—no doubt about dispositions always being "sunny side up."

GOOD, wholesome foods, prepared in spotlessly clean kitchens and eaten where environments are ideal, go a long way toward keeping men physically fit to grapple with the problems of business.

EAT —"where quality never varies." —"where cleanliness is a habit."

KEEP LOOKING
It's Easy—If You Know Edwards' Olive Tablets
The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do that you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion, dull eyes, pimples under your eyes, a listless look in your face—feeling tired with no sparkle. Your liver will tell you nine times out of ten of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.
Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels which he gave to his patients for years.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a substitute for calomel, and are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.—[Advertisement.]

TEX RICKARD TRIAL BEGUN.

Noted Sports Promoter is Facing Jurors.

School Girl Tells of His Alleged Acts.

Case of State Outlined at Court Opening.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—An undersized, tousled-hair schoolgirl in short dress, Sarah Schoenfeld, just over 15 years old, sat in a witness chair in the Supreme Court for more than two hours today and told Justice Wasservogel and a jury of alleged assaults on her by George L. (Tex) Rickard, internationally known sports promoter.

As she recited her story in a lisping voice the man who had arranged some of the greatest pugilistic encounters in history, sat with arms folded, staring at her. Only occasionally did he relax, and then to whisper in his counsel's ear or to make notes with a pencil.

The girl told how she had been introduced to Rickard by her chum, Nellie Gasko, last summer at the swimming pool in Madison Square Garden. He gave them both money, she said, and told them to come and see him at his office in the tower of the building. Upon their visit, she testified, Rickard gave them a note and asked them to call at an apartment in West Forty-seventh street. They called at the apartment later, and there the alleged assault took place. He gave them each $10, she said, and asked them to call again.

TELLS OF VISITS.

Then followed a story of other visits. These visits covered several months. She said Rickard also tried to assault the Gasko girl, but that she repulsed him. The amount of money he gave them, she said, varied from time to time, ranging from $5 to $20.

After each alleged assault, Sarah testified, the promoter asked them to tell nothing of what had happened. Once she asked Rickard to help to get her brother Samuel out of jail in Milwaukee, where he had been arrested for stealing. Rickard promised to help, she said, and later she brought her mother to see him.

A letter was introduced in evidence, alleged to have been written to Mrs. Schoenfield by Rickard January 18, last, in which he inclosed a letter to the Governor of Wisconsin, asking that steps be taken to release Samual from prison. The letter asked Mrs. Schoenfield to write directly to the Governor and to inclose the other letter.

Sarah was on the stand when adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

CASE OUTLINED.

In outlining the case to the jury, Ferdinand Pecora, Assistant District Attorney, said that the State would prove that when the news of Rickard's arrest for alleged assaults on other girls was printed, the Schoenfeld and Gasko girls met him by telephonic appointment, and that during an automobile ride for more than an hour through Central Park, he urged them to tell the authorities nothing of what had happened.

He told them, Mr. Pecora said, to say, if necessary, that "another man did it." He warned that if they told, they would be "sent away" until they were 18 years old, and that he would give them no more money. The girls promised that they would obey, Mr. Pecora said.

After adjournment, Rickard was led back to the Tombs prison, where his cell-mate is Alfred E. Lindsay, alleged swindler of wealthy society women.

Judge Will Aid Accused Woman to Get Clothes.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Supreme Court Justice Aspinall yesterday agreed to help Miss Olivia M. P. Stone to obtain properly appearing clothes in which to appear at her trial on a charge of having shot Ellis G. Kinkead, one-time corporation counsel of Cincinnati, last November. Her trial is set for Wednesday.

Miss Stone's counsel told Judge Aspinall that his client "feels that her clothes are shabby and she is anxious to make a presentable appearance in court." He said the warden of the Raymond street jail refused to permit new clothes to be brought to her. Justice Aspinall said the warden felt he must take precautions but added that he would write a note to the warden directing that he do some shopping for Miss Stone.

PERSHING, DAWES HALT CONFERENCE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The biggest man in America's military affairs and the biggest man in financial circles shook hands yesterday during an unexpected visit to the offices of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. by Gen. John J. Pershing and Gen. Charles G. Dawes, causing a disruption of a conference in the Morgan firm.

Gen. Dawes, well known for his work in reducing the national budget, and Gen. Pershing arrived at the morning hour of the daily meeting of members of the firm. Although their visit was unofficial and informal, the discussions of finance were ended abruptly when the military callers were announced and were resumed only after the departure of the visitors.

PREDICTS SUGAR PRICE DROP.

Recent Advance is Only Flash in Pan, Says Claus Spreckels.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Claus A. Spreckels, president of the Federal Sugar Refining Company, who has just returned from Europe, predicts an early drop in sugar prices.

The recent price advance in raw sugar, he said, stimulated further sugar production in Europe, with the result that prices in America will decrease with falling off of the European demand.

"I look at the recent advance as a flash in the pan," Mr. Spreckels said. "A reaction is inevitable. All the European countries will be self-supporting as regards sugar within a few months and the demand for export sugar from the Western Hemisphere will decrease.

De la Huerta Has Two Jobs With Mexico.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) March 21.—A remarkable phase of Mexico's political system is shown by the return to Hermosillo of Adolfo de la Huerta to take oath of office as Governor of Sonora. Ever since inauguration of the Obregon administration De la Huerta has been serving as Minister of Finance in the national Cabinet. Parallel with this he had been elected Governor of Sonora. While he was absent in the City of Mexico, it is said, he was carried on the rolls at Hermosillo as Governor on leave of absense.

Even more notable is the statement that he does not vacate his Federal appointment by taking the office of Governor, but that the place is being held for his expected return, the department in the meantime to be administered by Salvador Urbina, who has been sub-secretary.

De la Huerta, family and staff came from the City of Mexico by special train on the Mexican Railway and entered Sonora in the same degree of state. There is understanding that he returns to place in effect certain laws that may have to do with prohibition, and that when this task is accomplished he will go to Washington as a special envoy from President Obregon, presumably seeking American recognition for the Mexican administration. Thereafter he is to return to his Cabinet post in the City of Mexico.

Impersonator of Lincoln is Against Films

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) March 21. Frank McGlynn, actor, who plays the part of Abraham Lincoln in John Drinkwater's play of the same name, today refused to be filmed on the streets of Springfield and in the old Lincoln homestead dressed as the martyred President.

McGlynn notified the Chamber of Commerce that his respect for Lincoln was too great to carry the impersonation into the streets and the Courthouse of Lincoln's old home.

The actor appears here in Drinkwater's play tonight and cameramen were waiting to film him in Lincoln's old haunts.

"Big Bill" to be Spokesman for American Reds

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, March 21.—According to reports reaching here from Moscow, "Big Bill" Haywood will represent American radicals at an "all-socialistic congress," to be held in Berlin beginning April 2.

At this meeting the three internationale organizations will attempt to reach a compromise uniting them with the moderate Socialists of the world. This, it is expected, will include the Vienna, Amsterdam and Moscow internationales.

The last named include Leon Trotzky, Nikolai Lenin and their Bolshevist adherents in Russia.

CHURCH OUSTING OF MRS. STETSON UPHELD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The petition of Walter Fairchild, attorney for Augusta E. Stetson, formerly a leading figure in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, for an injunction restraining the trustees of that body from ousting her from membership, was denied today by Supreme Court Justice Newburger.

Hyomei is the treatment for nose, throat and lung trouble. It does not contain cocaine, morphine or other dangerous drug and does away with stomach dosing. Just breathe it through the little black pocket inhaler that comes with each outfit.
A complete outfit costs but little at the Owl Drug Co., or any reliable druggist, and Hyomei is guaranteed to banish catarrh, croup, coughs, colds, sore throat and bronchitis or money back. A Hyomei inhaler lasts a lifetime and extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained from druggists for a few cents.—[Advertisement.]

Radio Broadcasting
Interest in the new science of radiotelephony is sweeping the country from end to end. Already there are in Southern California many broadcasting stations sending out concerts, news, market and weather reports to the thousands of ears that listen during the day and evening hours at the "wireless" receivers in their homes. Many new broadcasting stations are now being built. It is predicted that within a month, every hour of the day and evening will be filled with entertaining and educational matter coming "over the air."
We are installing a "wireless" receiving telephone in our Boys' Department on the Third Floor and in a few days will be giving free "listening in" parties to the boys (and "their folks," if they are interested) every afternoon between four and five-thirty o'clock.
Speaking of radio, the broadcasting of a radio message is much the same as publishing an advertisement; the returns from the advertisement come only from those whose interests and requirements have attuned their minds to receive the message.
Are you in tune to receive this message:-
Men and young men, the new models in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for spring are here. They're the best Hart Schaffner & Marx have ever made. We don't think you could find better clothes no matter what you'd pay—rich style, long-wear quality.
This spring the coat lapels are a trifle longer and narrower. Buttons are spaced a little lower. The new sport styles show many interesting features in pockets, plaits and belts.

If Stomach is Out of Order —"Diapepsin"

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, Eengland and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless antacid helps digest anything you eat and overcomes a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your druggist a sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, headache or intestinal griping. Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this food fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion. — [Advertisement.

NEW ZONES MAY BAR ROOSTERS.

Pasadena Citizens Object to Early Awakening.

Crown City Children Pay Tribute to Naturalist.

Wireless Phones Fail to Make Impression.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, March 21.—When the new "zones" in Pasadena are established, poultry fanciers of Pasadena want the present ordinance amended so that roosters may be kept by householders except in the more densely settled sections of the city. The Pasadena Poultry Association has appointed its president, L. W. Colby, as a committee of one to take the matter up with City Manager C. W. Koiner.

The poultry association members and the chicken feed dealers of the city want a public hearing on the question.

If they have their wish the crowing of roosters may again herald the dawn in Pasadena, as was their wont before Pasadena grew up to be a city and excluded them.

WILL SEND FLOWERS.

Pasadena school children have a place in their hearts for John Burroughs, the venerable naturalist who died last year while on his way East, after spending the winter here. Upon the suggestion of Mrs. Gussie Packard-DuBois, one of John Burroughs' Pasadena friends, the children are going to send California wild flowers to be placed on Mr. Burrough's grave April 3, the great naturalist's birthday.

Children are enthusiastic over the plan and it has the indorsement of John Franklin West, city superintendent of schools.

RADIO ADDRESS FLOPS.

Members of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce and students at the Pasadena High School who waited and listened at those places today to hear Herbert Hoover's Los Angeles address by radiophone were disappointed. While Mr. Hoover's address did not "flop," the radio did. Something happened to the "dinged thing" between Los Angeles and Pasadena, for all the Pasadenans could hear were gurgling noises and loud bangs.

HEADS PERMANENT BODY.

Harold B. Landreth, president of the Rotary Club and commander of the American Legion post, has been made permanent chairman of the citizens' committee that is to raise the rest of the money needed to finish the Pasadena Stadium. He will name the other members of the committee some time this week.

ENTERTAINS SECRETARY.

Secretary and Mrs. Herbert Hoover spent this evening in Pasadena. They came here to be the guests at a private dinner party in their honor at the Maryland Hotel, given by Mrs. Clara M. Burdette. Mrs. Burdette invited thirty-five friends to meet the cabinet member and his wife. The affair was purely a social one. Mr. Hoover will make no public appearance in this city.

MANY ENTRANTS FOR HORSE SHOW.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, March 21.—Nearly a score of additional entrants were qualified today for the annual horse show of the Pasadena Horse Association to be held April 6, 7 and 8, and local horse lovers believe the event will set a mark for Southern California.

Frank G. Hogan, president of the association, has been devoting practically all of his time to the plans for the show, resulting in an unprecedented interest throughout California. Many of the mounts that have become nationally famous are entered, and especially is the program strengthened by promising eastern entries.

Mr. Hogan said yesterday:

"This show will be the greatest in the history of our association. We have made our plans carefully, and from what I have observed, horse lovers from near and far will be there. I feel that the success of the show is already assured."

GLENDALE RECEIVES COVETED TROPHIES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

GLENDALE, March 21.—Two trophy cups were received today by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, from the Tournament of Roses Association of Pasadena.

One is the second prize, representing the judges' decision, and the other one, of greater value, is a special trophy.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has considered the matter and will accept and keep the special prize.

A letter has been written to the Tournament Association acknowledging the special trophy with due appreciation, but the Chamber of Commerce committee feels justified in the stand taken in its letter, written January 6, refusing a second prize for Glendale's float.

PRIZE AWARDS MEET UNIVERSAL APPROVAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, March 21.—Miss Ada Webb of Lawton street, who won the first prize in The Times beauty quest contest, and also $500, is receiving the congratulations of her many friends as she is one of the most popular of the young women here, and is considered one of the beauties of the city by those who know her.

Miss Webb is the daughter of Mrs. A. B. Webb, who is and has been for several years the city nurse of Redlands. She has been a widow for several years.

Redlands people are also pleased over the success of Miss Bonnett of Loma Linda, who won third prize in the district, for she is well known here. Miss Gladys Firchener of Banning, who won first in the third district, is well known in Redlands.

SPEAKERS ADDRESS CHAMBER AT MONROVIA: OTHER NEWS NOTES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONROVIA, March 21. — The first official act of Roy D. Stone, Monrovia's new Chamber of Commerce secretary, was to call for the organization of a merchants' association. Mr. Stone has issued invitations for a dinner to be held on the evening of the 29th, and has invited a number of outside big business men to help in solving local problems. Among those who have accepted from Los Angeles are Ora Monnette, president of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, and Frank M. Bering, head of the Western Avenue Business Men's Association, an organization that Mr. Stone believes one of the most progressive in the West.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

W. F. Sullivan, 57, well-known negro resident, is dead, following injuries received when he stepped in front of a motor car driven by David Corrales. The accident happened in front of Sullivan's home at 429 East Maple. It is believed Sullivan became blinded by the glare of the motor headlights. An inquest will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in the Renaker chapel.

HEAR HOOVER.

Scores of Monrovians gathered at the Colonial Theater this afternoon and listened to the radiophone broadcasting of Herbert Hoover's address to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on the occasion of the luncheon tendered him today at the Alexandria. The Colonial is now completely equipped with wireless telephone equipment.

TO GOVERN HOMES.

New Officers Chosen to Conduct Affairs of Soldiers' Home.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAWTELLE, March 21.—Maj.-Gen. George H. Wood of Dayton, O., was re-elected president of the board of managers of the National Homes for Disabled Volunteers today. Other officers elected by the board when it opened its annual meeting at the Home this morning were Maj. J. W. Wadsworth, New York, first vice-president; Col. Roy Marston, Maine, second vice-president; and Capt. W. S. Albright, Kansas, secretary.

The board heard complaints this afternoon and will make a general inspection of the Sawtelle Home tomorrow.

The board members at today's session were Maj.-Gen. Wood, Maj. J. W. Wadsworth, Capt. J. C. Nelson of Indiana, Col. H. H. Markham, Pasadena, Capt. W. S. Albright, Col. Roy Marston and Hon. J. S. Catherwood, Illinois. Meeting with them are Col. C. W. Wadsworth, general treasurer, Col. J. J. Madison, chief surgeon, and N. D. Nutter, chief clerk.

MANY CANDIDATES ENLIVEN ELECTION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, March 21.—Thirteen candidates have entered the race for the Venice board of trustees. With Mayor Edward A. Gerety and Trustee John Harrah remaining as hold-overs there will be three vacancies to be filled. Trustees W. G. Lutz and C. W. Holbrook are candidates to succeed themselves. Other candidates who filed nominating petitions are James F. Barclay, Charles J. Brown, Fred Church, Charles Craik, Lee Dearth, Edward L. Dodds, William H. Fahr, Jr., William J. Gaffney, C. Gordon Parkhurst, John B. Sands and Minnie G. Kopp, who is the first woman to run for trustee in Venice.

The total voting registration for Venice is 4125.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, March 21.—Manuel Balarezo, former Governor of the northern district of Lower California and until recently connected with the Territorial Department of Agriculture as chief irrigation engineer, has resigned from the government service to accept the position of president of the Lower California Brokerage Company, customs-house brokers and agents with the chief office in this city. Mr. Balarezo has moved his family to Calexico and will make his permanent residence here.

NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 21, — Plans for a shadow lighting system for Palisades Park were adopted by the Santa Monica City Council today. The plans, which were made by Commissioner W. H. Carter, call for an extensive indirect lighting system which will make the park a bower of light at night. The lights will shine from beneath trees and shrubbery and will cover the entire half mile of park.

LONG BEACH IS BATTLE SCENE.

"Scrap of Paper" Becomes Municipal Issue.

Dry Agent's Warrant Cause of Controversy.

Amherst Alumnus to Receive Special Honors.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, March 21.—"A scrap of paper," an expression which figured so largely in the late World War, today bobbed up prominently in the municipal battle for possession of the $1500 warrant for the payment for the services of the dry-raid chief who is now in jail on a charge of impersonating a government officer.

Claiming a big victory, the City Council, in a surprise move today, ordered the $1500 demand made out to the purported dry officer rescinded and instructed the City Auditor, Miss Myrtelle Gunsul, the opposing force, as it were, to cancel the warrant.

"The warrant now becomes a scrap of paper," said one of the Councilmen this afternoon. Not so, according to Miss Gunsul, who has actual possession of the warrant and who says the action of the Council means nothing. Miss Gunsul says the warrant has been held up for investigation by an order from the District Attorney's office and that the action of the legislative body this afternoon has absolutely no effect in changing the status of the warrant.

WOMAN BLOCKS EFFORT.

Miss Gunsul thus far had blocked the efforts of the City Council to regain possession of the warrant which was paid the dry officer by Mayor C. A. Buffum personally. The Mayor now desires to recover from the city.

Orson G. Champman and John Vance died here today. Both were octogenarians and well known.

John Vance, 88 years old and a resident of California for fifty-three years, died at his home, 1028 East Tenth street. Mr. Vance was one of the early California settlers, having crossed the Mississippi River in the early 50's. He drove teams of oxen and mules across the country and when he first settled here became a scout with the son of Brigham Young. He leaves the following children: Mrs. Annie Thompson, Long Beach and Mrs. Maud Dann and Mrs. Mattie Goodlin, both of Belleflower. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Artesia Cemetery.

Orson G. Champman, a Civil War veteran, died at his home, 21 South Magnolia avenue. He was 85 years old, had spent many years in Long Beach and was a member of the G.A.R., having served in Co. A, One Hundred and Tenth New York Infantry. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Adeline Champman; one son, W. B. Champman of Los Angeles, and one daughter, Mrs. W. S. Grimth of Long Beach.

TO HONOR SPEAKER.

An invitation has been issued to every member of the Amherst Alumni Association living within a radius of 100 miles of Long Beach to be present at the dinner and smoker of the Long Beach Realty Board when they entertain at the regional conference Friday night at the Hotel Virginia. The occasion will be the presentation of the silver cup awarded to Henry B. Barbour, an Amherst alumnus, who was awarded the cup at the convention in San Francisco, when the judges decided that the best five-minute speech on "My Home Town," was given by him.

M. G. Potts of Pasadena, Past District Deputy, accompanied by officers of Pasadena Lodge of Elks, will be in charge of the installation ceremony of Long Beach Lodge, No. 888, April 5. Special exercises will be conducted and George Stevenson will be installed as Exalted Ruler. The three hundredth life membership in the local organization was announced last night. This method of raising funds for the proposed new home of Elks to be built on the northeast corner of Cedar and Ocean avenues has realized approximately $45,000 for the lodge.

WHITTIER MAN IS ACCIDENT VICTIM.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, March 21.—A. J. O'Byrne of Whittier was instantly killed by the northbound Santa Fe passenger train this afternoon near the city limits when he attempted to board one of the coaches. O'Byrne is said to have come to San Diego with a party of friends to attend the week-end races at Tijuana. He became separated from them and after obtaining financial assistance from a fraternal organization, stated his intention of going to Whittier.

Eyewitnesses said the man waited in a cut for the train to approach and then attempted to jump aboard. He stumbled and was struck by the moving cars as he fell. Death, which was instantaneous, was due to a fractured skull.

REDLANDS PIONEER BURIED WEDNESDAY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, March 21.—Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Emma J. Hall, widow of the late Maj. J. C. Hall of this city. Mrs. Hall died at Vashon, Wash., where she has been living since her husband died.

Mrs. Hall came to Redlands about thirty years ago with her family and lived here for more than twenty years. She was an active member of the Methodist Church.

She was nearly 90 years old and is survived by five children and seventeen grandchildren. The children are Rev. Walter Hall of Fond du Lac; Rev. E. D. Hall of Curtis, Mich.; Russell J. Hall of Vashon, Wash.; Mrs. Evalyn Wheeler of Pasadena, and Mrs. Grace Scott of San Diego.

The body was shipped to this city and the funeral services will be held tomorrow.

American Plan is Answer to Union Boycott.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BAKERSFIELD, March 21.—A special meeting of the Building Trade Council of Kern county has been called for tonight at the Labor Temple to consider the notice sent the council by the Bakersfield Builders' Exchange, stating that the "American plan" would be placed in operation in the building industry here if a "boycott" charged by the exchange "is not lifted" by March 25.

Wallace Watson, temporary secretary of the Trades Council in the absence of J. C. Harter, today sent a reply to the notice of the Builders' Exchange, denying that an "official boycott" exists against Bakersfield merchants or members of the Builders' Exchange. Watson said that under the agreement between building workers and employers here a meeting of the conference board should have been called to deal with the situation before the exchange sent its notice to the workers.

EASTER AT VENTURA.

Annual Services at Old Cross of Junipero Serra.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, March 21.—Easter sunrise service at the old mission cross overlooking Ventura is to be the most elaborate service of its kind yet held at the historic site.

Extensive preparations are being made and the road to the cross is being put in excellent condition for automobiles. The E.C.O. Club, which instituted the service many years ago, has charge of the program as usual. Mrs. C. G. Bartlett, president, is the chairman of the committee on general arrangements.

The cross is the third that has stood on this site, the first being erected by Father Junipero Serra to point the way to his newly founded mission of San Buenaventura. They have all three been wooden crosses and remain intact about fifty years each.

ASK CHEAPER GAS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, March 21.—Santa Paula will join with Ventura in an effort to get cheaper gas rates, an appeal to be made in the near future to the State Railroad Commission. Oxnard has refused to join with the sister cities.

EAT THIS FOOD IF CONSTIPATED NATURE NEEDS NO OTHER HELP

Cereal Meal, the Ideal Health Food, Brings Natural Bowel Movements in 24 Hours.

Without Drugs, Exercise or Diet This Food Aids Nature 365 Days of the Year.

Eat Cereal Meal, Go to Bed at Night Without Pills or Drugs to Disturb Your Sleep.

Arise in Morning With Clear Head, Keen Appetite, Knowing Nature Will Function.

If you are taking pills and laxatives to FORCE Nature, you well know that you will have to take them as long as you live in ever-increasing doses unless you find other means of relief. Your experience has taught you this. At best, drugs can give you only incomplete, from day-to-day relief, because they act by irritation, not naturally, and fail to reach the CAUSE of your trouble—the CAUSE being the absence of certain elements from the food you are eating—elements Nature intended should be a part of your food for daily bowel movements and good health. There is nothing wonderful about Cereal Meal—just a delightful food that adds the necessary elements to your food, and Nature does the rest. Try it.

Wouldn't it be wonderful to never again have to resort to the pill-box—just to eat your breakfast as you have always eaten it with the substitution of Cereal Meal for the cereal you may be accustomed to eating, and KNOW that when the hands of the clock pointed to a certain hour each day that Nature would act?

Cereal Meal is the open door to complete and natural freedom from constipation and the many evil symptoms and conditions that invariably accompany it.

It brings on regular, natural bowel movements—copious, thorough, poison-removing. With Cereal Meal a part of your daily diet, literally, you Eat Your Way Back to Health. Regular bowel movements mean that you are very nearly sick-proof.

With pills and laxatives discarded and a new cereal food on your table instead of the old one, you have incurred no additional expense—Cereal Meal takes the place of both laxative and cereal food at a cost of about three cents a day.

Cereal Meal should be in every household—is for every member of the family from grandfather and grandmother down to the baby old enough to take solid food.

Cereal Meal is a delicious, wholesome, nourishing food and contains no drugs.

Indigestion, fermentation, headaches, dull eyes and sallow complexion, chronic appendicitis and much nervousness usually are but secondary to constipation. Eat Cereal Meal for constipation and see how quickly these conditions will disappear.

If you reside in Los Angeles, purchase a package of Cereal Meal, TODAY, of any one of the Owl Drug Stores and you will not regret your purchase. In Pasadena and Venice, of the Owl Drug Stores. In Ventura, of Jas. S. Blackstock.

Dealers supplied by the Brunswig Drug Co., Los Angeles.

Many dealers in the smaller towns have not yet stocked Cereal Meal. If your dealer has none, write direct to The Cereal Meal Corp., 118 Fifteenth St., Denver, Colo., for the address of your nearest dealer, a free booklet on constipation, prices and full particulars. —[Advertisement.

How To Really Save On Cost of Painting

FIRST, find out what good paint is, for that is where you start to save on paint. We spend more to make paint for your economy as follows:

We use only the best materials in Fuller's Specification House Paints — PIONEER WHITE LEAD, pure linseed oil, zinc and finest colors.

We super-purify the lead in a special purifier. Then we make the lead so fine that it will pass through a silk screen with 40,000 meshes to the square inch.

The "whiter" lead means clearer-toned colors. The extreme fineness means better mixing quality, greater covering capacity, more ease in spreading —a paint that's always uniform and smooth.

Such paints when applied form a beautiful elastic, tough, protective coat that stays. They are known as "Fuller's Specification House Paints."

Where "Cheap" Paints Fail

Don't Figure Paint Economy as "Cost per Gallon."

"Cheap" paints can't compete with good paints in economy. "Cheap" paint covers less—you buy more gallons. It requires more work—so you pay more. Your "saving" in less cost per gallon is quickly eaten up.

Cheap paint starts to crack in a year. Good paint remains good five or ten years. It is really the cheap paint that is expensive—it allows surfaces to rot—it costs too much.

There is no real cost in painting with good paint. Depreciation of an unpainted house exceeds the cost of paint.

Free Advice on Painting

ASK our agent for our free advice. He will show you a color card which shows 32 shades of this desirable paint.

We have a Fuller Specification Department which will tell you all about the most desirable color schemes, color harmony and many other details you want to know.

Take advantage of Fuller House Paints. Take steps to paint now. Don't let weather depreciate your investment.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Then the little children can share in the joyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate wants than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and good health than to listen to the clamor at night and say, "I wish."

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold. 15c and 25c. An order today may be the beginning for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms of Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by addition of boiling water. Postum in packages of larger bulk, for those who like to make the drink while the meal is prepared) made by boiling 20 minutes.

Postum for Health—"There's a Reason"

FATHER FREED OF ABDUCTION.

Phoenix Court Gives Local Man His Son.

Three Are Held for Auto Thefts Here.

Arizona Teacher Whipped by Masked Mob.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

PHOENIX, March 21.—After an all-day struggle that included resort to Justice and Superior courts, Worth M. Hathaway of Los Angeles was freed of the charge of kidnaping his 5-year-old son and has been given custody of the child. The court directed, however, that the child be kept in Arizona within the jurisdiction of the Superior Court. Judge Jenckes decided that the child was in the father's custody when local proceedings started and that the father had as much right in the action as the mother.

FLED WITH BOY.

There was development of the facts that the mother had sued in Los Angeles for divorce, that the California court had ordered that the child be kept by each of the parties for alternate six-day periods, that the mother, abandoning her action, fled with the boy and only lately was found in Phoenix, where the father seized him and attempted to take him back to Los Angeles.

It was also shown that, on complaint of the father, a divorce action is now pending in Los Angeles. Mrs. Hathaway has filed an action here for separate maintenance and for custody of the child. This is to be heard Monday.

Hathaway asked that the court take up the whole matter and make decision here, but this was refused, as also was any reference to the California proceedings.

There was an affecting scene in the Courthouse yard when the boy was taken from the mother by the probation matron, despite the mother's screams and struggles.

HELD FOR AUTO THEFTS.

J. I. Smith is held here, charged with having stolen a Cadillac automobile, the property of Samuel W. Little of Hollywood, on March 7. Smith excited suspicion in Phoenix when he offered the car for $350. He is said to have broken parole from the penitentiary of Washington State.

Lynn Gilson and John Kinds are in jail here, charged with the theft of a coupe, said to have been stolen from Dr. Richardson of Long Beach.

INVESTIGATE ASSAULT.

This afternoon at Mesa was started investigation of an alleged Ku Klux Klan action last night wherein Rollin P. Jones, principal of the public school in the Lehi suburbs, was whipped and branded on the cheeks with acid. Eleven men have been arrested and arraigned before a justice of the peace.

Several weeks ago Jones was accused of an assault upon one of his pupils, a girl. He was exonerated when the case was investigated.

Last night he was called to the door of his home by a man who asked assistance in rescuing a companion from under a ditched automobile. Two hundred yards from the house he was forced into an automobile by five other men, who took him to a point a few miles distant where he was delivered over to masked men, more than a dozen in number, one of them shouting, "Ku Klux Klan." Then he was spreadeagled against a tree and whipped with a leather quirt till blood came. He was asked if he would acknowledge guilt in the case of the girl. When he declared his innocence he was given ten more strokes.

MARKED WITH ACID.

Then Jones was blindfolded while with carbolic acid he was marked on either cheek with the letter K, being advised at the same time that he would be disfigured for life. He was warned that he must resign and leave the community and told that he would be hanged if he reported the affair.

Jones's son had followed and ran to telephone the Sheriff when he saw his father taken away. Both Jones and County Attorney Shepherd declare disbelief in any Ku Klux participation. Friends of Jones have formed a guard for him and will push prosecution. The girl's father, arrested today, declares he was home in bed while Jones was being mistreated. The teacher was born in the district and belongs to a prominent pioneer family.

LEGISLATURE BUSY.

Though the ouse today practically cleared its calendar save for the appropriation bill, belief is expressed that the Legislature must last at least a week more.

Senate bills passed by the House include, the Elliott Act, settling a dispute concerning holdover supervisors, an act permitting legislators to run for office; bills granting $5000 relief each to the widows of Walter Layton and Michael Murphy, killed in the service of the State, a bill repealing an act permitting increase of the State's debt to 4 per cent of the assessed valuation, a bill providing for co-operative marketing, in co-operation with Federal Supervision; a bill providing that the pending batch of constitutional amendments shall be voted on at the coming primary election, a bill permitting formation of drainage districts within irrigation districts.

In the Senate Elliott offered a new section to the finance code permitting establishment of a State revolving fund of $2,000,000 to match Federal aid, to be used as needed. The national government now owes the State nearly that sum.

A Senate resolution protests against high railroad tariffs in Arizona.

Gov. Campbell has signed a joint resolution asking Congressional enactment of soldier bonus legislation and also a memorial requesting the opening of a part of the San Carlos Reservation to settlement.

For correction of title, the competitive paving bill has been returned to the Senate, but is to be sent to the Governor within a couple days.

A Home Made Gray Hair Remedy

Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately made black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in 2 oz. of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for use and a $100.00 gold bond come in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex powder does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, aniline, coaltar products or other derivatives.

It is safe, does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger.—[Advertisement.

GIVES UP LIFE TO SAVE BIRD.

Mother of Angeleno Burns to Death in Her Home at Berkeley.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

BERKELEY, March 21.—Mrs. Anna Wilson, 67 years old, a widow, sacrificed her life in a fire in her home yesterday in order to save her pet canary bird.

Mrs. Wilson and her pet, which had been her only companion for four years, were before an overheated stove. The woman's clothing caught fire, but before she sought to extinguished the flames she seized the bird's cage and put it in a safe place. Then she ran to the kitchen to put water on her dress. Before she put out the flames she fainted and was so badly burned she died a few hours later.

A son, J. L. Wilson of Los Angeles, survives Mrs. Wilson.

NEW CONSTRUCTION WORK AUTHORIZED.

SAN FRANCISCO PLANS TO SPEND FOUR MILLION ON WATER SUPPLY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Four million dollars' worth of construction work was authorized by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors last night and steps were taken looking to another million dollars' worth.

As a means of increasing the city water supply 24,000,000 gallons a day, making the city's total daily supply 64,000,000 gallons, the Supervisors voted to begin work immediately on the $4,000,000 Hetch-Hetchy water conduit from Niles screen to Crystal Springs, which will be rented to the Spring Valley Water Company for ten years, when it is expected the Hetch-Hetchy project will be completed.

The board authorized the closing of Laguna and Water streets for two blocks each, preliminary to the construction of a million-dollar State normal school. The building is to be constructed in the center of a garden bounded by Hermann, Haight, Laguna and Buchanan streets.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Pacific Shippers Have Foreign Trade Vision; Power Bonds Sell Fast; A Sunrise Glow.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The ninth annual foreign trade convention is to be held in Philadelphia May 10-12. More than 4000 delegates from all parts of the United States are expected, and early registration indicates a large attendance from the Pacific Coast.

The importance of this meeting is emphasized by Robert Dollar, who appeals to the commercial and industrial interests of the Coast to attend or be represented on the ground that the convention this year is of unusual and vital concern to the shipping and industries of this community, and that the expansion of America's foreign trade lies in the opportunity to run American plants and vessels on full time with resulting prosperity to all concerned.

"Without foreign trade men in our factories could not be employed more than half time," says Mr. Dollar. "By running our factories to their capacity they can produce in six months of the year all America requires for domestic use. Our farmers and all who depend upon the products of the soil, now know that our country can only consume a little more than half of what is produced, and we must therefore sell our surplus in foreign countries or our men will go hungry."

James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, will preside, and every topic in any way related to America's foreign trade will be discussed.

The convention, it is expected, will go on record on two topics with a most direct bearing upon the early return of prosperity. One will be a demand that all foreign loans hereafter negotiated in this country be conditioned upon all or a large part of the proceeds being spent for American products; the other the enormous stock of gold now idle in our treasury vaults be set at work to finance our foreign trade. The merchant marine, finance, credits, new markets and scores of other subjects bearing upon foreign trade are on the program.

LOS ANGELES CREDIT SOUND.

That the credit of Los Angeles is as sound as that of the Federal government itself has been given fresh demonstration in the eagerness with which the banks and investment houses of the United States purchased the $13,500,000 power bonds recently acquired by the First Securities Syndicate, after the courts had estopped their sale to another syndicate at a heavy discount. All of the bonds in the pool have been sold or allocated and the syndicate has been dissolved.

It does not often occur in the history of bond selling that any issue of this magnitude is so readily disposed of or that such a syndicate can be dissolved so quickly.

The bonds have gone very rapidly, not only in wholesale lots to jobbers, but the investing public from coast to coast has shown an eagerness to participate which is highly complimentary to the financial standing of Pacific metropolis.

There has been a liberal home demand for the issue, and the First Securities Company has only a few of them left for retail. When these are gone there will be no others available except such as may be picked up on the open market.

A SUNRISE GLOW.

"A promising sunrise glow of better times is tinging the Latin-American trade horizon. Most of the countries of this region have passed through the dark period of liquidation and are facing the breaking day of business revival with renewed confidence." Dr. Julius Klein, director of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce said this last night in a speech.

Latin America will from now on present a steadily developing market for American products; significant evidence of its growing importance to us is found in the fact that our trade with that region today (1921) represents 18 per cent of our total trade with the world, against 12 per cent in the fiscal year 1913-14. Exports to Latin America from the United States during the calendar year 1921 amounted to over $800,000,000, a gain of 166 per cent over the last normal prewar year.

"This is certainly a striking example of the ability of America to hold its own," Dr. Klein declared, "especially in view of the fact that this increase has been achieved in the face of extremely unfavorable exchange rates, complicated by world-wide depression and after fully two years have elapsed in which our old commercial rivals, the English, the German and the French manufacturers, have had time to enter into active competition against us. It means, the director asserted, "that in spite of a few noisy complaints our Latin American friends have learned to appreciate American quality and service, and that our business men have likewise learned that quality and service are the keys to commercial success the world over."

Dr. Klein emphasized the importance of investments in foreign trade, calling attention to the fact that last year American banking houses floated loans for the countries of Latin America to the extent of more than $210,000,000.

The director said that reports reaching the Department of Commerce indicate renewal of demands in several lines and that the list of goods needed is constantly increasing. He said that while, of course, 1922 will not be a banner year for American houses exporting to Latin America, he was confident that the lowest ebb of the tide of depression has been safely passed, and that from this time on business will improve, gathering momentum in its upward climb.

THE MYTHICAL FAMILY.

The "average American family of five" has long been made the basis for figuring on taxes, cost of living, church attendance and schedule of clothing supplies, but now comes Elliot Frost, an industrial manager, who is quoted by Nation's Business as saying that there is no such thing, and that the term, "average American family of five," carries two implications, each contrary to fact, to-wit, (a) that the average American family consists of five persons, and (b) that in this family there is one, and only one, wage-earner. As to the former, the 1920 census shows 4.3 persons to a family, considering "family" as a social unit. To call it five is therefore 16 per cent inaccurate to begin with. Still more important, however, is the other implication, namely, there is but one wage-earner among five persons. The fact is that the average is two.

The proof for this is simple: divide the total population (approximately 105,000,000 persons) by the number gainfully employed in this country (approximately 41,610,000 persons) and you get 2.52 persons per wage-earner—not five. This family of 2.52 persons might properly be called the "average American economic family." Labor's claim that it consists of five instead of 2.52 persons is therefore about 100 per cent inaccurate.

If further illustration, disproving this "five-in-a-family" slogan is needed, take figures for an individual city. Rochester, N. Y., for instance, in 1920 had a population of about 296,000; 134,088 of whom were registered as wage-earners. This means that 45.3 per per cent of the city's population of men, women and children were gainfully employed; or, to phrase it in another way, it means that on the average each worker helped to support 1.2 persons besides himself or 2.2 persons altogether, and not five as labor claims.

LOOKING FORWARD.

The results of the past year shown in the cutting down of inventories and current liabilities, along with the building up of quick assets at the expense of inventories and receivables, leave the average company in a much stronger position than it was a year ago. Taking the figures as a whole their most unfavorable significance relates almost entirely to the past. As far as the future is concerned they show that the confusion of the last two years has been materially removed, and that the average company is ready to take advantage of favorable developments in the general business situation.

LIBERTY BOND PRICES.

Respond Readily to Money Market Movement; German Mark Loses Again.

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Following the decline in bankers' acceptance rates on Monday's markets, street rates for merchants' paper were reduced ¼ per cent today. The new quotation of 4½ to 4¾ per cent was the lowest since August, 1917, and virtually on a level with the present reserve bank rediscount rate.

Liberty Bond prices responded as they did to the preceding day's money market movement.

The first 4 per cents and the third 4¼'s both going above the previous high points in their open market history. The 4¼ per cent loan of October, 1918, of which the amount in the public's hands is nearly twice as large as that of any other issue, today reached a price one-fourth point above the best price touched by it in the market, even in the week when it was first dealt in on the stock exchange.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE.

It is still 1¾ points below the subscription prices, but the quick response of the market for these bonds to changes in money rates renders it not at all improbable that these bonds also will reach par before the year is over.

Other investment bonds showed strength again, outside of a few instances in which speculative realizing after a previous rapid rise (as with the French republic bonds) caused moderate reaction. The day's stock market moved irregularly; net advances and net declines were fairly balanced. Railway shares again stood generally motionless, with something of reaction in the three or four stocks which were bid up suddenly on Monday.

Today's recovery in the principal European exchanges, following Monday's weakness, seemed to indicate little more than the familiar backward and forward swing. The German mark lost most of its late recovery of Monday, but it did not get back below the third-of-a-cent price. The reparations payment no doubt has its part in this recurrent depreciation; but it is difficult to imagine any equilibrium restored so long as the present German idea prevails that depreciation has no connection with the 22,000,000,000 marks of new paper, turned out by the printing press since November.

GOLD IMPORTS.

Today's statement by the Department of Commerce, giving the sources of our gold imports of last month, is curiously interesting. It had seemed when the Transvaal strike was under way, when the Far East was no longer shipping gold and when France was known to be exporting gold only sparingly, that the monthly arrivals in the United States would be negligible.

The department's figures show that from those sources we received last month $26,000,000 less than in February, 1921. But the receipts from Denmark and Sweden told a very different story; they increased $12,000,000 from a year ago, and the total gold arrivals in February, decreased only from $42,600,000 in 1921 to $28,700,000 in 1922.

MINING NEWS.

Improvement in the copper market is evidenced in the continued refusal of several of the large producers to release more of the metal at a sacrifice. Familiarity with conditions in the foreign market and confidence in an early increase in demand from European buyers are responsible for this attitude. Germany, in particular, is expected to become a larger buyer as a result of the placing of enormous orders from South American countries for electrical machinery, which will take large quantities. The low value of the mark has not prevented Germany from buying copper at 13 1-4 cents F.O.B. Hamburg. This price terminates at the end of March and new contracts will call for a higher price.

AJO.—Work is to be started at once on sinking a shaft for the water supply for the new 5000-ton concentrator of the New Cornelia Copper Company. This plant is to handle the large sulphide ore bodies of that company.

BISBEE.—The appointment of D. D. Irwin, former general superintendent of the Montezuma Copper Company, to the general superintendency of the Copper Queen Branch, Phelps Dodge Corporation has been announced.

EL PASO.—The Ahumada Lead and Silver Company development work showing 400,000 tons of ore in sight is remarkable and warrants the prediction that this mine will shortly be one of the foremost of that rich district.

WILLCOX.—The report that the Central Copper Company is to start shipping immediately is believed to be without foundation as they have concentrated towards the opening of new ore bodies rather than blocking out the sixty odd bodies for mining.

DOUGLAS.—Statements evidently coming from bears on copper indicate that the Douglas smelters are likely to shut down again. These statements have been offset by recent definite announcements from both the Copper Queen and the C. and A.

JEROME.—A completion of financial arrangements has caused the announcement that the Calumet and Jerome Copper Company will resume development within the next month. Former development by diamond drill showed very favorably.

MEXICO CITY.—Mexico produced 38.6 per cent of the total silver of the world in 1921, while the United States produced but 31 per cent during the same period. This year's production in Mexico will greatly exceed that of 1921.

CANANEA.—The Greene Cananea Company, which is partly controlled by the Anaconda, will be called upon to supply a part of the copper for American brass. This means that there will be an increase in their capacity to 500 tons daily.

NOGALES.—A $5,000,000 corporation has been formed to prospect and develop the northern half of the Luis Maria, Baca Float, north of Nogales. The area is one which was historically important in old Spanish days.

MIAMI.—The Porphyry shaft, which is being sunk by the Inspiration Consolidated to a depth of 1400 feet is the largest shaft in the State, 16x21 in the clear. It is to be five compartment, concreted, and is now down about 600 feet.

OATMAN.—The success of the Oatman United in developing by diamond drills into the Oatman district and a large number of announced plans for drill, Oatman is very active at present.

BUSINESS NEWS.

Condition of Retail Trade; No Gas Price Advance; Pocket Gold; Food Supplies.

Reports from six representative department stores in Los Angeles, covering their business for the month of February, was made public yesterday by John Perrin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board. This report shows a decrease in net sales and a slight increase in stocks. The summary follows:

Percentage decrease of net sales during February, 1922, compared with net sales during same period last year	9.2
Percentage decrease of net sales during February, 1922, compared with net sales during January, 1922	15.6
Percentage decrease of net sales from January, 1922, to February, 1922 inclusive, compared with net sales during same period last year	9.8
Percentage increase of stocks at close of February, 1922, compared with stocks at close of same month last year	21.2
Percentage increase of stocks at close of February, 1922, compared with stocks at close of previous month	.9
Percentage outstanding orders at close of February, 1922, to total purchases during year 1922	8.1

ABOUT GASOLINE.

Although the season of increased demand for gasoline is rapidly approaching, there is not likely to be a price advance in this State, according to H. H. Maxson, secretary and manager of the Independent Petroleum Marketers' Association of California. The market is now so well stabilized that oil men expect present prices to hold even during the summer peak.

Gasoline stocks in California have passed through the winter months without increasing unduly on account of the steady rate of consumption maintained here. There has never been enough gas made from the oil produced in the State to tide California consumers over the peak months and we have always been dependent on imports from Texas and Oklahoma during certain periods every year. This year, however, imports were cut down by farsighted local gasoline marketers.

Besides this decrease in outside supply, there has been a slackening activity in the California oil fields, according to Mr. Maxson. It now appears that there was more shut-in production during February than at any other time in the history of the California petroleum industry. Nevertheless, the crude oil stocks are very large and still increasing.

The bringing in of wells with high gasoline content in the Santa Fe Springs field means that less casinghead gasoline will have to be imported than ever before. Refiners use this casinghead product to mix with their regular gasoline and have previously been dependent to a great extent on the high-gravity eastern fields. Development in the Santa Fe Springs and other districts should in time cut down these imports.

The export demand for gasoline is improving. California refiners supply the Orient and the islands and the slump in exports has been a depressing factor in the market for some time. However, outbound shipments are now increasing steadily from month to month.

Kerosene is also benefitting by this increased export demand. Furnace distillate is moving well, due to the apartment-house demand for heating purposes, although this demand will soon be out of the market. The market for stove distillate is dull, as this product is being generally replaced by gas.

CIRCULATING GOLD.

News from the East that gold certificates are once more in circulation has stirred up some speculation in local financial circles as to whether this forecasts the return of the yellow metal to regular trade channels. Before the war, gold was the distinguishing characteristic of the West's circulating coinage and more objections to its withdrawal were raised here than in any other section of the country.

A. M. Chaffee, president of the California Bank, is of the opinion that gold will never recover its former popularity in California, even if it is returned to actual circulation. This territory is now filled with former easterners, who lack the traditional western prejudice against paper, and freshly issued notes from the reserve banks have removed former objections to "dirty" money, according to Mr. Chaffee. Altogether, it appears that gold will never recover its former position of dominance in the coin of the realm, now that the public has been educated to the many advantages of paper.

POTATO SUPPLIES.

Reports received by the Department of Agriculture from the fifteen leading potato States show that 90,946,000 bushels, or 28 per cent of production, were still on hand March 1. Growers hold 31 per cent of this and dealers 19 per cent. The growers are expected to move 30,925,000 bushels from the farms after March 1. California still has about 1200 cars to ship.

NEW BRANCH BANK.

The Alvarado and Sunset avenue branch of the California Bank is now open for business. R. B. Stearns has been appointed manager.

HOLDING COMPANY.

It was said yesterday that 56 per cent of the stock of the Union Oil Company of California had been pledged to the holding company which will be organized within the next ten days. The working directors will be California stockholders.

MUNICIPALS ACTIVE.

Municipal bonds have shaken off their recent dullness and the market is now very active in all parts of the country. Probably the chief influencing factor in the market for municipal obligations has been the calling of the Victory 4 3-4s, releasing large sums for reinvestment. The Harris Trust and Savings Bank reports that many of the municipal obligations which it has recently underwritten have sold out far more rapidly than expected.

SOISSONS ISSUE.

Bonds for financing the reconstruction of devastated areas in Northern France furnished the feature of yesterday's new investment offerings. A syndicate headed by Blyth, Witter & Co., offered $6,000,000 city of Soissons external reconstruction secured fifteen-year noncallable 6 per cent gold bonds at 95 1-2 to yield 7.65 per cent. Proceeds of this loan are to be used exclusively for the reconstruction of fixed property. The French government has contracted to make annual payments in sufficient amounts for interest and retirement of the entire issue before maturity.

VISIT POWER PLANT.

Several of the sales representatives of Hunter, Dulin & Co. have just returned from a tour of inspection of the new power plants of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation. The trip was made under the auspices of W. G. Kerckhoff, president of the corporation, and covered the new Kerckhoff power plant and dam, as well as plant No. 1. These properties are situated in the mountains forty-two miles from Fresno.

OFFER SEATTLE BONDS.

Rapid oversubscription marked the offering yesterday of $1,005,000 city of Seattle municipal light and power 6 per cent serial gold bonds by Carstens & Earles. The issue was entirely sold to dealers before the public offering had been made. The bonds were priced to yield 5.10 per cent.

A Sound Investment In Hydro-Electric Bonds

THE Nevada-California Electric Corporation is a hydro-electric company in the true sense of the word. Over 80% of the total generating capacity of its system is hydro-electric.

All the advantages of this form of generation are evident in this company's business. Its supply of power depends only on its development of potential water rights.

Its cost of doing business is relatively free from the hazards of rising or falling prices. Its raw material (water) is costless and doubtless will always be costless. Its operating costs are very low compared with the value of the product. It has a dependable income because the essential nature of its business has caused State Supervising Commissions to permit companies engaged in it to earn a fair return on their investments.

For these reasons we recommend Nevada-California Electric Corporation First Lien 6% Gold Bonds, Series "B," due 1956, priced at 96 and interest to yield 6.30%.

For your information we have prepared an attractive circular which tells the interesting story of this hydro-electric company. Write for the details of these bonds, or call at our office for this information.

DUTCH EAST INDIES

40-Year External 6% Bonds
Non-Callable for Ten Years

A Sinking Fund, commencing in 1933 will pay this entire issue by maturity.

The Dutch East Indies is one of the richest of all colonial possessions and has been under Dutch control for over three hundred years. The population of the islands is estimated at 47,000,000 and the land area about 750,000 square miles.

We recommend these bonds as a safe investment, to yield from 6.35% to 6.73%.

Centuries of Prominence

The great natural resources of the Dutch East Indies have for centuries given it prominence in the commerce of the world and today, after more than 300 years of Dutch control, it ranks among the richest of all colonial possessions.

The Colony comprises some 750,000 square miles of well-populated territory traversed by nearly 4000 miles of railway and its government has been established for 124 years.

Its great natural resources have been reflected in a substantial excess of exports over imports, the Colony having enjoyed a larger favorable balance of trade—1915-21, than any other country in the world except the United States.

The financial strength of the colony is seen in the present position of the florin, which shows a discount of only 8%, reflecting its position as one of the soundest currencies in the world.

The total funded debt approximates $252,000,000, compared with $275,000,000 of government-owned monopolies and properties, the net income from which for the period 1917-21 averaged more than one and three-quarter times all interest and amortization charges in the 1922 budget.

In view of the history, great natural resources, financial record and standing of the great Colony, we believe the recent issue of 40-Year External 6% Gold Bonds constitutes a very desirable long-term investment opportunity. The issue was authorized by The Netherlands Parliament, approved by the Crown and is now available for investment.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Aside from a score of favorite issues in which bullish activities were again a striking feature, trading on the stock exchange today was uncertain and obviously professional and transactions fell below the million-share mark.

Prices were most uneven in the final hour, when the rate for call loans gradually rose to 4½ per cent, as against the initial quotations of 3½.

Stocks, such as Bethlehem Steel and Public Service of New Jersey, owed their consistent strength to good financial statements. These favorable features were offset to a degree by adverse labor developments in the textile and leather industries and the call suspending work in the coal mines on April 1.

Movements of seasoned or representative rails, steels and equipments were unusually narrow. Motors as a group were firm to strong, but oils and affiliated issues showed no very definite tone.

Sales amounted to 900,000 shares.

Dealings in the foreign exchange market were unusually light, being made up largely of British, French and Dutch bills. Sterling rose slightly over yesterday's highest rate. All continental remittances were moderately better.

CITY OF SEATTLE
WASHINGTON

MUNICIPAL LIGHT AND POWER 6% SERIAL GOLD BONDS

DATED MARCH 1, 1922 — DUE AS SHOWN BELOW

Principal and Semi-Annual Interest March 1st and September 1st, Payable in Gold at the Fiscal Agency of the State of Washington in New York City, or at the Office of the City Treasurer in Seattle, at the Option of the Holder. Coupon Bonds, with the Privilege of Registration as to Principal Alone or Both Principal and Interest. Denomination $1000.

EXEMPT FROM ALL TAXATION IN THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
ELIGIBLE AS SECURITY FOR COUNTY AND CITY DEPOSITS IN WASHINGTON

FINANCIAL STATEMENT
(As Officially Reported)

Actual Value of Taxable Property (Estimated)	$489,908,794.00
Assessed Valuation for purpose of taxation, 1921		$244,954,397.00
Total Bonded Debt (Including this issue)	47,026,800.00
Bonds self-supporting (Including this issue)	37,421,949.60
Net Bonded Debt		9,064,850.40

Popoulation, 1910 U. S. Census 237,979
Population, 1920 U. S. Census (Increase 33%) 315,652

WE RECOMMEND THE PURCHASE OF THESE BONDS FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

1. In the opinion of counsel they are an obligation of the City of Seattle, the principal and interest being payable from the gross revenues of the Municipal Light and Power System. By virtue of the law and the ordinance authorizing the bonds, the interest and principal are made a charge on the gross revenues, to be satisfied before payment is made for operating expenses and depreciation. This law has been upheld by the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, and has been reaffirmed by recent decision of the Federal Court.
2. The Principal and Interest of the authorized issue of which these bonds are a part, together with $10,470,000 bonds issued under other ordinances, are payable from the gross revenues of the entire system now or hereafter owned, which revenues for the five-year period from 1917 to 1921 averaged $1,978,581 annually, equal to about three times the present annual interest requirements. The gross revenues for 1921 were $2,480,000, equivalent to over three and three-quarters times the annual interest requirements.
3. Since the people of Seattle voted to construct a Light and Power System in 1902, these properties have been operated at steadily increasing profits and now constitute a very valuable self-supporting and money-making asset of the City. The total valuation of the entire Municipal Light and Power Plant and System of the City of Seattle as of October 1, 1921, was $19,749,120. With the present issue outstanding the total assets real and personal will amount to $20,754,120.
4. The charge of the interest and principal on the GROSS revenues before any deduction is made for operating expenses, maintenance and depreciation, has been confirmed by the Supreme Court of the State of Washington (the Court of last resort.)

The approving opinion of Chester B. Massilch, Esq., New York City, will be furnished with the bonds.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

INSPECT GREAT MOTOR VESSEL.

Lochkatrine at Pier A is Cynosure of All Eyes.

Largest Diesel-Engined Craft in Service.

Clyde-Built Ship to Ply in World Trade.

Vessel masters, Navy officers and shipping men of Los Angeles Harbor thronged the decks of the great motorship Lochkatrine at Pier A yesterday to inspect the biggest Diesel-engined craft that has ever put in at the local port. The big vessel, on her maiden voyage, is a Clyde-built, twin-screw motorship of 11,200 tons deadweight, the first of a new fleet for the joint service of the Holland-American and Royal Mail Steam Packet lines from European ports to the Pacific Coast. She is under British registry and is commanded by Capt. S. E. Matthews.

Embodying the most modern ideas in motor craft construction, the Lochkatrine is 485 feet long, sixty-two feet beam, with a mean draught of thirty-six feet six inches. Her average speed is twelve and one-half knots.

GREAT OIL CAPACITY.

The vessel has three decks and six hatches, double winches with electric drive on a single shaft being provided for every hatch. Her fuel tanks have a capacity of 1200 tons of oil.

The ship is particularly well equipped for refrigerator service, there being five refrigerator compartments built between decks. Each compartment is controlled separately, making possible a wide range of refrigerator service.

Luxurious accommodations for twelve passengers have been provided by the builders and on the maiden voyage from Rotterdam, from which port the big motorship sailed January 27, the passenger space was taxed to capacity. On the return trip her passenger list will be complete, it is said.

UNLOADS CARGO.

A total of 3000 tons of cargo was being unloaded at Pier A yesterday from the motorship, the chief items being linseed oil, print paper, window glass, pig iron and steel billets. A similar amount of cargo will be unloaded at San Francisco. The combined ship service of the two companies, named the North Pacific Coast Line, have recently announced completion of arrangements for sailings every three weeks, taking apples from the Northwest and citrus fruit from Southern California on the eastbound trips.

PORT NOTES.

Some steamship men of the Pacific Coast are in the establishment of a Honolulu-Manila service by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, following new laws in the Philippines, a step that has been urged by American shipping men for some time in the hope of the extension of the Philippine coastwise laws to the operation of foreign vessels between the Islands and the United States. The object of the move is to encourage the development of trade between the two countries, in order to take care of the increased business that Manila and Honolulu interests are trading between them as the sugar and pineapple plantations.

C. C. Wardell, assistant to President R. P. Schwerin of the United American Lines, has been made secretary and a director of the Atlantic Mail Steamship Company, a subsidiary of the United States and Continental Corporation, formed to take over the Atlantic Mail Line ships, now called the Manhattan and Baltimore.

The Shipping Board has completed statistics covering the construction of ocean vessels of the United States during 1922. The total for the latter year, it is stated, was 1,176,000 tons, as compared with 1,000,000 tons in 1921. This is 1,000

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

Club Meets Tomorrow.

Harmony Sewing Club of Helen Jean Christie Tent, Daughters of Veterans, will be entertained all day tomorrow at the residence of Mrs. Lillian Krosen, 208 East Fifty-fifth street. Luncheon will be served at noon.

World Traders to Dine.

Harbor matters will be discussed tomorrow evening at the dinner given by the World Traders of Los Angeles in Harlow's Cafe. E. H. Tucker, statistician for the First National Bank, will lead the speaking, and President S. L. Kreider of the organization, will preside.

The Lure of the Pen.

Mrs. Alice Harriman, novelist and poet, will give a talk on "The Lure of the Pen" in the Kanst Art Gallery, 824 South Hill street, at 2 p.m., tomorrow. Those interested are invited. Mrs. Harriman is well known to the readers of The Times through her articles on the old mission bells, on which she is an acknowledged authority. She also has had years of experience as a teacher and critic; and, before making Los Angeles her home, she was the only woman publisher of books in the world, with offices in New York City."

EARTHQUAKE HELPS.

Nature Takes Hand in Game of African Golf.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good," is a saying which Bill Robinson, the dark gentleman who shakes such a wicked hoof at the Orpheum this week, has changed to read: "It's a poor earthquake that can't shimmy anyone any good."

Bill runs true to his racial instincts, and is extremely fond of the galloping dominoes. Not long ago, when rolling the bones in the San Francisco Orpheum, Bill had made several passes, and the strain was getting heavy. Presently the pile of currency totaled $150, and Alexander Carr, star of "A Rainy Day," was pleading frantically with the cubes.

Bill gathered his good right arm and shot. One of the dice showed a six, the other stood on edge, wavered a moment—and then, just as it was about to show another six, Mother Earth shook herself, and there were eleven little black spots looking Bill square in the face.

Of course there was an argument, but there seemed to be no precedent anywhere; Hoyle doesn't mention earthquakes, and eventually Bill gathred in the proceeds. Now he goes around praying for another earthquake, and has revised the old adage as above written.

A CITY GIRL, BUT CAN PLAY FARM ONES.

May McAvoy will be seen here starting next Sunday at Clune's Broadway Theater in the role of a humble little country drudge in "A Homespun Vamp."

Miss McAvoy is one actress who cannot point back to childhood's happy days down on the farm or in some inconspicuous village where her rise to fame is the favorite local topic of conversation.

For the clever little actress, who has been recently raised to stellar heights by Realart, is a born and bred New Yorker; in fact previous to going to California to make pictures she had rarely been more than a short distance from the great metropolis.

BIBLE CAUSED ROW, SAYS WIFE.

Plaintiff in Divorce Tells of Quarrel and is Given Decree.

The Bible teaches humility, but in the case of Elizabeth M. Rasor and her husband, William D. Rasor, it precipitated a quarrel, the wife says. The story was told by Mrs. Rasor in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday, where she was granted a divorce.

The Rasors are elderly persons. They married in February, 1921, and separated the following October. Two months after their marriage, Mrs. Rasor says, she was reading the Bible, and her husband told her to stop as it was time to go to bed. She says she replied that she would stop in a few minutes, but he ordered her to go to bed at once. She retorted, she says, that if that were his attitude, she would not stop until she had finished the chapter.

After they retired, she said, he pulled the pillows from beneath her head and threw them on a lighted stove.

Once a discussion of the Arbuckle case caused the wife to remonstrate and she says the husband retorted:

"That is the kind of a woman you are."

NORMA TALMADGE IN TROPICAL SETTING.

Set in the tropical isle of Jamaica, "Love's Redemption," the current attraction at Tally's Broadway Theater with Norma Talmadge, affords the star one of the most picturesque roles of her cinema career. She is cast as a native Jamaica girl.

The story, itself, has a different twist, and to make it more real, the film was actually made in Jamaica. Tropical scenery makes an ideal background for the plot. The story concerns a little native girl, whose chief ambition in life, it seems, is to reform remittance men from England. Trouble comes to her by the handful.

Love interest in the story is supreme. Harrison Ford is the hero and he has a remarkable fine role. Montague Love and Cooper Cliffe are also well cast.

Other features on the program are the news weekly, fourth and final part of "The Cradle of Civilization," pictures, some exclusive views of the Holy Land.

KANSAS LUMBERMEN VISITING PORTLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 21.—Robert A. Long and a party of officials of the Long-Bell Lumber Company of Kansas City arrived from the East Monday and today were inspecting timber properties in the lower Columbia River district. Long and his party were visitors in the Northwest several weeks ago and it was reported at that time that negotiations for the properties of the Hammond Lumber Company in Oregon and California to the Long-Bell Lumber Company were about to be closed for a consideration of approximately $15,000,000.

Don't Starve the Teeth

Food that must be chewed is the best food because it insures complete digestion and develops sound teeth and healthy gums. The longer you chew the more nutriment you will get out of it and the more delicious it will taste. Contains all the lime-salts for making sound teeth. Sixty-five per cent of all school children have defective teeth—that means low vitality and poorly nourished bodies.

Two Biscuits with milk or cream make a complete nourishing meal. Delicious with peaches, berries, raisins, prunes, sliced bananas and other fruits. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat cracker—a real whole wheat toast—eaten with butter & soft cheese.

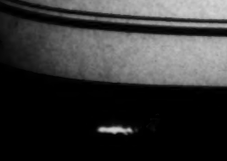
For Young Men On the Way Up



MEN who have "arrived" have very definite ideas about the value of correct clothes--and also their correct value.

That is one reason why Mullen and Bluett clothes have come to be identified with successful men.

But Mullen and Bluett clothes also play a great part in the daily lives of young men "on the way up"—giving them the appearance of prosperity, (which is the first step to commanding it) giving invaluable lessons on the economy of quality.

FARAWAY PILL POPS McADOO.

Pasadena Golfer Scores Direct Windshield Hit; Inter-City Tube Proposed.

William Gibbs McAdoo is thinking of building a tube between Pasadena and Los Angeles.

At least he was yesterday for a while. That is if he continues to live in Pasadena and have his new law offices in Los Angeles.

Anyway, this is what happened:

He was driving to town in a touring car, seated in front with his chauffeur. They were passing the Raymond.

"Pop, crash, smash, patter," went the windshield. Glass all over the lap of the one-time Secretary of the Treasury and erstwhile Director-General of railroads.

The Raymond has golf links.

If it had hit higher up it might have thrown the glass in his face; as it was it fell onto his lap and around he legs. He picked up a golf ball, which was rolling about on the floor like a roulette pill. It was a nice, new golf ball so Mr. McAdoo put it into his pocket.

Now, Mr. McAdoo having built the Hudson Tube knows something about physics, straight lines being the shortest distance and all that. So he looked in the right direction and saw a golfer. The golfer wore knickerbockers that looked new and too short—nothing is so irritating as too-short knickerbockers. Perhaps for that reason he was waving his club and yelling something, probably "fore."

Mr. McAdoo is said to have leaned out of the car and yelled something back.

Let us hope it was "fore."

DAMAGE SUIT DISMISSED.

The statement that the $10,000 damage suit of George Gould against Policemen G. A. Lind and D. A. Baker and former Chief of Police Home would be dismissed led to the action being stricken off the calendar in Judge Valentine's court yesterday. Mr. Gould said the officers attacked him when they entered his store at the time a crap game was said to have been in progress. The officers stated no more force than necessary to make an arrest was used.

L. A. MERCHANTS IN FEDERAL NET.

Conspiracy is Charged in Army Goods Sale.

U. S. Atty. Burke Does Not Wait for Grand Jury.

Three in Toils While Hunt is on for Fourth.

Not waiting for the action of the Federal grand jury in the investigation of the asserted Camp Kearny army sales frauds, U. S. Atty. Burke yesterday swore out a warrant before U. S. Commissioner Long charging Benjamin B. Sugarman, connected with the Fair, Inc., on South Broadway, and Dan and Joe Greenburg, in business at 109 East Fourth street, with conspiracy to defraud the government in attempting to purchase government property at less than 50 per cent of its real value. Their arrests followed. The exact amount involved was not given.

Another defendant, Ike Greenburg, is in San Francisco, and will be taken into custody there. The arrests here were made by Dep. U. S. Marshal Monteleone. The three defendants were arraigned before Commissioner Long and each furnished bonds of $10,000.

The conspiracy charge asserts a combination to violate section 37 of the Federal Penal Code, and charges the defendants with wilfully and fraudulently combining to defraud the government of the United States of a large sum of money.

ARMY PROPERTY SOLD.

The property enumerated consists of clothing, equipage, vehicles, leather harness, machinery, etc., in charge of Max A. Elser, Major, Quartermaster Corps, Western Supply and Property Control Officer, of Fort Mason, Cal.

It is charged in the complaint that the defendants conspired to procure the appointment of Dan Greenburg to act as official auctioneer, who under the arrangement was to manipulate the sales so as they would bring to the defendants and to their agents the goods at a price far below their value, estimated to be less than 50 per cent.

It is charged that Sugarman, acting with the defendants last January 6, arranged for a meeting with Max A. Elser, and that last February 18, it was arranged that one, J. Rance should proceed from Los Angeles to San Diego, for the purpose of carrying out certain features of the conspiracy.

GOODS VALUABLE.

It is understood that the real value of the goods that it was intended should be transferred to the defendants is about $100,000, and that the bid by the accused was about $46,000. Later, the delivery of the goods was stopped by Secretary of War Weeks, and Col. Glenn E. Edgerton, Director of Sales, of the War Department, and Col. E. L. Phillips, chief inspector of the Ninth Army Corps Area, were sent here o investigate the charges of collusion.

CRIME WAVE IS LAID TO LAW DELAY

Pastor at City Club Says Congested Courts Encourage Offenders.

Los Angeles, in common with other parts of the country, is experiencing a wave of crime, due to a breakdown in the criminal procedure in the courts, Rev. Carl S. Patton, pastor of the First Congregational Church, said yesterday at the noon luncheon of the City Club. He cited as examples of the difficulty in securing convictions and the varying conclusions of juries the Arbuckle case, where the first jury stood eleven to one for acquittal and the second jury ten to two for conviction.

"Today in California," said Dr. Patton, "our criminal court proceedings certainly tend to encourage the criminal element. The courts are far behind in their dockets. There are delays and delays until finally the offender goes free. A real reform is needed in our criminal procedure, and public opinion must be aroused to demand it."

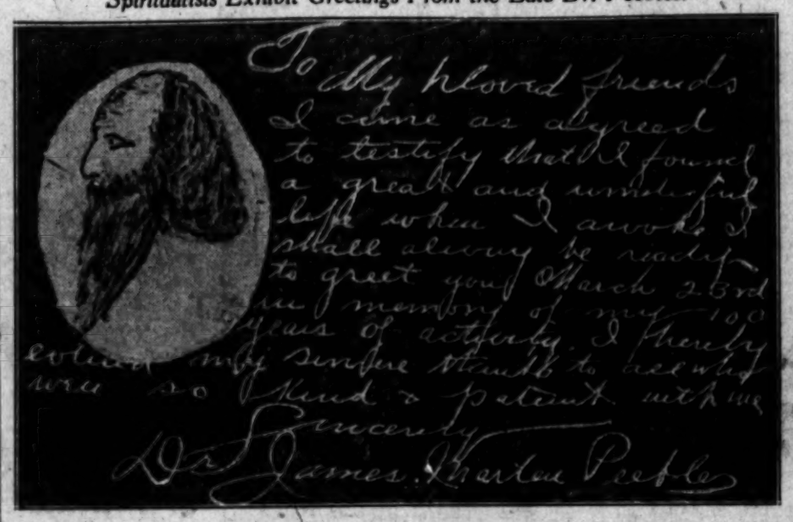
STOLEN GOODS AWAIT OWNERS.

Confiscated Loot Held at Police Station for Identification.

Clothing, jewelry and silverware contained in seventeen grips and suit cases seized by police in a raid where three persons were arrested on burglary charges several nights ago, will be placed on exhibit in the detective bureau at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Detective Sergeants Thompson and Marden request that persons who have had articles stolen attempt to identify their property. Some of the silverware has the monograms, "C," "B" and "S."

RECEIVE .. MESSAGE .. FROM .. HEREAFTER.

Spiritualists Exhibit Greetings From the Late Dr. Peebles.



Here's Notice from Heaven.

Writing on slate is believed by friends of the late leader to be his work.

FOR the second time since his death last February 15, Dr. James Martin Peebles, spiritualist leader, has exchanged greetings with his flock of followers on earth, according to the followers. This time the message came in the form of a green crayon greeting scratched on a slate. The departed spiritualist also drew a picture of himself.

From what could be gathered yesterday Dr. Edward K. Earle, psychic of 624 West Eighth street, and W. J. Waterhouse, of the same address, who have the slate writing, Dr. Peebles in the message agrees to attend a centennial jubilee memorial to be given in his honor in the Philharmonic Auditorium Building tomorrow at 7:45 p.m.

In the first message that was received some weeks ago, Dr. Peebles professed to be very busy greeting old friends, and, from the outline of his daily calls, meeting, and debates, must have been rushing about the golden streets one of the busiest man in heaven.

The writing on the slate reads:

"To my beloved friends I come as agreed to testify that I found a great and wonderful life where I awoke. I shall always be ready to greet you March 23, in memory of my 100 years of activity. I hereby extend my sincere thanks to all who were so kind and patient with me."

[Signed,]

FLEET WILL ENGAGE IN GUN WORK.

Admiral Eberle Lays Out Plan for Practice Runs and Firing.

The California, flagship of Admiral Eberle, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet, will start practice runs today in company with the New York and Texas, in which night and day battle practice will be indulged in.

All divisions of the fleet will have long-range battle practice runs on March 27. March 29 the California, New Mexico, Idaho, Tennessee and Oklahoma will have their official trial runs over the course at Catalina Island. On March 30, the New York and Oklahoma will have their official rehearsal runs.

April 3 the California will fire the first spotting practice and on April 4 there will be practice runs for all divisions. On the 5th the Arizona will fire her spotting practice for long-range battle. Seaplanes will be overhead to do the spotting. On April 6 the Arizona, Mississippi and Nevada will have official rehearsals, and on April 7, all divisions will indulge in practice runs. On the 10th the Sixth and Seventh Divisions will have practice runs.

Then the fireworks actually begin. The California, New Mexico, Idaho and Tennessee will fire at long-range battle practice. This is a new target practice and will be tried out this year for the first time.

Practically every sort of craft at the local naval base will be worked into play in this new scheme. There will be tugs, tenders, eagle boats, seaplanes, both spotting and camera.

The New York, Texas and Oklahoma will fire their strings on April 12, while the following day will see the Arizona, Mississippi and Nevada in action. The long-range battle practice will be fired over a span of 20,000 yards, or approximately eleven miles. This will, of course, only include the fourteen-inch guns.

Commanding officers of all ships are whipping their crews into shape for this, the greatest of all drills in the Navy. Since the ultimate aim of the Navy is efficiency in battle, officers are eager to make a better showing in this important exercise than in anything in which the vessels of the fleets indulge. To lead the Navy or a fleet in gunnery is the highest tribute a ship can have, and it also speaks well for the commanding officer.

In the individual day firing last year the Mississippi stood fourth in the Pacific trophy. But as a whole, counting all practices, she fell down on the other fires as Utah led the Atlantic fleet last year in individual day practice, but fell down on the other fires as did the Mississippi. The Pennsylvania was high ship in all practices last year for the Atlantic fleet, and the New Mexico was high for the Pacific.

SEEIN' THINGS

[Why not share your chuckle with others? When you see something unusual, drop a note about it to the City Editor of The Times. Then we all can smile.]

C. H. J. saw a runaway flivver without a driver chase a woman pedestrian from the sidewalk to a street car at Sixteenth Street and Grand avenue. The fliv then crashed into a drug-store window and quit.

K. T. and J. S. saw a laughing group standing near a bootblack's stand near First and Broadway. Then they heard the colored bootblack calling, "Shine Yo Nex," and he wondered why they laughed.

• • •

R. W. B. spotted a sign on a West Seventh street market window which tells the world that "Cheese" is sold there.

• • •

F. W. B. while on a Tenth Avenue car saw the motorman suddenly set his brakes, stop the car and run to the curb where he examined a parked auto. "Thought it was one stolen from me a month ago," he explained.

• • •

G. S. T. was not startled when he read "Jeweler" on a Main Street sign, but when, farther on he read "Ford Parts for Sale" he wondered if flivver yachts were to dot the deep.

WHAT DID YOU SEE?

Blaze Started by Embers from Smoker's Pipe.

The plant of the Southern California Metal and Rubber Company, 2300 East Eleventh street, was destroyed by fire and damage estimated at $100,000, resulted yesterday afternoon.

Two alarms were sent in and tremendous efforts were made by the fire fighters to keep the flames from spreading to adjacent property. Embers from a pipe thrown on a pile of gunny sacks are believed to have originated the fire.

Twenty employees aided the fire department. The loading platforms became ignited and spread to three freight cars on a rear siding. The metal and rubber plant occupies a frontage of approximately 300 feet, and the flames, spread by a fairly strong breeze, rapidly spread to all parts of the plant.

M. Tannenbaum and Louis Jacobson, proprietors of the company, stated that the loss was partially covered by insurance.

STANFORD BAND TO PLAY.

The Stanford University band will give concerts at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater all of next week. It will be the first appearance of the band in this city since 1915. It is composed of students from every State in the Union, many from Southern California.

CITY'S BEAUTIES IN TIMES SUNDAY

Los Angeles Winners in the Beauty Quest Will be Seen in Rotogravure.

Who are the six most beautiful girls in Los Angeles city and county?

Next Sunday's Times Rotogravure Section will have their photographs; a striking page of the Southland's fairest city's fairest. They have been adjudged winners in The Times Beauty Quest, in the two districts comprising this immediate vicinity.

You will want to save the page, and compare the photos with the grand prize winners, to be published later, to see if you agree with the judges' awards.

OBENCHAIN JURY QUIZ DROPPED.

Madalynne's Retrial Set for June Fifth; Burch to Face Judge Monday.

Investigation by the District Attorney's office of statements by jurors in the case of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, accused of the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was dropped yesterday after a conference between Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church; Dist.-Atty. Woolwine and Chief Deputy Doran.

One of the jurywomen, it was stated, had informed the District Attorney that Mrs. Grace Ward, one of three jurors who held out for acquittal, had stated that she had talked for an hour with Ralph Obenchain, former husband, and one of the attorneys for Mrs. Obenchain. It was also stated that Dr. Brougher had told Mrs. Ward that he believed "Burch guilty, but not Mrs. Obenchain," and that he had prayed with Mrs. Ward to give her strength in deciding her vote. On Monday Mrs. Ward said that she met Mr. Obenchain at the church office, where she called to pay her dues, and had but a four-minute talk, not about the case. She denied Dr. Brougher had expressed an opinion about the case.

Dr. Brougher yesterday stated that he had not given an opinion about the case to Mrs. Ward, but that he did pray, with her for guidance at her request.

Mrs. Obenchain was to have made a talk at the church, but the address was not given. It was revealed yesterday that Mr. Woolwine had protested to Dr. Brougher about the giving of the talk. It was never given, but Mr. Obenchain was mentioned from the pulpit.

The second trial of Mrs. Obenchain was set yesterday by Judge Reeve for June 5. The long continuance was necessary, it was stated, because of other trials that have been continued from time to time. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Keyes appeared for the State and Jud R. Rush, A. F. McDonald and Mr. Obenchain for the defendant.

Arthur C. Burch, co-defendant of Mrs. Obenchain, is scheduled to appear in Judge Reeve's court on Monday for the beginning of his second trial. In both Mrs. Obenchain's and Burch's first trials the juries failed to agree and were discharged.

NAB MURDER SUSPECT IN PASADENA.

Father Identifies Watch and Clothing on Man as Those of Slain Son.

Sevano Telles stopped a stranger on the street yesterday in Pasadena and inquired the time of day. The stranger displayed a gold watch, Telles looked at it and fifteen minutes later caused the arrest of the stranger on a charge of having murdered his son, Martin Telles, 17 years old. The boy's body, unclothed and with the skull crushed, was found in a reservoir near the Pasadena electric light plant.

Martin Telles disappeared from his Pasadena home on March 4. His mother had given him a dollar with instructions to have his hair cut. Instead, he went to a motion picture show.

The father met the stranger, who later gave his name as Esedereo Moreno, on the downtown streets. He noticed that Moreno wore a suit of clothes similar to the suit in which the missing son was last seen. Then he remembered his boy's watch and asked Moreno the time. The watch and the clothes were identified as the missing boy's. The reservoir, located near the Telles home, was drained, and the body was found. Death had been inflicted by blows on the head with a blunt instrument.

Moreno, who is being held in the County Jail on suspicion of murder, explained that the clothes and the watch had been given to him by another Mexican who had picked them up on the edge of the reservoir.

MILLIONS FOR TELEPHONES.

Directors Set Aside Huge Sum for Quick Work.

New Equipment at Eight Central Stations.

Two Hundred Thousand for Underground Jobs.

Following a meeting of the board of directors of the Southern California Telephone Company, Chairman G. E. McFarland yesterday announced authorized expenditures aggregating $1,791,250. This is in addition to approximately $2,250,000 appropriated at the January meeting of the board.

The sum of $970,000 was specifically appropriated for central office equipment in the Hollywood, Vermont, Olive, Adams, Boyle, Wilshire, West and Prospect offices.

For additional underground construction an amount approximating $191,000 was set aside, the largest item being $66,100 for work on Stephenson avenue. Additional aerial wires and cables will cost in excess of $52,000, new construction between the Garvanza and Occidental exchanges absorbing $25,820 of this amount.

Approximately $108,000 was appropriated for building improvement and additions, divided among the Hollywood, Vermont, Garvanza, Prospect and Daly exchanges.

The balance of the entire appropriation was allotted to various smaller items of the construction program now fully under way.

The telephone company has announced a $9,000,000 extension and improvement schedule for 1922. Its appropriations of more than $4,000,000 to date in the year indicate an adherence to the company's plans which cannot but result in an improved and extended service. To the construction program calling for the expenditure of $750,000 per month, is added a monthly pay roll of nearly $600,000.

OFFICER "TANTALIZED."

Reckless Speeder Loses Race and is Arrested.

Drinking bitters led to reckless driving and reckless driving led to a collision. The collision on San Fernando Road led to the arrest of M. J. Donovan, 46, a film actor, and Police Judge Chambers yesterday imposed a fine of $250.

M. Mudgett, who was accused by Officer Proctor of "tantalizing" him into a race on the crowded thoroughfare leading from the Beverly Hills Speedway last Sunday was fined $50 by Judge Chambers for reckless driving.

HOOVER FINDS TREATY SUPPORT

Los Angeles Citizens Show Attitude Toward Pact.

Thousands Voice Approval of Its Ratification.

Secretary of Commerce Has Busy Day in City.

Twice yesterday in Los Angeles Secretary of Commerce Hoover received incontestable, overwhelming proof that representative men and women of Southern California enthusiastically favor the Senate of the United States ratifying the four-power pact.

Speaking to more than 1000 members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon given in his hobor at the Alexandria, he stirred his hearers to hearty cheers for the treaty when he asserted:

"We entertain high hopes of a reduction of costs of government and of a definite step toward the permanent peace of the world with the ratification in the Senate of the treaty."

And, two hours later, before nearly 800 prominent club women of Los Angeles and neighboring cities, Mr. Hoover's confident statement, "I have no fear that this treaty will not be ratified by the Senate," brought an instant response of applause from the women that was prolonged to give emphasis to their indorsement of his views.

The Disarmament Conference and the four-power treaty were discussed by Mr. Hoover as phases of the efforts of the Harding administration and of the forward-looking governments of the world to regain domestic and international stability and prosperity.

CHEERING IS PROLONGED.

In his Chamber of Commerce address he inspired hearty commendation when he asserted that industrial and business conditions in the United States are decidedly on the up-grade, having successfully passed "the danger point of depression last July."

Mr. Hoover touched virtually all of the outstanding national problems, including taxation, unemployment, deflation, credit, for Europe, financial aid for farmers, rehabilitation of war-torn nations and the obligation of America to lend its strength wisely in regaining normal world conditions.

Commenting on the possibility of a coal strike, he asserted that "the bituminous coal situation has fallen into a vicious circle constantly tightening its grip until the nation now faces the greatest coal crisis in its history."

Explaining that a coal miner works, on an average, 182 days a year; that there are approximately 40 per cent more coal mines being operated than are needed and that 40 per cent more men are employed than necessary, Mr. Hoover said that a solution of the situation must be found, first in "stabilizing capital and reducing speculation, and second, in stabilizing wage

The Little Red Pump-Handle Fills it and Cleans it.

THE Dunn-Pen holds such oodles of ink that you seldom have to fill it. But when you do—simply stick it into the ink bottle and pump it full with the Little Red Pump-Handle. It beats the old-time fussing and frequent fillings by forty ways.

The Dunn-Pen cleans itself automatically! That's one reason why it never floods, clogs, sputters, nor stutters, why it always writes smoothly and evenly.

The Dunn-Pen will write till the cows come home. It has four sturdy major parts—no levers to break, no springs to weaken.

Impersonating Federal Men is Charged.

City Clean-ups Staged by Pair, Say Witnesses.

Witnesses and interested spectators crowded the courtroom of U. S. Commissioner Long yesterday to give and hear testimony against W. S. Jeffreys and A. W. Metz, jointly charged with impersonating government officers by posing as members of a "dry" squad engaged in cleaning up Southern California bootleggers.

Both men, it was asserted, obtained work in Pasadena, Venice, Santa Monica, Santa Ana, Long Beach, Fullerton, and other points as special officers engaged in "dry" work. In fact, the documents in possession of the Federal officers show, they say, that they covered the entire territory south of the Tehachapi.

The charged doings of Jeffreys at Fullerton and Long Beach occupied the attention of the court and all of the witnesses testified that Jeffreys had represented himself as a Federal officer. There was no evidence against Metz during the day, except the statement of J. E. Doty, a druggist of Fullerton, who thought he recognized Metz at the City Jail, where he was taken following his arrest.

DOCTORS TESTIFY.

Dr. R. B. Graves of Fullerton testified that Jeffreys came to him complaining of being sick and insisted upon getting a prescription for whisky which the witness gave him. The doctor was afterward arrested and fined $300. He said that Jeffreys had represented himself as a government officer engaged in surveying.

Dr. B. C. Cowles of Fullerton testified that he contributed $300 for writing a whisky prescription at the urgent request of Jeffreys. He, too, declared that the defendant, Jeffreys, represented himself as a Federal agent.

J. E. Doty, a druggist, entered as evidence a check for $300, for for illegal sale of liquor, he stated.

HOTEL GUEST FINED.

Hugo Parshall of Detroit, a visitor at the Virginia Hotel, Long Beach, said he met Jeffreys on the strand and the latter offered to show him a good time, but it would be necessary for him to get a quart of whisky for Jeffreys. Parshall said he bought the stuff, for which he paid $10, and was immediately arrested and taken before Police Judge Hawkins, who promptly fined him $1000 on two counts of a bootlegging charge. Parshall declared that Jeffreys told him he was a Federal officer and advised him to plead guilty, which he did, the accused telling him that the fine would be light and if he put up a fight, he would be taken before the Federal Court in Los Angeles.

Sergt. Llewellyn of the Long Beach police said he heard Jeffreys represent himself as a Federal officer to prisoners he brought to the City Jail.

Additional charges have been filed charging similar activities against Jeffreys and Metz, operating at Santa Monica and Venice, and against Jeffreys alone at Santa Ana.

DISLIKE OF AUNT TOLD AT HEARING

Letter of Daughter to Father Read in Wendt Guardianship Case.

While it was apparent that Miss Margaret Wendt was not cordially disposed toward her Aunt Carrie, it was not until the close of yesterday's proceedings in Judge Rives's Probate Court that Miss Wendt herself brought out the fact. While she was on the stand, under cross-examination at the hands of Milton K. Young, he produced a typewritten letter which Miss Wendt wrote her father from Lockport, N. Y. In part it read:

"Dear Father: I cannot begin to tell you how dumbfounded I was to hear you had invited Aunt Carrie and Mrs. Kreinheder to be our traveling companions. I cannot see how you could be so inconsiderate of mother's and my pleasure. Of all times, when one is traveling, if ever one wants congenial company, Aunt Carrie is the last person in the world I would tolerate as a traveling companion.

"You must have noticed I have no use for her. I don't even care to play a game of cards with her. Then how could I stand her for several weeks at a stretch, day after day, and three meals a day? It would make travel a perfect nightmare. I would a hundred times rather stay home. Did you ever know one of Aunt Carrie's sisters to travel with her?"

Aunt Carrie is now standing by Mr. Wendt, wealthy business man of Buffalo, N. Y. Mr. Wendt, who was declared mentally sick by the Lunacy Commission, is fighting the petition of his daughter, Margaret, to be appointed guardian of his person.

Miss Wendt also stated that once her father expressed a desire to go to South America, because it was warm there. He packed four large boxes with bonds. She said she did not fear for the bonds so much as her father's safety. It also appeared during the trial that Mr. Wendt had started for El Paso with $168,00 in cash and bonds, proposing to travel through Mexico and eventually to reach South America.

Mr. Wendt declares he is able to look after his own interests. The case will be resumed this afternoon.

BOY ACTOR FOUND.

Jackie Wilson, eight-year-old cinema actor, who was lost Sunday at Venice, yesterday was found at the beach city. He returned to his mother, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, 7168 Hughes avenue, Culver City. It was reported to the Sheriff's office that the boy wanted to sell morning papers and started out to do so.

Own Your Own Home

Dreams that come true—are the ones that we are wise enough to weave into glowing substance, bringing them out of the Infinite into the Real.

The joys of the present—the flower that blooms today—the friendship that strengthens us now—the present relaxation and inspiration of our very own charming home—these are the things of which true happiness is blended. These are the things that encourage us to make each day a more successful day, leading us on step by step to our ultimate goal.

Of all the golden hopes of life that may be aptly told in terms of the material—The Home Ideal—is paramount. Dependent solely upon our will, it is certain of realization.

Owning your own home—and making it a Better Home—is also a social asset, because it is a living daily expression—not so much of your finances, as of your inherent taste, longings and good judgment.

Created by a really good selection of furnishings that mean lasting satisfaction, holding the harmony of decoration that cheers, that rests, that inspires our particular temperament, the Better Home is at once an Incentive and a Reward.

New Casement Nets

Fashion's latest dictate is that a window covering should have a decorative value in addition to its practical value as a window "veiling."

This dictate leads many decorators to experiment with casement cloth curtains trimmed with some artistic fringe. But lack of transparency, inherent in any woven fabric, has proved casement cloth better fitted to replace the ordinary roller shade than to serve as a window veiling.

So now appears the new development—Casement Net Curtains! Curtains of a decorative yet highly transparent net, given an enhanced decorative value by a delightful fringe or other artistic trimming.

A varied assortment of New Casement Nets will be found at Barker Bros.'—both by the yard and in made Curtains.

—Nets are priced from 95c to $1.35 a yard.
—Curtains are from $7.50 to $18.50 a pair.

THE WRONG VIEW.

Over in Europe the Communists are saying that America does not participate in the Genoa conference because it is broke. This, of course, is piffle. Uncle Sam may be a trifle bent, but he is far from being broke. Part of his objection to the Genoa conference is the fear that he may be held up by indigent nephews.

SENIOR WRANGLERS.

The Senate Judiciary Committee cannot agree on the eligibility of Senator Smoot and Congressman Burton on the debt-refunding commission. Is there anything in the world that the Senatorial solons can agree upon? Can they hold together on the law of gravitation? Talk about a House divided! Look at the Senate.

WAR BRIDES.

Another regiment of the American army of occupation is on the way back from Coblenz. There are sixty-five flaxen-haired German brides accompanying the troops. If the American soldiers were once enemies the German girls feel that the best way to overcome them is to marry them. At that, they may live scrappily ever after.

BELL TOLD.

The Bell wether of the California Democracy may lead his flock into the Republican fold. With Theodore Bell registering as a Republican, for whom will the Democrats vote for Governor? Bell rings out a clear new note when he says that the Republican party has a foreign policy that makes for world peace. That is what counts with the average voter.

FORGIVING DEBTORS.

Otto Kahn, the big New York banker, is now of the opinion that Uncle Sam should forgive his debtors the trifling sum of $11,000,000,000 they are owing him. He thinks we not only Kahn, but Otto make it easier for Europe. But the banker does not mean to wipe off the obligations and clear the slate at one fell sweep. There must be a clearinghouse of indebtedness. All international obligations must be wiped out in the same manner. If America eases the obligation of France there must be leniency on the part of France for Germany and Russia. There can be an exchange of obligations, credits and commodities that would put the world on a reasonably even financial keel and restore exchange to something like its normal value. By that time Europe would once more be on a production basis and the drift toward anarchy be thoroughly checked. According to the New York banker, until something is really done on this debt-adjusting program there can be no world stability.

THE WORD BUILDER.

Herbert Hoover's alert mind and personal activities have left their impression on the language of the country. Brother Hoover is twice a verb and once a noun. He might also stand up for an exclamation. During the war the whole country knew what it was to Hooverize. It doesn't stand for parsimony or niggardliness. It means a sensible program of economy. A freedom from suspicion of waste. It is thrift without miserliness. So many of us Hooverized. In Europe to Hoover meant to hover over. To Hoover was to behave like a guardian angel. It implied a serene and sane protection over the weak and the suffering. Being Hoovered was to be watched and guarded by the little brother of omniscience. Then there is Hoover, the noun. A Hoover is a guy who does something when you ain't looking that you're proud of when you wake up. A Hoover is one whom you learn to depend upon. He is the hinge of the trunk; the rudder of the ship of state. Hoover! the exclamation, explains itself. Thus it may be seen that, if Herbert Hoover is a man of comparatively few words, he is ruler over many.

HELPING HAND FOR AUSTRIA.

There is a disposition in both the Democratic and Republican press of the country to take kindly to the Lodge resolution extending the time for the repayment by Austria of the loan made to her by this government two years ago in the form of wheat credits. The reports of our government agents in Vienna are to the effect that the Austrian people are in sore straits. The country was impoverished by the World War and the commitments of the Treaty of Versailles rest heavily upon her. But her people are struggling manfully to maintain a stable government and to again become self-supporting.

Austria's collapse is only second to that of Russia. The Treaty of Versailles deprived her as a state of two-thirds of her former territory and population. The war left her hopelessly in debt and, with her restricted productive power, a payment of her former obligations is probably impossible. But the credit for wheat shipments dates from the period since the war. When it was given, her people were literally starving and it was an act of humanity rather than a business transaction.

Austria is still in a bad way and the American people would be the last ones to ask for payments that would deprive hungry women and children of food and raiment. Our taxes are now heavy, but the burden is not so great that we would seek to lighten them by removing the straw that the Austrian loan represents. So long as the Austrian people show an earnest desire to improve their present economic and industrial condition they will find us lenient creditors.

AN APOSTLE OF HATRED.

Senator Johnson's embittered attack upon the Treaty of Washington and the American commissioners who took the leading part in its negotiation has not seriously endangered ratification, for his influence in the Senate is limited to his own vote; but it has given to the country and the world a glaring example of the effects of gangrened political ambition.

Two years ago Senator Johnson was a candidate for the Republican nomination for President. When his name was presented to the national convention it was greeted with jeers and hisses; for hundreds of the assembled delegates recalled his revolt against the convention choice in 1912 and his treachery to the head of the Republican ticket in 1916.

Senator Johnson has since been nursing his resentment against the Republican leaders who refused to indorse his candidacy and against President Harding for carrying away the prize. His one ambition in life now seems to be to get revenge against those who might have made him President. To that one passion all else, country, State, even honor, is sacrificed.

When Senator Johnson read the text of the Treaty of Washington he doubtless recognized that its ratification by the Senate would be equivalent to enrolling on the scroll of world-famous statesmen two names, those of President Harding and Secretary Hughes. It would be accepted as a personal triumph for those whom he regards as his hated political rivals.

Revenge offers the only plausible explanation for his opposition to a document which has been hailed by general acclaim as a notable advance in the direction of international harmony and world peace. This alone can explain why almost the whole of his harangues are directed, not against the treaty itself, but against the American statesmen responsible for it. This alone explains why he prefers another world war to an association formed in the interests of peace.

It is said that no other Senator has received so many protests from his constituents against his attitude toward the treaty. Senator Johnson must be aware that the sentiment in his home State is almost unanimous in favor of the Treaty of Washington. But he tears up the appeals and demands for ratification and delivers addresses seething with hate and running the whole gamut of forensic vituperation. To him the crime of the treaty is not what it contains, but the fact that Harding and Hughes should have negotiated it.

Elected from a Republican State and claiming membership in the Republican party, he has deserted his colleagues and is fighting in the trenches with a group of Democrats who are opposing the treaty for partisan motives. Like Johnson, they fear that its ratification will add luster to the prestige of Harding and Hughes.

What term should be applied to one who thus betrays his party and his country to gratify a spirit of personal revenge? We shall limit our response to that question by giving the definition appearing in the Century Dictionary of the word "traitor"—"One who betrays any trust; a person guilty of perfidy or treachery; one who violates confidence reposed in him."

LENTEN SACRIFICES.

The word Lent means "spring" and it is the name given to the great spring fast appointed by the Christian religion.

In those early devout days of Christianity it was observed as a period of fast before Easter, not only as a commemoration of our Lord's fasting days in the wilderness, but as a preparation for the joyful celebrations of the Resurrection. Those old Christians performed it by abstaining from food until the evening of each day—excluding Sundays—since Sunday is always a festival and not a fast.

The modern way of fasting, when it is practiced at all, is to abstain from meat—often a subject of scornful criticism on the part of those who do not observe it. Yet, while abstinence from flesh may mean a very small deprivation, it is nevertheless an act of self-discipline, a reminder, a trifle, but nevertheless a support to the soul. Fasting is not an end in itself. It is but the means to an end.

"What advantage is it," wrote St. Chrysostom, "if we have kept the fast without mending our morals. If another say, 'I have kept the fast through the whole of Lent,' say thou, 'I had an enemy and I am reconciled with him. I had a custom of reviling and I have left it off.' It is of no advantage to fast if our fasting do not produce such fruits as these."

But today austerity is out of date. Personal sin is out of date. There is a tendency to excuse, to gloss over our personal sins, to attribute them to heredity, to environment, to psychology, to some outside influence which we cannot control. Anyway, we are not to blame, and the less said about it the better.

But Christianity puts an individual responsibility upon every soul. It insists upon the fact of personal sin. And at the beginning of Lent it bids us commune with ourselves, to be mindful of our faults and sins, to acknowledge our wrong-doing, to make every endeavor to right the wrongs we do. It does not admonish us to morbidly weep about ourselves as miserable sinners, but rather to take practical stock of ourselves, our weaknesses and our strength, to pray for forgiveness and guidance, to make amends, start afresh, turn over a new leaf. And the Lenten fast, the great spring fast, is symbolic of the tilling of the ground, the preparation for the new planting, the clearing, plowing, raking and hoeing which attend all nature in this fair expectant period.

It matters not so much how much eating we forego, how many tangible, petty sacrifices we make, so long as we are making some sacrifice of the spirit, some sacrifice of vanity and intolerance, of false pride, of evil habits, of petty falsities, some spiritual sacrifices to goodness, to nobility, to those precious principles without which humanity cannot survive.

That is the meaning of Lent. That is the spirit of the Lenten sacrifices. And we are now passing through these days on the spiritual calendar. Days in which we shall find it of immeasurable advantage to treat ourselves to a little self-discipline, to be frank with ourselves, even stern with ourselves—and to recall, each and all of us, our individual personal responsibility to God.

RUINS OF FORT PILLOW.

The court in an eastern city is called upon to decide whether a folding bed is a deadly weapon. It is deadly when loaded. That seems to have been determined by the evidence in this particular case. At any rate, two heavyweights were badly hurt during the entanglement and breakdown.

SAVE THIS BEAUTY SPOT!

The fate of the Arroyo Seco will be decided at the City Hall this morning.

At that time it will be known whether this charming bit of wild woods is to be turned into a factories district and given over to the din and destruction of rock crushers.

An ordinance has been recommended by the Public Welfare Committee of the City Council officially transforming the Arroyo into an industrial district.

The cries of alarm raised by the many volunteer Paul (and Pauline) Reveres may not be wholly understood by readers of The Times who have not lived here long enough to know just what the Arroyo Seco is and what its destruction would signify.

It is the bed of a river that flows from the edge of Pasadena down to Avenue Nineteen, where it joins the Los Angeles River. In the winter this stream is sometimes a raging torrent; but in summer it is nearly dry. The torrents of the past winters have cut deep banks which twist and turn as it flows toward the sea.

This sunken river has been one of the most charming and beautiful bits of woodland to be found in the world. Almost in the heart of the city, it is a fragrant and woodsy little wilderness, picturesque with old gray sycamores. Probably no single spot in the whole of America has been more painted by artists.

It was as natural a parkway as Riverside Drive in New York. It was, as you might say, a beautiful, winding, picturesque park, ready-made and presented to the city of Los Angeles by Old Mother Nature. Is the gift to be refused?

Not only was the Arroyo of great natural beauty, but it was known to nature lovers as a famous bird refuge, where hundreds of varieties of native California birds found their homes. In every way it was unique—a fascinating little wilderness in the midst of a crowded city.

Some fifteen years ago an attempt was made on the part of public-spirited citizens to have the whole Arroyo bed set apart as a public park. This fell through.

The terrific floods of 1914 destroyed many of the old sycamores. Since then rock crushers, feeding upon the cobble stones that have rolled down the bed of the river in the freshets, have caused more damage—not to mention an infernal noise.

As a matter of fact, a rock crusher has been at work in the Arroyo near Sycamore Grove for many years.

The residents of that district now demand that it be driven out; the rock crusher people have persuaded the Welfare Committee of the Council to open the way for more rock crushers and for every variety of factory by recommending the passage of the ordinance to create an industrial district in the midst of this quiet area of homes. The defense of the rock crusher people is that they are straightening the bed of the river and safeguarding it against possible floods too profuse for the Devil's Gate Dam to hold.

At any rate, the melancholy fact remains that there is probably no other place in the world like this little wild woods in the heart of the city; and it is in danger of extinction.

THE TWENTIETH AMENDMENT.

Set in motion by the National Woman's party in December, the movement to incorporate in the Constitution of the United States a Twentieth Amendment has agitated circles of women everywhere in the United States. The waves of perturbation have reached Los Angeles. The proposed Twentieth Amendment is a question for discussion on many a woman's club program for the coming months.

Providing that no political, civil or legal disabilities or inequalities on account of sex or on account of marriage, unless applying alike to both sexes, shall exist within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction and that Congress shall have power to enforce the article by appropriate legislation, the project, on casual reading, appears innocent enough.

But already, in the short time since the initial agitation, it provides the spectacle of women divided against women. The cleavage is a greater one even than the one before the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment. The principles involved are very different. This project is a terrible and terrifying boomerang.

Among other alarming discoveries, it has occurred to the women who have considered this amendment that it means the destruction of the various special laws regulating the hours and the minimum wage of women.

Under the California law, as in many another State, a deserting husband may be trailed to any point, no matter how distant, and back to his home and there be compelled by law to support his wife and children. In the event of the passage of this amendment, this would apply to women as well. Indeed, and why should it not? you ask. This is the reason advanced by women: In spite of the great industrial advance made by women in the last twenty years it is still true that the great majority of American women are home-makers and home-keepers. And this is well. It is one of the bulwarks of the nation. However, this majority of mothers and wives are not prepared to support families. The passage of the amendment would only encourage the breaking of law. It would be impossible to keep.

A man is now subject to penalty for seduction. The woman, too, would be subject to similar penalty if she lured young men.

These are only a few of the many ways the law, if passed, would prove a boomerang. The Woman's party leaders say frankly: "We want the right to retain our maiden names upon marriage, we want jury service, we want the privilege of attending State universities with men (this is denied women in some States) we want equal custody and guardianship of our children, we do not want exclusion from the bar, we want equal eligibility with men throughout the civil service. We are bound to get these rights, and get them quickly. This proposed amendment is simple. At one session of Congress it may be passed and all this will come to us."

But they forget that there are other ways of gaining the more just things they desire without this undoubted hazard to their own welfare. Already many of the States have the very laws they are seeking in this blanket legislation. But their blanket will smother the wiser law of the individual State.

The Supreme Court of the United States alone can give a final answer to the questions that arise in this issue between the proponents and opponents of the proposed amendment as to its final effect upon the status of women. But there can be no doubt at this time of the great cleavage among women with this party standing adamant for it and the General Federation of Women's Clubs, equally influential, against it.

Distinguished authorities on constitutional interpretation differ also. These are, without exception, men. But the very fact of the difference so early in the movement argues against it. It is only an index of the tremendous amount of litigation that would follow the passage of such an amendment. Judge Angelotti of this city has declared himself irrevocably and unequivocally against it. He is one of the few of the judicial mind free to express himself.

So far the women proponents have been unable to get the consent of any Senator to introduce the bill in Congress. They propose, then, to elect women in block to Congress and thus secure it, the other way continuing to fail them. They are organized to fight for it. It would seem, however, that no matter how much choking dust they raise in their forced march with this blanket amendment as the slogan on their feminist banner, they are bound to come against a stone wall which, if surmounted, will be followed by another even higher and more impenetrable.

THE CORN-FED FALLACY.

When a Chicago newspaper refers editorially to "the corn-fed moral sense of these parts" it strikes, for the time being, the attitude of the effete East. The trick of turning the chief agricultural and culinary glory of this region into a stigma on its morals and manners originated on the sunrise side of the Alleghenies.

"Corn-fed" is one of that small but interesting family of epithets which register sectional pique. In so far as it has a definite meaning, it seems to signify a certain occipital pinguitude, or fatness in the head. With somewhat the same idea the sprightly Athenians gibing at the solid efficiency of their Boeotian neighbors, called any slow-thinking person a "Boeotian swine."

Satisfied with the development of its native art and letters, the West continues to glory in the corn. Lincoln, Neb., has just held installment exercises for a new organization, "the Corn Eaters of America," each member of which pledges himself to eat some corn product every day.

The West is corn-fed in theory. If it were corn-fed in fact it would profit by that distinction.—[Chicago News.

MORAL RELAPSE.

Secretary Slack of the Sons of Temperance said in a temperance address in Boston:

"Some of the people who plead for light wines and beer remind me of the show girl.

"A show girl sat in a fashionable restaurant, eyeing herself in a tiny gold mirror and applying a rouge stick to her lips, when a young divine from her home town came up and greeted her.

"Divine and show girl talked of old times a while, then the divine said rather reproachfully:

"'None of this unwholesome, shut-in city life for me. For me a wild, open-air life.'

"'That's how I feel, too,' said the show girl. 'Night after night in the summer I just live on the roof gardens. Ain't it too bad they have to close up in the cold weather?'"

IN JAIL AND OUT.

It doesn't fill my heart with joy to see a gent in jail; I'm sorry for the erring boy who's left the narrow trail. Some day I hope no man will dwell where warders' keys are clinked, some day I hope the prison cell will be a thing extinct.
But since we have our costly jails,
if they become a jest our justice system sags and fails and law goes galley west. Suspended sentences obtain, amusing sinful gents, paroles make punishment look vain, as vain as twenty cents. No sooner do we send a man to languish in the pen than able lawyers work some plan and get him out again.
Each day the killers leave their dead, according to the dope, and of a hundred slayers red perhaps one draws a rope. We turn the vicious hoodlums loose with gentle reprimands and then we wonder why the deuce the crime wave still expands. We are too merciful, I fear, and make our law a freak;
we sentence sinners to a year and free them in a week. And then they take their guns and knives and, filled with bootleg gin, they sacrifice some valued lives and swell the wave of sin. And while I oftentimes bewail the harm that prisons do, I'd like to see such men in jail, the whole besotted crew.

Life and Love.

Life is just one thing after another. Love is just two things after each other.

There is nothing lovers enjoy more than a moonlight night, unless it is a night when there is no moon.

The thing a man enjoys about a love affair is that he has found someone at last who believes everything he says.

The ideal man only exists in the mind of a woman before she marries him.—["Enamelina" in London Opinion.

Instructions Obeyed.

The managing editor of a small city newspaper wheeled his chair around and pressed a button on his desk. The subordinate wanted entered.

"Here," said the editor, "are a number of directions from outsiders telling us how to run our paper. See that every one is carried out."

And the office boy, gathering them all in a large wastebasket, did so.—[American Legion Weekly.

THE HOUSE THAT THE BANK BUILT.

BY MARY MUCHTALK.

There was a maiden all forlorn in the house that Jack built, but nary a one in this one—because some people were discussing moves they had made—or not made. Which move was wise and which otherwise. And it set my mind going in the same direction, thinking what a wise move we had made when we let the bank build for us.

We—the daughters of Anne Kendrick—knew it already. We certainly ought to when our most conservative business friends said in a convincing way that we had made no mistake.

When the men at the bank, the man who had been our landlord, the contractor who built it and the plumber who "plumbed it," all say the same.

But none of them dared to advise us to do it back there in war time, when the bank couldn't risk a promise to renew a mortgage at the end of three years, not knowing what conditions might be.

We had to do the daring—they the doing.

Born in a home my parents owned, married from one they had bought later, and having lived a dozen happy years in the home I entered as a bride, I am a home-lover through and through. But I have a horror of debt fully as intense as my love of home, so when the time came for us to buy or build we were in a predicament.

We were living very comfortably in a house on a good street. A house is a place you rent—a home is a place you own—and we wanted a home of our own, as we had been accustomed to have "back East."

We could have bought a place on time, but we wanted to build one according to our own ideas.

But how could we build when our money was tied up, only enough in the bank to buy the bare lot.

We had contracts we could have turned into cash, but at a sacrifice.

To borrow or not to borrow—that was the question—and a big question it was for two women who had been brought up to detest debt.

However, after you've lived over half a hundred years—and then some—you have learned that there is more than one side to every question and have learned, too, that there are different kinds of debts.

If you borrow money for luxuries, with no sure way of satisfying the claim when it comes due, you put yourself in the criminal class. But money borrowed to build a home—that's a different proposition, provided you build one entirely within your means.

After being told that about half the business of the world is done on borrowed money we decided that it was our business to secure a home right then, even if it was one that was covered—not with a "mantle of charity"—but with a blanket mortgage. Strange to say, when we got that far we went still farther and decided that it was an advantage to build with borrowed money.

When two different banks were willing to make the loan we felt that that assured us of the wisdom of our choice of location.

And, further, when we had made the plunge and were watching the plan we had made and the bank approved, take shape, the regular calls of the inspector they sent was a safeguard for two inexperienced women. It was their business to see that the work was done according to specification.

So the house we moved into three months later was well built as well as convenient. (It is not for sale!)

It was merely a happenstance, of course, that we took possession on the 100th anniversary of the marriage of our grandparents, but it had a funny side to it, for it was these very grandparents who had handed down their hatred of debt to us!

The love of a home is evidently a family trait, too, for one of the same name still lives in the house built in a New England village in 1700, where that grandfather's grandfather was born!

As rents have soared higher and higher we are more and more thankful that we took our courage in our hands and secured a home.

Though we still agree with Eastman—the Kodak King—that a dollar saved is worth more than two dollars borrowed, we also know that circumstances alter cases.

So, as owners of the house the bank built—and has been paid for in full—we would advise any Doubting Thomas who hates debt but loves a home to study the matter as carefully as we did—location, price and practical plan of a home that would sell or rent if need be—and then to "go and do likewise."

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

Says Buttermilk Makes Complexions Soft, Smooth, Free From Wrinkles

Advises Old Time Recipe Before Retiring and Keeps Face, Hands and Arms in Exquisite Condition—Soft, Smooth and Beautiful.

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is grandmother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms.

Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready to use at any first-class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

If you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, pallness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines around eyes or mouth, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms, you will find that these troubles quickly disappear with the use of "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just common ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream, gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth.

The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it. All good drug and department stores sell it on the money back if dissatisfied plan. Should you have any difficulty in obtaining this wonderful Cream, locally, we will send a full sized package of both Cream and Soap for $1.50. In any case, don't hesitate to send 15c (silver or stamps), for generous trial package and convince yourself of their merits. Howard Bros. Company, 24 Main St., San Francisco, Cal.—[Advertisement.

MARSHAL FORCE TO FIGHT ARROYO ROCK CRUSHERS

Sycamore Grove Residents Protest Against Industrial District; Measure Comes Up Today.

Councilman Sparks yesterday forcefully expressed his opposition to the ordinance which would legalize the operation of privately-owned and operated rock crushers in the Arroyo Seco near Sycamore Grove. He announced that he would vote against the measure creating an industrial district in the arroyo, which to be considered by the City Council this morning.

"I am strongly opposed to the owners of these rock crushers being permitted to ruin the arroyo," said Councilman Sparks yesterday. The property owners in the northwest section of the city are battling for the protection of their homes and against the continued destruction of one of the most beautiful scenic assets of Los Angeles. The entire city should be with them in their efforts. The ordinance should be defeated."

Five votes are required to pass the ordinance. With Councilmen Mushet and Sparks outspoken in their opposition and with the possibility that President Criswell and Councilmen Sanborn and Mallard may vote with them, this will give but four votes for the ordinance and it will fail of adoption.

PROTEST ORGANIZED.

The session of the Council this morning when the ordinance is called up for a vote promises to be a lively one, as residents and property owners in the Sycamore district will be present in large numbers to ask that in the interest of the district as well as of the city at large, the ordinance be defeated. Representatives of the Highland Park Chamber of Commerce and of the Montecito Park Improvement Association, the organizations which have been active in the long battle against the rock crushers, will appear before the Council to protest.

The arguments against the ordinance are set forth in a communication which has been filed with the Council by the Montecito Park Improvement Association, which declares that the rock-crushing operations in the arroyo "Not only depreciate property values, prevent territorial expansion for residential purposes, destroy the only ground available for the extension of Sycamore Grove Park, but the rock-hauling truck traffic from the gravel plant travels over strictly residential streets and is making residence on such streets almost unbearable, to say nothing of destroying roadbeds and damaging the bridge over the Arroyo Seco at Avenue 43. There is hardly need of repeating the oft-told tale of street assessments, dust, noise and general nuisance attaching to both the plant and its traffic."

Those opposing the legalizing of the rock-crusher operations will answer the arguments of Councilmen Allan, chairman, and Councilmen Conaway and Langdon, members of the Council's Public Welfare Committee, which reported the ordinance to the Council. Chairman Allan said yesterday: "The creation of an industrial district is only a temporary expedient to permit the rock crusher owners to do work the city would otherwise be compelled to do at its own expense, namely the flood-control work of the main channel of the stream in the arroyo and building concrete walls to hold the storm waters. The Devil's Gate dam will hold but one-fourth of the water which poured down this water course during the storm of 1914, and which may be expected again.

"The channel in the arroyo must be straightened and built up to prevent the destruction done by such storms as we had in 1914, when the city was forced to spend $60,000 to repair the damage."

City Planning Commissioner Farwell and others will declare that these arguments are unsound, that in addition to the nuisance caused by the rock crushers to residents the beauty of the arroyo will be destroyed and no useful purpose served by an unnecessary concrete channel. The property owners will answer the argument that the creation of an industrial district is only a temporary expedient by declaring that once the district is created and more rock-crushing and gravel-screening as well as other plants are placed in operation, other industries will creep into the district and its value for residential purposes will be destroyed.

FLIGHT CAUSES POLICE PURSUIT

Truck Driver Fined and Held for Federal Officials on Liquor Charge.

The wicked flee when no man pursueth, but they flee twice as fast when there are a couple of policemen on their trail.

J. Arnstein was driving serenely along on East Fourth street in his truck on March 15. Suddenly two officers in a machine passed him. He became alarmed and turned back to evade them.

The officers became suspicious and gave chase. They pursued Mr. Arnstein for nearly four miles, curious to learn why he was leaning out to break bottles against the side of the truck.

Yesterday afternoon Police Judge Richardson fined Mr. Arnstein $500 for reckless driving, $50 for throwing glass on the public streets, and held him for Federal authorities on a charge of illegal transportation of liquor.

FACE MURDER CHARGE.

Two Suspected Highwaymen are Held for Patrolmen's Death.

Charged with the murder of Patrolmen Harry Chester and W. L. Brett, who were killed last December by highwaymen in the Boyle Heights district, James Wheaton and Calvin Rowell appeared yesterday before Judge Parker to face trial. The day was spent in the selection of a jury.

Wheaton and Rowell, it is charged, were members of a gang of five bandits that shot the two officers when the patrolmen gave chase. The trials of William A. Bringhurst and Willard Thompson, who were jointly charged with the crime, will begin upon the completion of the present case. Jess Wendell, another of the asserted slayers, killed himself in Arizona when surrounded by a posse.

HOOVER SPENDS BUSY DAY HERE.

scales, and, third, in greatly reducing the price of coal to the consumer.

He expressed a conviction that a satisfactory settlement can be reached through negotiations now in progress between the Department of Commerce, the men in control of the coal industry and organized miners.

Speaking of the general economic condition of the country, Mr. Hoover said:

"Few persons appreciate the problems brought about through the serious diversion of economic currents of the world into war channels and the resultant chaos following the war. The collapse of Russia alone deprived Western Europe of its former source of food supply and now America is making good that deficiency.

COMMERCE STILL DERANGED.

"We practically have been supporting Europe on credit for the last three years. Until Russia can be restored, the commerce of America will be sadly deranged, for, while we had no part in the Old World policies that brought on the war, we cannot escape the penalty.

"When the war started we entered upon the most extravagant era of waste and speculation that the country has ever known. This era of speculation brought the country to its greatest economic crisis in 1920. The history of 1921 is a history of liquidation, a fall of nearly 50 per cent in the average price of commodities in eighteen months, a fall that involved nearly $30,000,000,000 and hit the pocketbook of every man, woman and child in the United States.

"And yet we have gone through the greatest economic depression in history without a financial panic. We owe that to our intelligence and foresight in creating the Federal Reserve.

"Had we not weathered the crisis we could not have recovered for many years, but we are now on the road to recuperation. We passed the period of greatest strain last July; the danger is over and our whole economic fabric is on the mend. We have now to deal with production, employment and price stabilization."

Asserting that unemployment, which, at one time affected more than 6,000,000 men, has been reduced almost 50 per cent, Mr. Hoover said that future periods of business depression, with the "consequent wave of unemployment" can be obviated.

He suggested that government and great utilities during years of prosperity restrain construction 10 per cent and when depression is threatened, apply the reserves thus obtained to avert a slowing up of industry and business.

FARMER NEEDS HELP.

The greatest immediate problem before the country, Mr. Hoover said, is the financial rehabilitation of the farmer who has been forced, he said, to suffer deflation of the prices of farm products in some cases below the prewar level.

He said a remedy lies not so much in increasing the price of farm products as in decreasing prices of the commodities of other industries.

"It becomes the business of government," said Mr. Hoover, "to interest itself and see at what points it may proffer its services and at what point it can intervene in the country's affairs. It is a responsibility of government to the people—a responsibility of co-operation."

Discussing Federal taxes, Mr. Hoover said that "very few persons realize the fixity of our tax burden, 62 per cent of which goes to pay for previous wars in which we have engaged, and 25 per cent to make proper provision for wars in which we may become engaged."

Here he touched upon the Disarmament Conference and the four-power pact, asserting that "with this picture before us, with this necessity for paying out approximately 92 per cent of our income for previous war, or in fear of future wars, leaving but eight per cent for functions of government designed for the welfare of our people, it seems to me that any measure, I care not what, that promises to solve that problem, not only for this nation, but for the world, should receive our strongest support."

Cheers and applause followed this statement, and likewise his prediction that "the treaty will be ratified in the Senate."

"We have sought in other ways than the Disarmament Conference to reduce the tax burden of the American people," he said, adding that the Republican administration has dismissed to date more than 16,000 government employees in Washington alone.

TELLS OF POWER PROJECT.

Touching briefly the question of the Colorado River project, Mr. Hoover said that completion of the project will serve an increased population of 2,000,000, irrigate approximately 4,000,000 acres and make available for the seven interested States approximately 4,000,000 additional horse power.

Concluding his Chamber of Commerce address, he said: "Economic wounds are like gunshot wounds and must be healed cell by cell. They must receive proper and wise treatment; they cannot be healed by economic patent medicines and porous plasters."

He was introduced to the Chamber of Commerce members by Capt. John D. Fredericks, president, who said: "I present to you today not an officer, whose position gives him prominence, but a man—this Californian—our own son, Herbert Hoover."

Capt. Fredericks paid an eloquent tribute to Mr. Hoover as a world figure and presented the guest of honor with a small package which, he explained, had been left at his home by a little girl.

A note wrapped around the package was addressed to Mr. Hoover as "the tenderest American of us all—with the love of a little child and the compliments of the Children's Universal Help Society." Within was an American flag, a picture of a young girl and ten one-dollar bills.

"This token," said Capt. Fredericks, "will help Mr. Hoover to know how the great heart of America beats for him and hopes for him in the achievements of his future."

Mrs. Clara J. Burdette presented Mr. Hoover to the mass meeting of club women in the Friday Morning clubhouse as "a citizen of our own commonwealth of California and a citizen of the world." As he concluded his address Mrs. Burdette introduced Mrs. Hoover, saying, "his wife, who has been sitting here behind him, has staunchly stood beside him during the most trying years of his career and to her, too, must be given much of the credit for his great achievements."

BELGIAN CHILDREN.

Mr. Hoover reiterated at the Friday Morning Club his indorsement of the four-power treaty and discussed briefly the economic situation as he had outlined it at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon. He departed from his formal address, however, to discuss his work for the children of Belgium and other European nations, saying that America has saved the lives of approximately 12,000,000 European children facing death from disease or starvation as a result of the war. Many women stood and applauded him as he said in conclusion:

"As a measure of peace I would rather have the American flag implanted in the hearts of those 12,000,000 children than that it should fly from the mastheads of the whole American Navy."

Following his address hundreds of clubwomen sought to shake his hand, virtually all assuring him of their support of the treaty negotiated by the Republican administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover were dinner guests of Mrs. Burdette in Pasadena and later were the guests of honor at an informal reception given in their honor at the Union League Club by the University Club of Los Angeles. The Hoover party left for Palo Alto following the reception.

Those Shining Teeth

You see today—this is the usual reason

Note how many pretty teeth you see nowadays. Teeth that glisten as they never did before.

Millions now use this new way of teeth cleaning. Every day they combat the film, the coat that makes teeth dingy.

When you see and envy the effects, why not resolve to try them?

Film dims the teeth

That viscous coat you feel on teeth is film. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

The old ways of brushing did not effectively combat it. So the film-coats were persistent. And most tooth troubles have been traced to them.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

It breeds millions of germs, and they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing, because brushing has failed to end film.

Two effective ways

Dental research has long been seeking ways to daily fight that film. Two ways have now been found. Able authorities have proved them by many careful tests. Now leading dentists, nearly all the world over, are advising their adoption.

A new-day dentifrice has been evolved—called Pepsodent. It complies with modern requirements and avoids past mistakes. These two film-combating methods are embodied in it.

With Pepsodent, you can fight that film at home—fight it daily and effectively. And those white teeth you everywhere see show how many people do it.

Other requirements

Modern dental science makes other requirements. The average diet is rich in starch and sugar. Starch gums the teeth, gets between the teeth, and in fermenting it forms acids.

To digest that starch on teeth, Nature puts a starch digestant in the saliva. To neutralize the acids, she puts alkalis in the saliva. But both need frequent stimulation, which modern diet often fails to give.

So authorities now desire the tooth paste to apply that stimulation. Pepsodent multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. It multiplies the alkalinity. Thus it increases markedly these natural protective agents.

Thus Pepsodent brings five desired effects. None of them come from old methods. Together they are bringing a new dental era.

Do This Twice Daily

Remove the film.
Combat the hidden film.
Give the teeth high luster.
Digest the starch deposits by multiplying the starch digestant in the saliva.
Neutralize mouth acids by multiplying the alkalinity of the saliva.

Just film removal

When you visit your dentist for his vigorous cleaning—largely to remove film. Remember how white your teeth look how clean they feel after that.

The new purpose is to fight that film. To maintain that whiteness and cleanliness. Otherwise, there are other films when that film may do damage.

Try this new method. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note the delightful effect and feel. Read the reasons in the booklet. Then decide for your own future. This is too important to overlook. Cut out the coupon now.

SWITCH SCENE OF PREP MEET.

Patterson Field will be the scene of the Southern California high school championship track meet on April 22, according to an announcement made last night by F. F. Van Patten, manager of the event. The meet was originally planned to be staged at Santa Ana, but was changed to the Occidental College oval because of the poor condition of the prep cinderpath. It was tentatively agreed by the officials, however, that the event will be staged in the Orange county city next year.

QUAKERS SAIL FOR ENGLAND.

Penn Relay Team Embarks for Europe to Compete With Oxford, Cambridge.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The University of Pennsylvania four-mile relay team sailed today for London, where, on April 8, it will meet similar teams from Oxford and Cambridge universities in an international intercollegiate contest which will be the feature of the Achilles Club relay meet. The Pennsylvania team consisted of five one-mile runners, four competitors and one alternate or sub.

Those making the trip are Capt. Larry Brown of the Pennsylvania team, hailing from Seattle; Elmer McLane of Oklahoma, Sayman Kerr of Salt Lake City, and Donald Head and John Kerr of Philadelphia.

Given proper weather and track conditions it is expected that the winner will establish a new world's record for the four miles now held jointly by the Cornell team of 1916 and the Boston A.A. team of 1912. Both combinations ran the distance in 17m. 41 2-5s. This gives an average mile of a trifle under four minutes twenty-eight seconds. Past performances of the Pennsylvania quartet appear to warrant an average mile in four minutes twenty-five seconds or better.

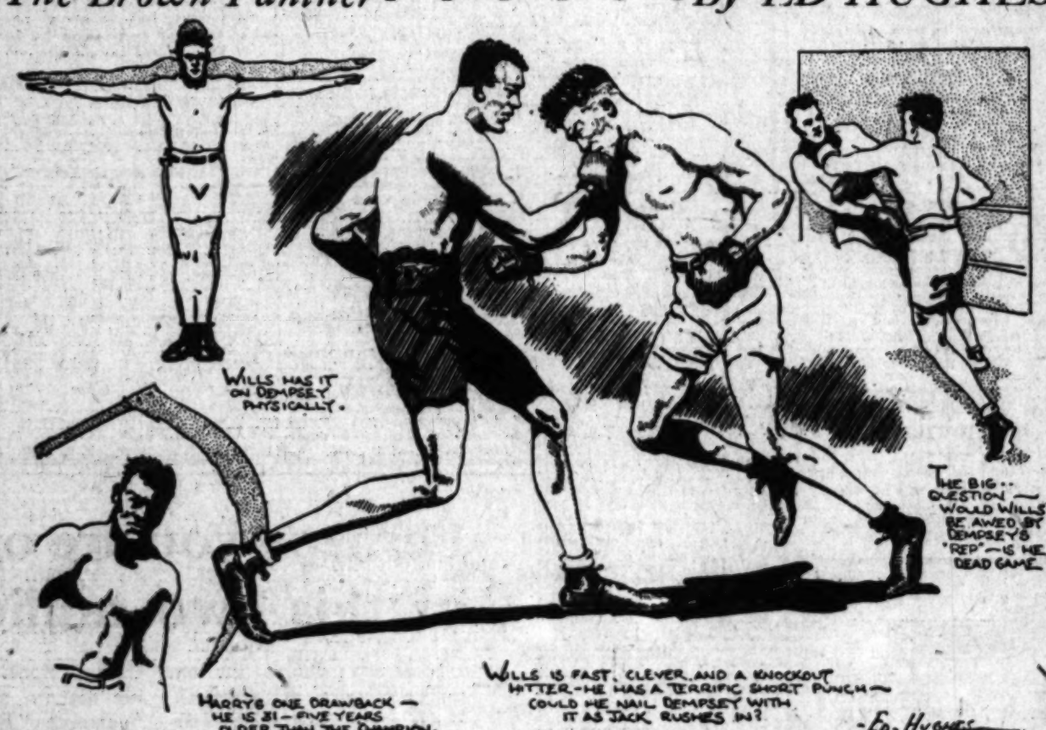
The Brown Panther - - - - - - By ED HUGHES.



A baseball player minus a nickname would seem as strange as an attack of lumbago without a porus plaster. In a majority of cases these nicknames are wished on them. They don't seek them any more than a dog does fleas.

These false titles often are picked up in queer ways and give wrong impressions. Otis Crandall, more generally known as Doc, is an example of this extemporaneous conferring of degrees and titles. Among fans the impression is quite general that Crandall is a dentist. Not only he isn't, but the only ball player we know who turned dentist, meaning Jud Smith, never was called Doc on the diamond.

Personally, we have called Mr. Crandall about everything, including osteopath and horse doctor. Another time Doc was seen down on his knees and somebody thought he was a doctor of divinity. Then they beserved he was in that position in order to give first aid to an ailing rear tread and it was decided he was a tire doctor.

Not one nor any of these deductions were correct. In reality, Mr. Crandall is or was a ball-game doctor, and it was this which gained him the distinguished title. The lowdown on this was handed by A. S. Cooper, construction superintendent of the Santa Fe, who was down watching the athletes work out at Elsinore.

During the half-dozen or so years that Crandall was with the New York Giants, Doc was employed liberally as a relief pitcher. Time and again other heavers would get a ball game in a snarl, whereupon Crandall would go in and unravel it. After a time the fans took note of this, and one day when a pitcher found himself in distress the bleachers began calling for Dr. Crandall. Thus was the title hung on him, and it still sticks.

Crandall probably was the most popular player ever with the Giants, barring, of course, Big Six. This popularity was not with the public alone, but extended to his team mates. The latter practically rebelled when he was shipped to St. Louis. The last time I was in New York practically every baseball writer in the big town inquired regarding the condition of Doc's health and happiness. Some distinction for a ball player to be remembered in that manner where there are 3,000,000 other human beings to think about and where players come and go in droves.

It is interesting now and then to hear from the trainer of a baseball club, probably because there is so seldom any noise coming from that source.

The bone rubber and muscle soother of a team passes his time suffocating in a smelly steamroom and swabbing perspiring athletes that others may be happy. Not often does he poke his head out of the cave-like clubhouse to make a remark.

Therefore we give space to some well-weighed words by Frank Jacobs. He predicts a big year for both George Lyons and Nick Dumovich, in which case the loss of Aldridge and Reinhart would not be particularly missed.

"Lyons seems finally to have mastered control," said Jacobs. "He looked great against the Cubs, and pitched to only nine men in three innings. Dumovich not only seems to have gained the required confidence, but he is at last developing and putting on weight, especially around the chest and shoulders, where it counts for something. A year ago, too light to start with, he lost weight during training. Watch him come. Against that crack El Monte club, assembled especially for the occasion, he had the batters blind."

BURBANK TEAM CRUSHED.

The Van Nuys High school track team crushed the Burbank High cinder performers yesterday on the former's track by a score of 58 to 17.

The high and low hurdles races were cut short because of the lack of enough hurdles to let two men from each school run. The high sticks were shortened to seventy yards and the lows to 120 yards.

Burbank athletes failed to grab a first place in the whole affair and had to be content with four seconds and five thirds.

The summary:

Mile run—Gasser (V.) won, Harrow (B.) second, Williams (B.) third. Time 5m. 14s.

220-yard dash—Kidde (V.) won, Williams (B.) second, Rudwell (V.) third. Time 24 4-5s.

70-yard high hurdles—Lawrence (V.) won, Duke (B.) second, Nage (V.) third. Time 14 2-5s.

Shot put—Landley (V.) won, Hendricks (V.) second, Field (V.) third. Distance 36ft. 1in.

Discus—Field (V.) won, Landley (V.) second, Hendricks (V.) third. Distance 96ft. 10in.

Pole vault—Gasley (V.) won, Kidde (V.) second, Sadnos (B.) third. Height 10ft. 6in.

100-yard dash—McWhirter (V.) won, Kidde (V.) second, Rudwell (V.) third. Time 10 4-5s.

High jump—Kidde (V.) won, Gasley (V.) second, Landley (V.) third. Height 5ft. 2in.

120-yard low hurdles—Lasley (V.) won, Beaney (B.) second, Hendricks (V.) third. Time 18s flat.

Broad jump—Rudwell (V.) won, McWhirter (V.) second, Gasley (V.) third. Distance 19ft. 8in.

440-yard run—Lemont (V.) won, Brown (V.) second, Hollmon (B.) third. Time 57 4-5s.

880-yard run—Gasnier (V.) won, Harrow (B.) second, Mangel (V.) third. Time 2m. 14s.

Relay—Won by Van Nuys. Time 1m. 43s. Four-man, one-half mile.

COLIMA IS MASTERED BY GEORGE

Chic Roach Wins Verdict Over Sailor Biss in Semi-Wind-up at Vernon.

BY LEEPSON BOWNES.

The inquisitive left hand of Young George poked its way to a well earned decision over Bert Colima in the main event at the Vernon arena last night. The broom-like left of the blonde middleweight entered Mr. Colima's life early in the proceedings and was as persistent and annoying as your wife's relatives. Try as he would, Colima was unable either to evade or combat the long and tantalizing mitt which constantly held him off.

Colima had perhaps just the slightest edge in the first round when a solid swat landed on George's stomach and made it boom like a big bass drum, but from that time on George had a clean lead by reason of his straight lefts which he occasionally mixed up with a hard right. George fought Colima through the ropes in the second round and went right on after him, apparently willing to chase him right into the dressing-rooms.

HAS CLEAR EDGE.

The semi-wind-up brought a well-earned and hard-fought victory to Chic Roach over Sailor Steve Biss. The sailor apparently was the stronger, but used his strength chiefly in trying to push his opponent around the ring. Roach hit the cleaner blows and although apparently delighted to hear the tinkle of the bell, had a clear edge.

The first bout of the night brought together Gus Williams and Johnny Hogan, the latter introduced as the champion of Ireland. Evidently Johnny was the champion receiver for he took enough assorted wallops to have sunk a battleship and never backed up an inch and never hit back. They stopped it in the third round to keep Williams from dropping dead of exhaustion trying to knock Hogan down.

Young Sumner, a hard-hitting, but inexperienced, youth, had Young Cumpston sick half a dozen times, but didn't quite know what to do about it. He won an easy decision. Tommy Richards and Young Weber battled to a draw. Johnny McManus was awarded a comic decision over Ralph Lincoln, who had the better of the fight if there was any edge. Roy Sutherland earned a decision over Johnny Trambitas, but only got a draw.

CUBS TRAIN OPTICS ON KRUG, IS RUMOR.

Rumors raced thick and fast up and down the Rialto yesterday afternoon about Marty Krug, who played second base for Portland last year. It is whispered that the Cubs have their eagle eye on Marty for the keystone position and that they have opened negotiations with him over terms. Many of Krug's admirers believe that he did not give his best to the Portlands last year and that he is a much better player than his work showed.

GIBBONS TO COME WEST.

Mike Gibbons, the famous St. Paul middleweight boxer, will arrive on the Pacific Coast in about two weeks. While on the Coast he will visit Los Angeles, according to Fred Paul, his representative in the Far West. Mike is to box in Seattle in a short time and may be seen in action in Portland before returning East. Gibbons at present is under the management of Mike Collins.

WILLS ONLY REAL CONTENDER FOR JACK'S CROWN.

Forget all the rest! Harry Wills is the one man who stands any kind of chance to make these things interesting for Jack Dempsey. The public isn't so much taken with this "race prejudice" hoakum as it is with a clash between these two great fighters. At least one of them—Dempsey—is great, and the other appears to be, so there you are.

No other man in the ranks of the challengers has exhibited so many qualifications for a match, and yet received less mention for a titular match than Wills. Dempsey personally is as eager to fight the giant negro as he is anyone else. Jack is a real fighter, and it is no fault of his if people make the claim that he is dodging the issue with Wills. He has nothing to do with the business end of the Dempsey organization, which is exactly where the hitch occurs, it seems. Some one in the Dempsey outfit isn't keen about seeing the two in action or the bout would have been arranged long ere this. That much is certain. Is this indifference concerned with any of these facts?

That Wills, physically, is superior to Dempsey.

That, as a boxer he also excels the champion.

That he has a punch, which, if not as crushing as the Toledo Terror's, has at least sufficient power to drop any man who collides with it.

Bob Allen is After Record Set by Yount.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, March 21.—Redlands University has, for several years, been blessed with track athlets who were gluttons for work. Bill Yount still holds the conference record for high-point winner in any conference track meet, but friends of Bob Allen believe that Bob may some time equal, if not pass Bill's record.

Yount, who has the greatest collection of medals of any athlete in the south, won six gold medals for five first places and a relay lap in a conference meet two years ago and he also won a silver medal in that meet, scoring twenty-eight points.

Now comes Bob Allen, who, against the keenest kind of competition, topped the field in the conference meet at Occidental a few days ago and took fifteen points, besides running a winning lap in the relay. Gordon Cram, another freshman at the university, also promises to be a fiend for hard work.

PIONEERS DOWN SANTA MONICA.

Beach Tracksters Smeared by Heavy Score.

L. A. High's Sprinters Start Huge Landslide.

Long is Star of Day With the Discuss.

Los Angeles High School's cinderpath artists sat down on the Santa Monica track team and when Coach Whittle's men removed themselves the score stood 91 4-5 to 16 1-5.

The meet was a slaughter all the way through. Los Angeles' sprint men started the dirty work early by taking the first two places in the century and the invincible three took the first three places in the 880, the above-mentioned three being Servis, Saunders and Young.

Fairly good time was made in the 440 by two Los Angeles men and the Santa Monica demon, Tilson. The time was 54 4-5s. Powers, the star of the beach team, did himself proud by taking two thirds and one second.

Bowen was the only beach man who was able to get into the blue ribbon class, in the high jump he tied with Mortenson for first honors. Five men tied for third place and as no one was able to break the tie in a jump-off, it had to stand.

Burke Long, the Pioneers' prize discus pusher, brought glory on himself by shoving the platter out a mean 105 feet.

The results of the meet are as follows:

880-yard run—Won by Servis (L.A.); Saunders (L.A.) second, Young (L.A.) third. Time 2m. 10 4-5s.

100-yard dash—Won by Thompson (L.A.); Goldwater (L.A.) second, Foss (S.M.) third.

440-yard run—Won by Field Thompson (L.A.); Fred Thompson (L.A.) second, Tilson (S.M.) third. Time 54 4-5s.

Mile run—Won by Hyood (L.A.); Cline (L.A.) second, Sherman (L.A.) third. Time 4m. 50 4-5s.

Pole vault—Won by Smart (L.A.); Powers (S.M.) second, Lee (L.A.) third. Height 10ft.

Shot put—Won by Long (L.A.); Kwiatkowski (L.A.) second, Potts (L.A.) third. Distance 39ft. 6in.

Low hurdles—Won by Labrucherie (L.A.); Hoxie (L.A.) second, Jonas (S.M.) third. Time 25s. flat.

220-yard dash—Mazzetti (L.A.) first, Goldwater (L.A.) second, Harper (S.M.) third. Time 24 1-5s.

High hurdles—Won by Labrucherie (L.A.); Blakemore (L.A.) second, Powers (S.M.) third. Time 16 2-5s.

Discus—Won by Long (L.A.); Hall and Chandler (L.A.) second and third. Distance 106ft. 5in.

Broad jump—Won by Moss (L.A.); Harper (S.M.) second, Fox (S.M.) third. Distance 19ft. 5in.

High jump—Mortensen (S.M.) and Bowen (S.M.) tied for first, Labrucherie, Blakemore, French and Cain of L.A. tied with Powers (S.M.) for third. Height 5ft. 6in.

BALDWIN NIFTY WITH LUMBER.

Red Gets Back Into Work at Elsinore.

Angels Boast Backstops of Class Galore.

Sandow Griggs Again Striking His Stride.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ELSINORE, March 21. — Our Angels partook of two most satisfactory workouts and the usual three meals today. The weather was tuned up to a slightly warmer pitch and more perspiration was produced than on any previous occasion.

Red Baldwin unwound the wraps from his bruised mitt, and the way he shot the ball around with his arm and slashed it with the bat was a caution. Never, in our humble opinion, has a Coast League club been embarrassed with so many good backstops as are to be numbered among Daly, Wheat, Baldwin, Rego and Johnson.

Sandow Griggs is slowly but surely striking his stride. That is Sandow's way of doing things. Mr. Griggs never will wind up his career a nervous wreck. He's excitable just the same as our lake here and emotional like a cake of ice.

GRIGGS GETS 'EM.

Killefer is fully satisfied with Sandow as a first baseman. Some of the fans don't fancy him because he isn't always fixing like a hot tea kettle.

"Griggs gets 'em and that's all anybody can ask," is the way Killefer looks at it. "Seldom sensational, but always good."

Unless all signs fail, Jimmy McAuley will have about the best season of his career. He is a brilliant, hard-working player, seldom out of the game, and knows baseball. In all-around value he has few equals.

While very sorely tempted to stick Clyde Beck in at third and take a chance, Killefer has a hunch that the right thing to do is to place this player where he can get another year's experience, when he will be ripe and ready for the job beyond the peradventure of a doubt. Never saw a bird handle ground balls more neatly than this young Beck person. And it's not all because he wears neatsfoot oil on his glove, although that helps. He scoops a ground ball with the same ease that most of us ladle soup from the saucer to the face, and far more silently.

PREPARE FOR DANCE.

All preparations have been completed for the corn dance to be held here Thursday night. The best canned music has been ordered, along with a fresh supply of corn plasters. When the music is soft and low the dancers will glide across the floor on their soft corns; when it is loud and fast they will trip the light fantastic

Lincoln and Hollywood Teams Clash in City League Track Event Friday.

DOPE FAVORS RAILSPLITTERS.

Tommy Davis's Men Should Maul Foothillers Easily.

Coverley and Stapler Meet in 440 Gallop.

Boles and Terry to Furnish Thrills in Hurdles.

Barring our usual week-end rain, one perfectly good undefeated record is destined to be spoiled Friday afternoon when Lincoln and Hollywood collide on Occidental's cinderpath in their annual track disagreement. The wise ones all agree that the Foothillers' unbroken string of victories is due to be marred by a sound and thorough trouncing at the hands of Tommy Davis's well-balanced outfit, the general opinion being that the Red shirts will do well to corner thirty five points.

To what was left of a State championship track squad Coach Davis added considerable new material of varied ability this season and turned out a team of cinder pushers that bids fair to repeat the title-grabbing stunt of last year for Lincoln, and the trimming the Foothillers are in for is a mere incident.

Hollywood's only hope lies in spilling the dope around carelessly in about every other event, for a comparison of the performances of the two teams this season gives Bob Strehle's outfit blue ribbons in only three or four contests. Coverley is confronted with a difficult job in preceding Stapler of Lincoln to the worsted in the 440, but on an even quarter mile track the Hollywood runner should cut a second off his record time. Stapler, used in Lincoln's freak oval, has trimmed all comers this season, without extending himself, but he has a real man to beat in Coverley.

OUGHT TO.

Barnes of Hollywood should count a first in the pole vault against the best man Lincoln can supply. Dickson has done a little better than 11 feet, and Barnes has cleared about the same, but the excellent form of the Hollywood bamboo expert will undoubtedly enable him to boost his record if he is pushed.

If Hollywood makes one point in the sprints it will be a miracle, for with the added services of Tommy Myles, Lincoln has a trio of the fastest movers in the City League in Stapler, Norman and Myles. The 880 will probably be a wild contest with Akroyd of Hollywood and Crouch of Lincoln starring.

Shot, discus, broad jump, high jump, and relay are all conceded to Lincoln in advance, while Boles is certain of honors in both hurdles. Terry of Hollywood should furnish some interesting competition in the low sticks.

After all this happens Hollywood will be fortunate to salvage thirty-five points out of what Lincoln leaves, but this will be a better showing than any other City League team has made against the redoubtable Railsplitters this year.

W.S.C. FRESHMEN TO MEET PREP TRACKMEN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) March 21. Washington State College freshmen will meet North Central High School track and field team of this city in a dual meet on Rogers Field, Pullman, some time in May, is the announcement here. Efforts will be made to fix the date on either the day preceding or the morning of a varsity meet, that the high school stars may see the older athletes in action.

BERRY AND FRANKIE IN MAIN BOUT

Six Ring Tilts Will be Staged Tonight by Monrovia Legion at Arcadia.

Jimmy Berry, the fighting Pasadena fireman, will face Battling Frankie, the local 128 top-notch boxer in the main event of a six-bout program to be served tonight by the American Legion of Monrovia at the Arcadia balloon school.

In the semi-wind-up Sergt. Chernals, of the balloon school, will hook up with the local scrappy 122-pounder, Joe Garcia.

An exhibition match between two Midwick teams will be staged today on the Alhambra field. Although no admission will be charged a splendid contest is promised.

AUSTRALIANS THREATEN CUP.

Tilden Discusses Tennis Team of Antipodes.

Calls Brookes the Greatest Doubles Genius.

Patterson Shows Marked Improvement.

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II.
Tennis Champion of the World, 1920-21.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—Down in the Land of the Kanaroo there is a wizard. He is so called by those who know him and by many who do not. This man is the greatest tennis player of all time and even today at 45, Norman Brookes stands pre-eminently the finest court general and tactitian in the world. This is the man who will lead the strongest group of players that Australia can place in the field in the invasion of the Davis cup.

Norman Brookes is through as a singles player. He has slowed up so that I do not look to see him fas part in the singles matches for the cup, but he is still the greatest doubles genius in the world. If Brookes plays doubles, as he will, one thing is certain, that the team that defeats the Australian doubles combination must do so by clean, hard-hitting, for Brookes reduces the errors of his team to a minimum.

WELL KNOWN HERE.

Gerald Patterson is so well known in America and so deservedly popular that I need do little more than indicate a few changes that have taken place in his game to show what a dangerous player he now is. His terrific service and magnificent overhead are as great as ever. His forehand ground stroke has gained in control and is but slightly diminished is speed. The peculiar loop backhand, the most glaring defect that I have ever seen in the game of a first-class tennis player, is now a thing of the past. True, he uses it at times, but he relies on a defensive chop that, while not dangerous, is at least reliable.

The second singles player of the team is the man who won his place in the hearts of the American tennis public last year by his splendid game and delightful personality, James O. Anderson. Here is a player who has not yet quite fulfilled his great promise. He has a game of superlative features and obvious weaknesses. His forehand, with its peculiar flat, snap drive, is a deadly weapon. He hits with equal ease to either side while disguising the direction. His first service, when it is going in, is very hard to handle but his second is almost a pat. His overhead is severe and usually reliable but his volleying is erratic and not too aggressive. He is a tremendous worker and tries for shots that seem hopeless, yet he reaches them. He is a hard fighter and capable of standing a tremendous amount of play.

GREAT DOUBLES PLAYER.

The last member of the team is Brookes's doubles partner, Pat O'Hara Wood. This young star is one of the great doubles players of the world, having held the world's championship once and the Australian title twice or three times. He is a magnificent volleyer, and one of the quickest men on his feet I have ever seen. He drives well fore and backhand off the ground but lacks the speed that is vital to a great singles player. It is the infinite resource, much of which is due to playing with Brookes, that makes Pat Wood so dangerous in doubles. He is a clever, steady getter until an opening presents itself, then he hits for the opening with a decision that is surprising.

It is a dangerous team that Australia is sending on the quest for the Davis Cup this year. If ever they are to lift the cup, they stand a great chance now. It will certainly be Brookes's last appearance as a player, and possibly his last, even as captain. His judgment of players will prove invaluable to Patterson and Anderson in their singles matches, while in the doubles the crafty play of the Old Master will do much to break up their opponents' game.

It is now or never for Australia, and frankly, I would not be oversurprised to see it now.

MECHANICS TO TACKLE FRESHMEN.

Poly Tracksters Meet Trojan Peagreen Squad Tomorrow at Bovard Field.

Doc Skinner's Polytechnic track squad will meet the classy U.S.C. freshmen tracksters tomorrow at Bovard Field. That the Peagreen Trojans will walk off with the victory is conceded, but the Mechanics have several good men who will give them a warm afternoon.

The U.S.C. Frosh has such stars on its team as Oliver Cory, famous high jumper, Otto Anderson, Hurdler and broad jumper, Jack Houston, of last year's Lincoln State championship team, Swede Anderson, formerly of L. A. High, who tosses the sixteen-pound shot out around forty-four feet, and a few other athletes who perform in a very creditable manner.

The Poly stars are Niersbach, Plate and Mitchell in the distance runs, Smith in the 440, and Stahl in the pole vault.

FIRST BAPTIST FIVE ENTERS SEMIFINALS.

The First Baptist Church basketball team defeated the Swedish Mission quintet last night at the Y.M.C.A. by a score of 16 to 8 and thereby entered the semifinals of the Church League. Next Friday night they will play the Magnolia Church team.

BUSH LEAGUE GOSSIP.

BY JOE BUSH.

Nothing is left now but the after-dinner speeches and the talk of "how we won the title" for the Harris and Frank club. The Clothiers won the championship of the Federal League this season. Apparently the H. and F. sandlotters won hands down, thumbs down or whichever way comes easiest.

A great deal of credit for winning the flag can be given the skillful piloting by Manager W. J. Hollingsworth and the pitching of Johnson.

Cheiftain Hollingsworth after the final fracas was over sat down and with as neat a hand as we have ever had the pleasure to read, wrote out the statistics. They follow:

MECHANICS TRIPPED BY FULLERTON PREPS.

The Poly baseball nine lost a close game to the Fullerton High squad yesterday at Fullerton by a score of 4 to 3. "Tiny" Soules, the Mechanics' southpaw chucker, twirled seven innings for the local team and set the Fullerton singlers down with but two hits and no runs off his delivery. He was then relieved by Barlet, and the Fullerton batters took a fancy to the new pitcher's offerings and slammed them to all corners of the lot for four runs and the victory.

"—speaking of ham-and-eggs"

Thousands of men when they think of real value think of two things—ham-and-eggs and Cinco cigars. A look around any dining car or restaurant will bear evidence of this ham-and-eggs kind of wisdom.

You've seen countless people flounder around for ten minutes over the menu and end by ordering ham and eggs. And when a seasoned smoker stands up to a 20-foot cigar case and gets lost in a confusion of brands, he finally calls for Cinco.

Cinco cigars taste just right. Seventy years' experience and a distribution of hundreds of millions a year has taught us what men like. The quality is in Cinco always, for the fundamental principle of our business is that every Cinco shall be like every other Cinco. Ham-and-eggs common sense is saying to thousands of men—"Stick to Cinco—it's safe."

Perhaps you are one of this two million

Some two million of the ten million American motorists will find it necessary to replace their batteries during 1922. You may be one of the number.

What will you do about it—buy a battery or the battery for your car? On your choice depends quite a few dollars in cash and a great many dollars, worth of comfort.

You can probably get a battery that costs less than the Exide in the first place, but you will find none so economical in the end. For Exide is the long-life battery, not in a paper "guarantee," but in actual service in your car—a fact that has been proved by millions of motorists since the day of the original starting and lighting battery, which was an Exide.

Give some thought to batteries before the time when you will have to have a new one, for the right battery means a lot to you. You will find courteous and intelligent men to talk to at the nearest Exide Service Station.

ST. MARY'S INVITED.

G. W. Schuman, a young business man of Honolulu, has just forwarded a contract to St. Mary's College of Oakland to come here for a series of three football games next fall, and St. Mary's has already agreed to terms and announced that the deal will be closed. Schuman is in the automobile business, and played football here in his high school and college days, and since that time has been one of the leading sport promoters in the amateur ranks. "Scotty," as he is generally known, seems likely to loom large in the intersectional sporting field, as he plans for various competitions in later years if the venture next fall proves an all-around success.

Schuman manages the "Town Team" each year in the Honolulu amateur league. This team is made up of ex-college and high school stars with a sprinkling of native boys whose strength and natural quickness take them into fast football company. Numbers of high-class college players from continental United States come to Hawaii, and the amateur teams often

TIJUANA RESULTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, March 21.—Favorites took every race on today's card at Tijuana for the first time in several weeks. Belario achieved his first victory after numerous starts, winning the fifth race, at a mile and one-eighth, in impressive style, doing the distance in 1:54 2-5. Piedra was second and Gath, third. Belario raced under restraint for three-quarters, and when let down, readily took the lead and finished easing up in the last seventy yards.

I. W. Harper and Kitty Cheatham fought out a nose finish in the fourth, with the former getting the best of it after a hard six-furlong duel. Tom Owens won over a cheap band at six furlongs in the third. Meteor got out of the maiden class in the second, winning by a narrow margin from Alason. A field of thirteen went to the post on this...

Faber, backed down to odds-on, gathered in the baby dash, Miss Edna placing.

Results follow:

First race, four furlongs—Faber won, Miss Edna second, Pat Hampson third. Time 0:49.

Second race, six furlongs—Meteor won, Alason second, Cinderoza, third. Time 1:16 1-5.

Third race, six furlongs—Tom Owens won, Centrid second, Rockorna third. Time 1:15.

Fourth race, six furlongs—I. W. Harper won, Kitty Cheatham second, Rietto third. Time 1:14 2-5.

Fifth race, one mile and one furlong—Belario won, Piedra second, Gath third. Time 1:54 2-5.

Sixth race, six furlongs—Peter Pan won, Jos Underwood second, Col. Snyder third. Time 1:14 2-5.

Seventh race, one mile and seventy yards—Sir Jerry Vergne won, Montana second, Tom Brooks third. Time 1:46 3-5.

ZEIDERS TRIM HIGH'S OUTFIT.

Hyatt Busts Up Tie With Freaky Homer.

Pitcher Hill Changes His Style of Dealing.

Arnold Statz to Receive Gift Saturday.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

The biggest bunch of f.o.b.'s of the practice season thus far was on hand yesterday at Washington Park to witness the tenth hook-up between the Highs and Zeiders. Zeider's lads were on their mettle and had little trouble in throwing it into their tormentors, 5 to 2. This makes the series now stand 5 for High and 3 for Zeider. Things were pretty well tied up until the first of the seventh when Hyatt of the Zeiders busted the tie with a slashing home run hit to left field which hit the fence on a bound and jumped into the bleachers.

It was the freakiest four sacker ever made on the grounds. The swat put spirit into Ham's team mates, for they came right back in the eighth and scored two more runs thus tucking the game away in lavender.

CALL FOR RALLY.

Up to the seventh inning, neither team displayed much brawn with the willow, owing to the fact that heavers James and Mays were going great. This was a sort of disappointment to the f.o.b.'s and they called lustily for a batting rally. The Bengals, always on their prettiest when called upon in a crisis, came through for the rooters, showing their old-time bludgeon work in the last few innings.

Pitcher Hill did good work on the mound. He has changed his style of delivery—a change that has worked wonders. He has a good fast drop and mixes 'em up well.

Red Smith's arm is gradually rounding into good shape. It is still a little weak but should be in good pegging condition by the time the season opens. However, if Red's throwing arm is rather weak, that same arm is not in the same class when it comes to mauling the agate. Smith's line drives in the last two days have been the joy of the fans present. He is hitting the ball harder now than at any other time of his baseball career and bids fair this year to have his banner season.

The many friends and admirers of Arnold Statz will make him a present of a gold watch next Sunday afternoon at Washington Park in appreciation of his efforts in helping the Angels to win the pennant last year. Statz's little remembrance will be handed to him the first time he goes to the bat.

TRI-STATE BODY SUPPORTS PLAN.

Four-Year Limit Placed on Athletes.

Constitution Submitted to Pacific Schools.

Conference to Start Off on July First.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Freshmen probably will be allowed to play on varsity teams in the new Nevada-Arizona-California intercollegiate conference, the tentative organization of which was completed here Saturday.

Representatives of the member schools decided to include in the constitution rules permitting freshmen on varsity teams and making it illegal for one man to play more than four years in the conference. On these points the new organization is not following the lead of the Pacific Coast conference, composed of the larger universities, which bars freshmen and makes three years the limit.

The proposed constitution is being drawn up and will be submitted to the student bodies of the member schools for adoption.

If adopted the conference will come into existence July 1, 1922.

The proposed members are the University of Nevada, University of Arizona, University of Santa Clara, St. Mary's College, St. Ignatius College and the Davis Farm School.

Machinist Frank D. Butler has been detached from the U.S.S. Tatnuck and directed to report aboard the dreadnaught New York for duty.

BREEZES FROM SPRING CAMPS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The Seals had batting and hitting practice at Boyes Springs today, but no game was played. From now on Manager Miller will try to polish up the machine and drill the regulars in fine points of play. It is practically settled that Bert Ellison will start at shortstop and the owners of the Seals would not trade Bert for any other shortpatcher in the league, so they say.

MYRTLEDALE SPRINGS, March 21.—The Whites defeated the Grays in the Oaks' training camp today, 2 to 1. The feature was the pitching of Shultis, one of the rookie hurlers, who turned in a fine game. The squad will be cut down Friday or Saturday, when a number of releases will be announced. Some of the best looking of the youngsters will be sent away to other clubs for seasoning.

MODESTO, March 21.—One of the hottest days of the season greated the Salt Lake Bees today and Manager Duffy Lewis lost no time in getting the squad into action. Following a stiff batting and fielding practice the men were given half an hour's skull practice. At the conclusion of the workout, Manager Lewis handed out several releases, Harry Trefts, Modesto pitcher; Van Gadoll, Los Angeles outfielder; Jacobs, Oakland semipro pitcher, and Ray Gilpin, being turned loose.

STOCKTON, March 21.—Vean Gregg, former pitching star of the Portland club, who predicts he will win thirty games for Seattle this season, turned in his first win at the training camp today when he blanked the Colored All-Stars, 10 to 0. The Indians scored nine of their ten runs in the fourth inning in which Wisterzil hit a triple and a double, and Shulte a double and a single.

Goakes Again Victorious in Golf Tourney.

F. W. Goakes was again returned winner in his match in the Senior golf tournament at the Midwick Country Club yesterday. He defeated C. Lawrence, another "14" handicap man, by one up.

Play will be resumed this morning. Following are yesterday's results:

Class A—F. W. Goakes (14) defeated C. Lawrence (14,) 1 up.

B. C. Dillingham (22) defeated H. Clodfelt (12,) 1 up.

D. N. Cameron (21) defeated F. S. Browning (12,) default.

K. T. McCormick (12) defeated F. L. Shaver (12,) default.

Class B—J. R. Martin (18) defeated H. S. Fuller (24,) 4 and 2.

R. G. Richardson (12) defeated B. A. Baxter (14,) 3 and 2.

G. A. Vanderbeck (12) defeated F. G. Carpenter (14,) 1 up, 19 holes.

J. S. Perry (14) defeated Hugh Halsell (8,) 1 up.

F. E. Gotschman (10) defeated C. M. Shaver (15,) 2 and 1.

H. W. Shaw (15) defeated R. S. Stevens (16,) 4 and 2.

C. Jenkins (14) defeated W. W. Tennantine (12,) default.

Class C—H. M. Buckley (24) defeated F. C. Devendorf (25,) 1 up.

E. K. Blount (22) defeated W. A. Marie (22,) 6 and 5.

G. C. Howell (14) defeated J. A. Hankin (14,) 1 up.

W. S. Smith (25) defeated R. E. Fowler (16,) 1 up.

R. Conover (28) defeated S. Hinkley (26,) 3 and 2.

F. P. Donahoe (22) defeated F. W. Rowe (15,) 6 and 4.

W. H. Cornett (9) defeated L. B. Young (18,) 3 and 2.

W. Jenks (28) defeated C. W. Pendleton (24,) 1 up.

Class D—J. C. Donnell (20) defeated J. R. Erwin (22,) 2 and 1.

C. E. Kilbourne (15) defeated J. B. Lord (25,) 7 and 6.

J. G. Rhodd (20) defeated J. L. Babe (29,) 3 and 2.

W. Lawrence (18) defeated Charge J. Schmidt (25,) 4 and 3.

YACHTSMEN TO "LISTEN IN" SOON.

New Club Wants to Hear "Times" Radio News and Music; Fast Work.

The California Yacht Club will be one of the first organizations to take advantage of the broadcasting of news, music and other entertainment by The Times' radio. The new club is arranging to install one of the most modern receiving sets in its home on the East Basin, Wilmington, so the yachtsmen can "listen in" and constantly keep in touch with the world. The club-house is arranging for wireless service from its new quarters to Avalon.

Remarkable progress is shown by the California Yacht Club. It started the week with 270 applications for membership and fifty-nine boats of all classes listed in its fleet. Keith Spalding's new schooner yacht, 161 feet long, is the largest in the fleet with the exception of E. L. Doheny's yacht, Casiana, which, however, claims New York as its home port. The Spalding craft was fully described in The Times on Sunday.

bag will be played according to Hoyle on the road. Listen to Doc Crandall:

"Lindimore for some reason plays his poorest game on the Los Angeles grounds. On the road there certainly is nothing wrong with the way he covers that bag."

This is not the first incident of the kind. When Ivan Howard was with the Angels he was regarded here in his own home town as about the poorest second baseman ever. In the other cities of the circuit he was regarded as the league's crack keystone man.

The above is the dope on third base, providing Deal doesn't report. After the controversy which has raged, Los Angeles officials desire to obtain Deal, not so much on account of his actual value to the club, but because the public has expected him to be in that position.

Deal's real worth to the team in his present frame of mind is problematical. It is claimed he was something of a dissatisfied player in the majors and might be more so out here. The writer is not in a position to sponsor this statement, nor the one that he packed up and left the Cubs after they had lost four games to the White Sox in the last city series.

Since it became evident that Deal did not desire to play here, efforts have been made to trade him to other major-league clubs in a way to strengthen the Angels in that position. But none of the big-league managers approached cared to make a swap for him. Los Angeles was turned down cold when it endeavored to trade Deal to Brooklyn for Andy High, the kid third baseman from Memphis and incidentally a brother of Charlie and Hughie High. Begins to look as though that litte old spot at Washington Park, right here in Los Angeles, is the only berth left for Mr. Deal in organized baseball.

Brother Nesbett, our heretofore religious postmaster, is believed to have fallen from grace. He was seen smoking a nickel cigar on the main street today. Can it be that this fair city is going the way of Sodom and Gomorrah? Not if prayer at night and fasting at barbecues can prevent it. Most of our citizens, with the exception of a few of the wilder octogenarians, lead well-ordered lives. A pure heart, healthy mind and clean body enable most of them to live on and on and on. And then some. Mr. Clark, the hustling undertaker, is finding business so rotten that he may dispose of his coffins and put in a line of baby carriages and rompers. Nothing else to do when everybody comes here and grows young again.

REVIEWS REGIMENT.

As guest of honor at a dinner given last night in the Armory by the Association of the Army of the United States, Maj.-Gen. Charles G. Morton delivered a short address to over 200 members of the association and their friends and reviewed the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, California National Guard.

"We all want peace, but who can say when war will come," seemed to be the subject of Gen. Morton's address. After speaking of the importance of National Guard, the R.O.T.C. and other military organizations, Gen. Morton spoke of the fine things accomplished by the Association of the Army of the United States, both in Los Angeles and in San Francisco.

"We know that the Regular Army will be greatly reduced," declared Gen. Morton, "but it is to be hoped that the R.O.T.C. will not be reduced and that the National Guard will carry on the good work that is now going forward."

The Association of the Army of the United States, with Col. Arthur Williams, U.S.A. (retired,) as president of the Los Angeles sector, has for its object the bringing into closer relation of the Regular Army, the National Guard and the organized reserves.

Among those present last night were: Chief of Police Everington, Col. H. R. Richmond, U.S.A., Col. Walter P. Story, Col. H. J. Hatch, Col. T. A. Baldwin, Col. George A. Denis, Judge Rex Goodsell, Mr. D. C. McWaters, Col. Guy P. Palmer, Maj. Frank R. McReynolds and others.

Mexicans Held by City Police on Wet Charge

R. Chavis, who asserts he was formerly acting Mexican Consul in Los Angeles, and Lucas M. Parra, were lodged in the City Jail yesterday on charges of violating the Volstead Act, following a seizure by police of champagne, synthetic gin and wine.

Detectives Weaver and Dillon arrested the two men as they were driving up to a residence on Edgecliffe Drive. A case of champagne and a case of gin provided the cause for arrest.

Later the officers visited Mr. Chavis's residence at 1617 Cordova street, and seized another quantity of liquors and asserted counterfeit bond labels. The officers were told by several friends of Mr. Chavis, who attempted to have him released from jail, that efforts were now being made in his behalf in Mexico City to have him appointed Mexican Consul here. He is also said to be known as R. Cuevas.

Information on the case was filed by the officers with U. S. Dist.-Atty. Burke. The automobile, which was confiscated, is said to be owned by a well-known Los Angeles woman.

MISSIONARY SPEAKS.

Declares Catholics Are Urged to Read the Bible.

Rev. Fr. Donegan, Paulist missionary, spoke on "The Catholic Church and the Bible" last night at a meeting attended by many non-Catholics at the Cathedral of St. Vibiana. He declared it false that Roman Catholics are not encouraged or even allowed to read the Bible.

"Catholics," he said "are urged to read the Bible every day and are granted special blessings if they do so."

"Which is the True Church of Christ?" will be the subject of the lecture today at 7:30 p.m.

This Store Keeps Open All Day Saturday

J. W. Robinson Co.
—Seventh and Grand—

A New Section Devoted to the Finer Summery Frocks

A NEW Section of Lingerie and other Daytime Frocks of the better sort for the ingenue and matron will be opened at Robinson's on Wednesday.

No one need sail for Europe in quest of summer clothes.

They are here at Robinson's, ready to be worn and enjoyed at once. Many of the very Dresses to be shown came directly from France. Fine materials, fine laces, fine tucks and seams make them garments for those who regard the selection of right clothes as an art.

They come in cool organdies, in voiles that feature drawn work, in linens, dotted Swiss and ginghams that are silken in texture.

Sleeves—nowadays one instinctively glances at them first—cut of the neckline, trimmings when there are such and all the details about them reveal the freshness of a new season.

Colors include dandelion, corn, orchid, orange and other high shades and delicate tints; the choice is extremely varied.

$29.50

Linen, sprinkled over with large French dots, combines with voile for the upper part of the corsage in one charming Frock at $29.50. Dotted Swiss that tubs so well adapts Valenciennes lace to a new form of trimming.

A Frock of sheer voile has tiers of ruffles which are finished at the top with hand-drawn work. These ruffles extend up to the waist-line on the skirt, separated by vertical panels of plain materials.

Other Frocks at this low price are of linen on tailored lines, of organdie and of French gingham with lattice work.

$39.50

Frocks of hand-embroidered and beaded voile has points which merge into a corsage of contrasting color.

Cotton eponge makes a dress on straight lines, loosely sashed.

A French gingham in diminutive checker-board design is embroidered in a unique pattern.

Several Dresses priced at $49.50 are being shown in the windows.

The label of distinction, "French Hand Made," is sewn in a Dress of fine crepe, finished in drawn work and embroidered scallops that has the undeniable French air.

A voile with dots is the unusual fabric in a second Frock at this price. This has an ovedrape in apron effect.

A sailor Frock of heavy white linen is one of the practical dresses which one can wear all the day through. The modified sailor collar extends nearly to the belt in the back.

$65.00

Frocks of fine white ratine appropriate for women and younger women shows the French finesse in beading. From the bateau neckline to the hem there are straight rows of white beads, which are outlined in small triangles of blue embroidery. Large beads form a tassel-like finish to the sash. Short sleeves are ornamented with drawn work.

Clubwomen Hear Secretary on Varied Subjects.

Pleads for Twelve Million Starving Children.

Mrs. Hoover Paid Tribute by Chairman.

BY MYRA NYE.

"I would rather plant in the hearts of the 12,000,000 children we have saved in Europe the love of Old Glory than to have as many flags of the United States flying at the mast heads of as many ships of all the navies of the world," said Secretary of Commerce Hoover yesterday afternoon, speaking to representative club women in the Friday Morning clubhouse, which was crowded to capacity.

Absolute quiet and undivided attention were the tributes these women members of the Friday Morning, Ebell, Republican Study and Woman's City clubs and the League of Women Voters paid the Secretary when he spoke for more than an hour. In return he accorded them the compliment of speaking directly to them of world problems, disarmament, unemployment, economic failure, the Colorado River project and the collapse of governments.

His voice was low and there were no oratorical periods, no flights or bursts of eloquence marking his address. It was as though he was talking to friends of things they already knew and loved to hear. At intervals there were spontaneous bursts of applause. Mr. Hoover was talking to people in entire sympathy with his policies and his achievements. They had, in a measure, helped him to accomplish some of his gigantic undertakings and he recognized it.

Sharing alike with him the acclaim of the women was Mrs. Hoover, of whom Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, presiding, said, "As she has sat beside him this afternoon so she has been beside him through his years of work. She has been a big factor in his success," and the audience of women rose to their feet that they might see her better. She returned their greetings with friendliness and happy smiles.

Mrs. Burdette introduced Mr. Hoover as "Citizen of the world and our own commonwealth, California." She spoke of him as a man who "does not stand and wait to serve, but as a man with great initiative and courage, who walks fearlessly out into the world and does those things for which the world is waiting.

"Mr. Secretary," she said, "I'm not going to present you to this audience. Instead I introduce to you a group of women who already know and admire you for the benefit your work has been to mothers and to the children of the world."

TELLS OF STARVATION.

He spoke at length of the starving children of Europe, of Russia particularly, and the great economic problem that still confronts womankind in America. In this connection he denounced with vigor socialism as a solution of similar problems. He drew a striking contrast between the socialism of Russia and the individualism of America and its republic form of government.

"Russia," he said "was formerly the reserve field for food supply of the world. But under sollialistic rule as in the soviet there were eleven provinces last year that did not raise even a spear of grass and the foodstuffs that were raised in other provinces had no means of transportation and rotted in the fields. On the other hand the United States under republican rule raised a surplus and was able to put at the ports of Russia enough to feed her whole population could she have transported it."

The Russian soviet recognizes its failure, said the Secretary. Within the last two months the head of the soviet has had printed 100,000 copies of the Constitution of the United States and distributed among the people. "Socialism causes starvation. Republicanism creates beneficence," was Mr. Hoover's conclusion as to the problems of starving children and women.

PROPHESIES RATIFICATION.

"I do not believe there is anything but construction and progress toward world peace in those treaties made at the Washington Conference and I prophesy that they will be ratified this coming Friday in the Senate."

He added that they were so intricately woven together in their aims and so interrelated that to ratify one, the others, too, must be ratified. They eliminate the friction with Great Britain that has existed nearly two centuries for that nation agreed now to divide with the United States the supremacy of the seas, they eliminate the fear of the encroachment of the East upon the West, they open the door of China, they give her stability to recover and to regain her sovereignty. Friction with Japan is eliminated by these treaties and the burden on our taxpayers is reduced, he said.

A striking figure of speech he used came apparently from his experience as a civil engineer where he worked with such marked success in China. "The Washington conference and its treaties are one great pier we have built toward economic salvation in Europe. Europe must be saved economically or America will suffer. It is now for Europe to build the other pier and she manifests every evidence of good-will in so doing. Between us then we will build the span that makes economic salvation and peace not only ours, but the world's. There are those who would tear down the pier we have builded, I wonder why."

SHOWS EMOTION.

This question of the treaties and their ratification vies with the women for favor with the question of the saving of children in Europe and it was at this point and when he mentioned the work in Belgium and among others of the Allies and in Russia there was manifest the most sympathy. Those near the speaker saw a little quiver come to his lips and a slight moisture to his eyes. Otherwise throughout the hour he was matter of fact and the type of business man apparently who does things and leaves theories to others.

Among those women on the platform in addition to Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Burdette were: Mrs. Andrew Stewart Lobingier, president of the Friday Morning Club; Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Ebell Club; Mrs. Florence Collins Porter of the Republican Study Club, Mrs. J. Bert Stearns of the Woman's City Club, and Mrs. Arthur Heineman of the League of Women Voters, Mrs. George Cryer, wife of the Mayor, and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, who headed the Belgian Relief for Southern California completed the group.

Motion-Picture Directors Buy New Clubhouse

The Motion-Picture Directors' Association has purchased the property at 1925 Wilcox avenue, Hollywood, which will be the future home of the association.

The property consists of a lot 67 by 165 and a house ample in size for the requirements of a club. It is the purpose of the association to remodel the lower floor.

The building is old Italian style and the interior will be decorated to match the exterior.

The directors' association will take possession next week and the work of remodeling and redecorating will be begun at once. By May 1 it is expected the new clubhouse will be ready for occupancy. A house-warming is planned for that date.

Further plans provide for the addition to the present building, in the rear, of an assembly hall which will be designed with a studio effect. This new building will be used for meetings of the association and for the exhibition of exceptional motion pictures.

Before you place your orders for glassware, talk with Mr. McLean about the Duplex Seal

NO matter what you pack—food products, hard candies, pharmaceuticals, toilet preparations—so long as it is packed in glass, you should know more about the Duplex Seal.

The Duplex Seal is the simplest seal known. Off with a quarter turn of the wrist. On with the same easy motion.

An absolutely air-tight original closure—never binds, creeps, or leaks. And a perfect reseal—protecting the contents of the bottle or the jar until the customer has used the last bit.

Used today by hundreds of progressive packers for the benefit of their dealers, the public and themselves.

All leading glass manufacturers can supply bottles and jars with the Duplex finish.

Mr. L. L. McLean, Pacific Coast District Manager for the Duplex Seal, will give you full details, including information on the glass package art, seal liners to meet the particular chemical reactions of your product, and artistic seal designs.

Write, phone or call upon Mr. McLean now—before you contract for glassware. Mr. McLean will call if required.

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Not long ago Florence Pierce Reed was earnestly advising artists in their various lines on no account to give free programs at the women's clubs. She considered that any program that is worth accepting is worth paying for.

But this evidently applies only to women's clubs. The men rarely, if ever, pay to hear even the most celebrated speakers. The women, for instance, pay Norman Angell somewhere in the vicinity of $250 to hear his message direct. But the Men's City Club will hear him without disgorging any such amount; in fact he admitted, when I asked him the vulgar question, that he "didn't know, but he surmised his talk would be purely complimentary." Nothing had been said about anything so mundane as money. But he wasn't complaining, you understand. As a crusader he would rather give them his message for nothing than leave them in the outer darkness for the sake of a few shekels.

But when it comes to baseball, it is the women who enjoy the complimentary privileges. The men will readily pay for sport. So perhaps it is a reasonable quid pro quo. We bring the intellectual celebrities to the city and they provide the athletic celebrities. Brains vs. beef, as it were.

All the same, we were conscious of a sympathetic understanding when Charlotte Perkins Stetson Gilman politely declined to speak before the Men's City Club without remuneration. Why should she? They don't give her a free seat to their Dempsey-Carpentier fights, or their palpitating football matches.

It is interesting to note that both in romantic and intellectual pursuits, "the woman pays."

Gene Stratton Porter, novelist and nature writer, whose books have vast sales to their credit (vide her publishers) has made a pathetic plea that her dear public will see to it that these publishers of hers are not out of pocket in connection with her latest venture, a volume of poetry. Gene says that it usually cost about $700 to publish one of her novels, but that this book of poems has let those dear generous publishers of hers in for something like $15,000, so will we please do our honorable best to see that their faith in her was not misplaced. She explained in a public speech that she had asked the opinion of three authoritative critics on her poetry and they all assured her it was the real thing.

It probably is, but personally I decline to be sorry for her publishers. For the life of me I can't wax anxious about their profits. And I don't think it is quite nice of them to let Gene do her own advertising like that. It must be a most embarrassing experience for a sensitive nature.

Harry Gordon Selfridge, the man who introduced the American department store to English women, is to visit Pasadena next week. Mr. Selfridge has a lot for which to answer. They had department stores on a magnificent scale in England before his time, but they had the women well disciplined. No exchange privileges, for instance—English women had to know just what they wanted and had to stand by their selections. Trying to get anything exchanged in an English department store was more complicated than passing a bonus bill for war heroes. They had no rest rooms as we know them, no writing desks, no children's playrooms. And sales only twice a year. Daily advertising in newspapers and special sales were unknown. But Mr. Selfridge introduced all these things and more. He taught the English woman the charms of "service" and maintained that it wasn't at all necessary for her to know her own mind when she went shopping. She took to it, poor dear, like a duck to water. And the English department stores have been shuddering ever since.

I hope the women's clubs will invite Mr. Selfridge to speak before them. He must be an adorable feminist. So understanding, so sympathetic. He probably helped the English women to get suffrage—removed that "inferiority complex" the department stores had hitherto done so much to maintain.

I shall never forget my amazement — and disbelief — when an American neighbor in Los Angeles first assured me I could exchange a waist I had purchased, but did not like when I got it home. I made her go with me to prove it. Would never have dared go alone. And sure enough it was as easy as winking. I think that was the day on which I mentally decided to become an American citizen. And when I afterwards learned that I could cash cheques at department stores, have small parcels delivered, lie down and take a nap in the restroom, park my small boy in the playroom, write letters, and generally make use of a dozen uncharged for privileges, I knew that King Edward VII had lost an emancipated subject.

Can't you see why English women were dowdy? The poor things had to wear their mistakes if they could not afford to discard them. But Mr. Selfridge is changing all that. Delightful man!

Statistics assure us that the United States spends $100,000,000 a year on buttons; uses up about 10,000,000,000 buttons.

Which is appalling evidence that hapless women everywhere are sewing on buttons for dear life as fast as the laundries and the washing machines tear them off. And to think of the cruel aspersions we have been under about buttonless husbands. Another brutal injustice to women. There couldn't possibly be a buttonless husband in the country on that button trade.

Of course, the pin people are doing a vast and awful trade, too. But it must be the women who use up the pins on their own neglected garments. After we have sewn on 10,000,000,000 buttons for father and the boys, our own garments' needs, no matter how acute, couldn't possibly be expected to lure us to sew on even one more. Besides, we run to those little fool fasteners which never fasten. So it couldn't possibly be us that uses up the buttons.

Isn't it ghastly to think of bright intelligent women using up precious leisure sewing on buttons? Do you suppose the men could ever be persuaded to perform such a frightful duty for us? No, ma'am; if they had to sew on those 10,000,000,000 buttons, they would invent buttonless garments forthwith.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

For Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilcox were honor guests at a charming dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Jr., entertained last evening. The others in the company were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jewett Schweppe, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hook, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Russell McDonnell Taylor are to give a dinner for fourteen in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wright gave a beautifully appointed dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox on Thursday when they had a company of twelve. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox plan a trip to Europe next fall.

Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff and Mrs. Charles H. Sharp will leave next Wednesday for New York and Washington. The farmer will go to Europe with friends late in the year. Mrs. Sharp will meet Kansas City friends in New York who are returning from abroad. Mrs. Holterhoff and Mrs. Sharp will visit Congressman and Mrs. Ira T. Copley in Washington.

Mrs. Connell Gives Tots' Party.

The home of Mrs. Michael J. Connell was like a fairyland yesterday when she entertained at a beautifully-arranged children's party in honor of her small ward, Mary Jewell Connell, and for Richard and Norman Jenson, young son of Commander and Mrs. Henry Norman Jenson of Coronado who are visiting Mrs. Jenson's sister, Mrs. Harold B. Wrenn and mother, Mrs. Mathew Allen.

Mrs. Moody Here.

Mrs. John Moody of New York is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. William De Mille, with whom she returned from the metropolis. She was at the Hotel Huntington for a time but is now with Mr. and Mrs. De Mille, who gave a charming supper party in her honor Sunday evening. Mr. Moody, who is one of the notable figures of Wall street, will join her later.

Mrs. Buchanan Returns.

Mrs. Thompson Buchanan returned yesterday from Santa Barbara where she went last Saturday to visit friends.

Mrs. Sibley Plans Luncheon.

Mrs. E. K. Sibley is to give a luncheon on Friday at the Los Angeles Country Club and will have a company of twenty-one. She gave another luncheon on Thursday at the club and had the same number of guests.

To Honor Sister.

In honor of her sister, Mrs. Edward Sinton of New York, Mrs. Jacob Baruch of South Harvard Boulevard is entertaining at luncheon today.

For Debutante Daughter.

Miss Catherine Newmark, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Newmark who have just returned from a six-months' tour of Europe, is to be the honor guest at a dancing party which her parents are to give at Cocoanut Grove on Saturday evening.

Bishop Glass a Visitor.

Rt. Rev. Joseph S. Glass, bishop of Salt Lake, is a distinguished visitor in the city and is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilcox. He has a great many friends here who are entertaining him at dinners and luncheons. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox gave a dinner in celebration of his birthday on Saturday. He will be here until the first week in April.

Open House.

Mrs. W. A. Foreman will begin on Friday on old custom of her's—keeping open house that day. She is residing at Santa Monica now where she has taken the old Nat Goodwin house. On these days she always provides unusual entertainment. She has two prominent New York women as house guests, Mrs. Lina Harvey, widow of the late Dr. Harvey of Amherst, and Mrs. Nan Crawford. They are now in San Diego and Coronado but will return before Friday.

By Mrs. J. J. Mitchell.

Tomorrow and Friday Mrs. John J. Mitchell of Pasadena will entertain at luncheon a group of prominent Los Angeles and Pasadena women who are to assist her on those days at the Chicago women's exchange, which is to be held at her home. They are expecting a large number of people at the exchange display.

A Night in Dixie.

Mrs. J. M. Marix was hostess at a dinner party at the Ambassador last evening, her guests dancing at "The Night in Dixie" dance in Cocoannt Grove later. Mrs. Herman Baruch also entertained a small party.

For Navy Folk.

In honor of a group of Navy folk Mr. and Mrs. Leon Yankwich are entertaining with a supper party this evening.

Miss Parker Hostess.

Miss Dixie Parker gave a delightful dinner-dance at the Hotel Huntington, Pasadena, last evening for a company of young folks.

Returning Next Month.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wallis and daughters, Misses Ethelyn and Byrd Wallis, who have been in Texas all winter, are expected home early next month. They have visited in Galveston, Waco, Houston and for some time have had a house in Beaumont, which was their former home. Joe Wallis was with the family part of the time. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hammond (Harvie Wallis) have occupied the Wallis home on South Harvard Boulevard.

Mrs. Barber to Entertain.

Mrs. D. C. Barber of South Harvard Boulevard is to entertain at a large luncheon tomorrow.

Mrs. Rodman.

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman is leaving this week-end for a bit of rest at her summer home at Laguna Beach. She and Mrs. Allan C. Balch spent last week-end at the Crags Country Club.

tations of interest, his curiosity evidently was not yet aroused, nor his suspicions. Once or twice, as Armstrong thundered past him in the gray roadster, he seemed on the point of intercepting him; but apparently changed his mind. He took the attitude of one who prefers to await further developments.

The duties of Armstrong quickly sifted down to those of general superintendent. He made his headquarters in a spare room at the rear of the power-house. Here he prepared a wall chart, on which was indicated the progress that he expected of his various gangs each day, together with the progress that was actually made. The lines of pins and the chart resembled a war map. To Armstrong it was war—war against time.

Meanwhile more and diverse duties accumulated. A ship brought into Guanatara important parts of equipment. The two stills to be erected at the Estancia del Arajo were in this shipment, as was also the insulated weather-proof wire for the power line and a number of crates of nitrogen incandescent lamps of high luminosity. Armstrong immediately telegraphed to Havana for a crew of linemen to string the wire and connect the lamps.

The stills he erected himself with the aid of Legarra's foreman of evaporators, whose knowledge of the sugar process gave him a fair understanding of the construction of the still. Special sheds to contain these apparatuses were built, and a large galvanized iron tank was sunk in the ground for the storage of gasoline. Hogsheads were provided for the alcohol.

Armstrong left the completion of this job to the evaporator foreman, who had taken hold with enthusiasm, and devoted the next few days to lining up a new working force consisting of carpenters.

By this time the ten planters were nearly exhausted of laborers. The three hundred clearers were now all engaged in dipping poles, digging and bracing the erected poles with guy wires. Donaldson's crews at work on the roads numbered more than two hundred.

Armstrong was fortunate, as on previous occasions, in selecting a boss carpenter who could take complete charge in whom he could rely implicitly. When the carpenters were assembled he motored to Guantara and waited until they fell to work on the old pier. After watching the demolition of the rotten planking until he saw that the task was well under way, he returned to his office.

Chapter VIII.
AMADOR'S INTERFERENCE.

Armstrong was studying the chart, estimating the labor that was still before him, when the door opened and closed with a snap, admitting Miss Callahan. Her cheeks were flushed, her hair disordered, and her eyes bright with anger or fear. She placed her back against the door and stood in a limp attitude, striving to regain her composure. She passed a trembling hand across her forehead to brush away a lock of hair that had strayed down.

"Mr. Armstrong," she said nervously, "you must come with me—at once. Please—please hurry."

"What has happened?" he demanded anxiously. "Why, you—you're as white as a ghost!"

"It's Amador," she replied faintly. "He stopped me. But that is not all. Just now he threatened Mr. Donaldson—he knocked one of the men down."

Armstrong passed her, jerked open the door, and she followed him into the compound. He lifted her roughly into the gray roadster, and they throbbed off down the black road.

Donaldson and his road gang were lined up as they approached. Implanted in the center of the road on a small Cuban pony was Amador. Armstrong applied the brakes and drew to a grinding stop within ten paces of the Cuban. He scrambled out and walked to the pony.

Amador's thick lips drew back in a half grin, and his bagging eyes were expressive of contempt as he looked down. Armstrong beckoned to Donaldson to approach, and the road boss obeyed with agility.

"What's the trouble, Donaldson?" demanded Armstrong, without removing his glance from Amador.

"Senor—" began Amador.

"I will hear this gentleman first," interrupted Armstrong, curtly.

"It's this way, Mr. Armstrong," said Donaldson slowly. "We were working along here, minding our own business, when Senor Amador gallops out of the gate and orders us to stop. I obeyed your orders, and kept right on working. He drives the pony right in among my men and knocked one of them down. Then Miss Callahan happens along and I ask her to kindly tell you."

"Well, Amador, what have you to say for yourself?"

"This is my property," snapped the Cuban, "and I will continue to use force to prevent trespassing. Senor Armstrong, let me tell you that I know exactly what you are doing here. I know everything you have done, and everything that you contemplate doing. I told you over a month ago not to interfere. You can accept the obvious consequences. Do I make myself clear?"

Armstrong nodded slowly.

"And I repeat," stated the Cuban, that I will allow no one to work on this road. Do you comprehend, senor?"

"Of course I comprehend," replied Armstrong, calmly. "If this road happened to be your private property I wouldn't go near it. But you have made a mistake. This road is the property of the State. It was laid down by the State, and I have failed to find any State law to prevent any one from making improvements. Do you still intend to use force in keeping my men away from their work? Because, if you do—"

"You impudent rascal!" exclaimed Amador, leaning down in his saddle. "This is what I intend to do—now!" He brought down his whip stingingly on Armstrong's bare forearm.

"A Switchboard Cinderella" Starts in "Times" Sunday; a Fiction Confection.

"A Switchboard Cinderella," a story brimming with clean fun built about the double romance of two girls—one old-fashioned and the other jazzy and ultramodern—will begin in The Times Magazine next Sunday and be completed in the daily issues during the week. Robert Shannon wrote the tale, and everyone who has read it pronounces it a confection of fiction.

Maud Smith of Ogallala, Neb., in a fit of loneliness, answers an advertisement in a matrimonial paper. Her correspondent is an Oklahoma oil man. Reaching New York, where they are to meet and get married, her courage fails her and she gets Kittie Swasher, the up-to-the-minute telephone girl in the hotel, to impersonate her. Then the fun begins, and Mr. Shannon has told it in a delightfully breezy way. "A Switchboard Cinderella" will amuse you; don't fail to begin it in The Times Magazine Sunday!

REFORM OF MORALS IS HELD NEED.

Loyalty to Truth and Honor Urged by Pastor in Lenten Sermon.

"No citizen can be truly loyal to America unless he is loyal to those fundamental principles of honor and righteousness upon which this splendid government was founded," said Dr. Leslie B. Learned, rector of All Saints' Church, Pasadena, preaching yesterday at the noon Lenten service in the Morosco Theater.

Dr. Leslie B. Learned

Dr. Learned said that splendid results have been attained by the wise and eloquent men who, in the last few years, especially, have carried on propaganda to emphasize the need of loyalty to the country, but he said that much of this propaganda has been lacking in the deeper Christian qualities which it is the business of the church to teach and exemplify.

"If a war were to start tomorrow between America and some other nation it would be our duty to stand by our country, right or wrong," said Dr. Learned. "When a national law is passed no one has a right to erect his individual opinion against it, whether it be a new law or a Constitutional amendment. However, it is our duty as Christians to emphasize the need for a loyalty to truth and righteousness.

"No nation can long endure that is not founded on justice and truth," said Dr. Learned. "Loyalty to a country and to its leaders means little unless inspired by loyalty to right. In the United States today it is not our institutions or our form of government that need changing, but a great deal of reform for the better might be made in the morals of the individuals of the country."

Wants Hundred Thousand for Alleged Libel.

F. J. Eddy, said to be a wealthy mine owner living at Van Nuys, was made defendant yesterday in a suit for libel filed by J. W. Starkweather, a mining man, charging that he wrote a letter and caused it to be published in an Inyo county newspaper reflecting on his truth and veracity. Mr. Starkweather, represented by Attorney Thomas K. Case, asks $100,000 damages.

The purported libel occurred July 19, 1921. Paragraphs quoted are to the effect that "a certain man seems to be working overtime circulating falsehoods regarding myself." The letter calls the plaintiff a deluded man; it states that not one of the nineteen members of "our company is in sympathy with J. W. Starkweather; not one of them will back him in his vicious fight against me."

The tenor of the letter, the complaint states, leads to the inference that the plaintiff is a "liar and a thief." The suit grows out of the organization of the Minarets Mining Company, it is said.

MURDER CASE RECALLED.

The Sudow murder was recalled in Jude Rives's Probate Court yesterday when Lucille Sudow, daughter of Mrs. Fay Sudow, mysteriously slain in a eucalyptus grove, more than a year ago, petitioned the court for a special allowance of $300. She desired to purchase clothing for herself. Under her mother's will, Miss Sudow receives $100 a month for her support, and $40 a month for herself personally. The court took the matter under submission.

regularly. Results will astound you! You will also find that Kellogg's Bran will clear pimply complexions and sweeten disagreeable breaths.

You should know Kellogg's Bran as a nature-food. It is one of the most delicious cereals you ever ate. Do not confuse it with "remedies" such as pills or cathartics which never can and never will give permanent relief from constipation. Kellogg's Bran is nature's corrector. It acts as a sweeper, cleansing and purifying and regulating, whereas pills and cathartics can give but temporary action at best. Bran never irritates or makes you uncomfortable!

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is used in thousands of homes in many kinds of foods as well as a cereal. It makes the best pancakes you ever ate. Use it in raisin bread, muffins, macaroons, gravies or in many other enticing ways. Your grocer has it.—[Advertisement.

Travel and Trust Service

Thousands of wealthy men forego the pleasure and the broadening and rejuvenating influence of travel because they believe that they are tied down by the many details and "duties" in connection with their property interests.

Most of these men could gain almost complete freedom by availing themselves of the time-tested facilities and valuable experience of the modern trust organization.

Title Insurance and Trust Company has for many years specialized in the care and maintenance of property. Some of the largest estates in the West are now under the management of this institution.

If you want more leisure—if you want burdensome details lifted permanently from your shoulders—a reliable, proven service at a moderate price—consult our trust officers.

WHEN .. A .. REAL .. CLOWN .. CAME.

Crippled Children in Hospital Get Sure-Enough Treat

Telling About His Own Little Ones.

THERE are not very many children in this world who have talked with a clown, a real circus clown. Some children even think clowns can't talk—that you wind 'em up like a walking doll.

But yesterday, the children of the Children's Hospital—and they are all children there—talked to the twenty clowns that went out to give them a circus all their own. The clowns did this because the children couldn't come to see the Barnes circus out in Praeger Park.

One clown took two of the children on his knee and told them that he had two little children just about their age back at home in—where was it?—Saginaw, Mich. What do you think of that? Two little clowns at home! And this old clown looked as if he was going to cry when he told about his own children. Clowns are funny!

The clowns, of course, took out a lot of animals, two elephants, too, all on automobiles. They gave a real circus on the hospital lawn.

SET-BACK GIVEN LIBRARY PLANS.

mind and a rental agreement satisfactory to him and to the city can be reached, the City Council will be compelled to notify the Library Board that the Normal Hill city building must remain where it is. This would be a notice to the Library Board that it must seek another site for the library. The City Council would then proceed to carry out its agreement with the Fifth Street Association while hcalls for the slicing off of a portion of the north wall of the Normal Hill building, so as to permit the widening of Fifth street.

If the health and other city departments remain in Normal Hill center the Library Board will be forced to seek a new site for the library.

The voters last June authorized the letting of $2,500,000 of bonds for building a new central library and branches. The Hollywood, University and other branches will require, for sites and buildings, $500,000 of the issue, a new central library building adequate for the needs of Los Angeles will cost $1,500,000, and an additional $500,000 will be required to furnish and equip it, leaving nothing for purchase of a site.

CHOICE LIMITED.

The Library Board was forced to choose between the only two free sites available—Pershing Square, which had long been urged, and Normal Hill, which is also owned by the city. After much discussion, the Board finally decided on Normal Hill, and the City Council agreed to transfer the land to the Library Board.

With the City Council unable to select a City Hall Annex, the Library Board may be forced to accept Pershing Square or obtain another bond issue.

The situation has caused the proponents of the Pershing Square site to rally together again in support of this location. They point out that even if Normal Hill were available, with the new Biltmore Hotel on the east, the Bible Institute on the south, privately owned land on the west, cutting off an approach and entrance to the library from that side, and Bunker Hill on the north, a new library on Normal Hill, regardless of how beautiful and pretentious it might be, would be hemmed in, both as to its being viewed from a distance and accessibility.

SQUARE'S ADVANTAGES.

Those favoring the Pershing Square site say that it will give the Public Library a setting worthy of the magnificent building to be built and still leave adequate space for park purposes, that it will be accessible, and finally, pointed out that several years go when a poll of the voters was taken, Pershing Square was the favored site.

Even those who do not favor the Pershing Square site fear that the entire library project will be indefinitely delayed if the Pershing Square site is rejected by the Library Board, and an appeal made to the voters for an additional $1,000,000 in bonds to purchase a site. If this bond issue fails it would mean only one thing—that the people desire the library to be built in Pershing Square, the proponents of this location declare.

The bids of eleven architects to draw the plans of the proposed university branch library building to be constructed at Thirty-fourth street and University avenue were opened yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the board of library directors. The bids as a whole were referred to the architects' and engineers' committee, and will be reported on at the next meeting April 4. Eight of the bids were 6 per cent of the cost of the building, one 7½ per cent, one 5½ per cent, and one 12 per cent. The building is to cost about $30,000.

INVESTIGATE DEATH.

District Attorney's Men Seek Facts in Canyon Fatality.

How Ed Crichton, a landscape gardener, came to his death in Ramirez Canyon, twenty miles north of the gate of the Malibu Ranch, was investigated yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Fox and Nolan and Walter Hunter, at the direction of the District Attorney.

The investigators visited the scene of the death and learned that Crichton and a companion appeared in that section on Thursday, last, and that the other man returned toward Los Angeles on Friday. It was reported that the companion reported that he had left a man who was sick near-by, and then disappeared. Later the body of Crichton was found.

An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of death.

TUNNEL CONTRACTOR TO ASK MORE TIME.

WORK ON SECOND-STREET TUBE SLOW, SAY OFFICIALS.

Contractor John Hayes is expected to make formal application soon to the Board of Public Works for an extension of time under his contract to complete the Second-street tunnel, work on which has been proceeding much too slowly, says City Engineer Griffin, members of the Board of Public Works and other city officials.

Under his contract, Mr. Hayes was given fifteen months to complete the tunnel and this time limit expires July 1. The contract sets the time limit, but provides no penalties in case the contractor fails to complete his job within the specified time. City Engineer Griffin has notified the Board of Public Works that at the contractor's present rate of speed, it will take two years more to complete the work and open the tunnel to the public.

The Board of Public Works will probably grant Mr. Hayes's request for an extension of time, but will take every step possible to compel him to speed up his work. City inspectors are on the job night and day under orders from the Board of Public Works to see to it that the specifications set down in the contract are carried out.

MOTHER!

Your Child's Bowels Need "California Fig Syrup"

Hurry Mother! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you have a well, playful child again. Even a cross, feverish, constipated child loves its "fruity" taste, and mothers can rest easy because it never fails to work all the sour bile and poisons right out of the stomach and bowels without griping or upsetting the child.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother, you must say "California." Refuse any imitation.

MARY NEWCOMB HOME.

WILL APPEAR AT MAJESTIC IN "SMILIN' THROUGH."

By Grace Kingsley.

Admirers of Mary Newcomb, leading lady at the Majestic, and their name is, of course, legion, will be delighted to know that she has returned safe and sound from New York and that she will appear in "Smilin' Through" next Sunday.

During her several weeks' absence Miss Newcomb has not been having the wildly hilarious time beautiful actresses are supposed to have while on vacations. In fact, she spent most of the time in a hospital, following an operation on her nose. Now, however, she looks bloomingly lovely again, and says that she never felt so well in her life, nor so ready for work.

"I always knew there was something the matter with my head," said Miss Newcomb, "but when they told me they could fix it—my heavens, I was delighted! I'm really hoping that my audiences may notice a difference in my headwork."

Miss Newcomb is not to remain long in our midst, however. She is to be sent to New York next fall in a new play, probably one by Frances Nordstrum, who wrote "The Ruined Lady." Miss Newcomb and Alf Wilkes conferred with Miss Nordstrum in New York, and Miss Nordstrum suggested an idea for a play, a satire on the fast, younger set, which Miss Newcomb feels will perform that psychological feat described in highbrow circles as "knocking them cold."

Mr. Wilkes has about closed negotiations for a theater in New York, to house the new plays, which Thomas Wilkes, head of the Wilkes chain of stock theaters, will produce at his Majestic Theater here. He has several new plays by well-known authors, which he is ambitious to have shown on New York's Broadway.

One of the plays in which Miss Newcomb will shortly appear, probably following "Smiling Through," will be Rachel Crothers's "Nice People," which has been running in New York for a year and a half, and the stock rights to which Mr. Wilkes has just secured.

Robert Edison, Miss Newcomb's husband, who accompanied her to New York, has remained there, and is appearing in "The Glittering Gate" at a new Little Theater.

"I'm awfully glad to get back to California," said Miss Newcomb. "New York, after all, isn't what I thought it was at all. However, maybe if I hadn't been looking at it from a hospital window most of the time I might be feeling different."

Rudy Valentino in Sandstorm.

They don't have all the sandstorms in pictures, after all, says Rudolph Valentino. He thought he knew all about them, he says, but it wasn't until he encountered one with no kindly camera near that he realized what a robust, rude thing a sandstorm can be.

It was down at Palm Springs, while Valentino was resting up for his arduous labors in "Blood and Sand," that he and Douglas Gerrard rode out on horseback on the desert one day, and encountered a real he-man sandstorm.

"'The Sheik' was never like that!" declared Valentino. "We finally had simply to give our horses their heads and let them lead us home. We were lost, and the blinding sand cut into our eyes until we could not see. We were many miles in the desert when the sandstorm arose, and we were four hours reaching our hotel, making it long after dark."

Now Valentino is looking forward to making the bullfighting scenes in "Blood and Sand," which are to be staged in Tijuana.

One on Harold Lloyd.

Harold Lloyd's motto has always been: "I know my money's good. I made it myself!" Now, however, he isn't so sure that it looks so good. Anyway, he found himself in doubt the other day, while working at a little out-of-the-way town on location.

"I found I needed a certain kind of suit of clothes for my picture," said Harold. "So I went into the local store, where you could buy anything from beads to bombs. I purchased my suit, and laid down a hundred dollar bill.

"The clerk looked at the bill, turned it over, put on his glasses and surveyed it as if it were literature, passed his hands over it several times, smoothed it out and finally remarked: 'Just sit down and make yourself comfortable while I send down to the bank and see if it's all right!'

"Finally he came back, told us the bill was all right, but remarked cautiously, 'We ain't taking any chances with you picture folks these hard times.'"

Hugh Thompson in It.

That clever young lady, Nell Shipman, is heard from once more. She is working in a studio at Spokane, where she is starring in a picture of the north called "The Grub Stake."

Hugh Thompson has at last reformed and is playing heroes instead of bad men. He is Miss Shipman's leading man, and writes enthusiastically concerning the star, the city of Spokane, and everything about the company.

"We are progressing nicely with the picture," he says, "and it certainly has been a treat to get up in the snow country for a change. We have been treated royally ever since our arrival by the people of Spokane, receptions and dinners being the main events, and all of us appreciate it."

CONCERT HOLDOVER IS POPULAR EVENT.

Capacity audiences greeted the colorful orchestra program which has been held over for a second week at the California Theater. Which goes to prove that the California Theater management struck a happy idea when offering "more and better music" thrice every afternoon and evening.

Conductor Elinor and his ensemble were fully entitled to the warm reception they received. Franz von Suppe's "Poet and Peasant" overture was played with the elegance this popular number demands. The performance exhibited excellent talent in the strings and woodwinds. The usual 'cello solo was given to the French horn, which in the able hands of Vincent de Rubertis, was equally pleasing.

PICKFORDS DECIDE.

MARY AND JACK ARRANGE TO START FEATURES.

By Edwin Schallert.

A burst of production activity seems imminent at the new Pickford-Fairbanks studio, for not only will Douglas Fairbanks shortly start shooting "The Spirit of Chivalry," but Jack and Mary Pickford are planning to begin pictures within the next two weeks. This is a surprise, because it was generally understood that Mary would not commence work until the completion of a feature starring Jack.

The new play and the book mart having been surveyed for some weeks, it has been decided to star Jack in an original story. This is now being written by Johnston McCulley, who was responsible for "The Mark of Zorro," one of Doug Fairbanks's most successful pictures. The title is as yet unannounced.

Mary herself is, as previously announced, to appear in a revival of her story of "Tess of the Storm Country." She will begin this in about two weeks.

The cast has not yet been selected for either feature, but will be within the coming week.

Fairbanks is well lined up now to begin work on "The Spirit of Chivalry." Shooting will probably start in two weeks.

Speed Up at Studio.

Indications are that Robertson-Cole are to become a large factor in the producing game. They are setting the goal at ten companies before the end of spring, and five or six of these will be busy shortly.

Two directors have been added to the list, both of whom will make pictures with combination casts. One is Robert Thornby, the other Emory Johnson. The stars of the company include Harry Carey, Doris May, Pauline Frederick, and Sessue Hayakawa.

Announcement of new May production and Hayakawa feature will be made in the near future. Harry Carey's first feature is tentatively called "The Battle." Pauline Frederick's next picture, temporarily titled "Woman Bread," but will probably be known as "The Rose of the Desert," when it is released.

Norman Dawn has been making a feature called "The Son of the Wolf," based on two Jack London stories, in which Wheeler Oakman, Edith Roberts and Fred Kohler play leading roles. "The Midnight Call," the latest production to be made for R-C release, was directed by Emory Johnson and includes in the cast Ralph Lewis, Johnny Walker, Ella Hall, Claire McDowell and Bennie Alexander.

Whether William Christy Cabanne and Louis Gasnier, whose contracts have expired, will renew, has not yet been decided. It is probable, however, that they will continue with Robertson-Cole.

P. A. Powers, managing director of the company, who has outlined a new production schedule for the company, made the following statement yesterday:

"We are starting with a clean slate. A new idea of operation will be inaugurated at the Robertson-Cole studios. Actual co-operation is to be our modus operandi henceforth. This applies both to financial and technical phases of picture-making.

"Our cash in actual dollars will be pooled with the cash value to us as producers of an artist, a writer, a director. Our cash being actual hard coin of the realm, naturally we will not permit any inflated valuations to be placed on the brains or beauty to be pitted against that cash. In a word, no counterfeit, or wildcat money is being invested, nor will counterfeit talent or exaggerated egos find a place on the roster of our institution."

Mr. Powers went on to say that no established star of really stellar repute, nor a director "with the goods" would suffer under this revised order of things.

"The time for the solidification and perpetuation of the motion-picture industry is here," he said. He added that artificially forced admission fees, princely tribute paid out in the barter and the building of stars and directors, in fact, all features which "settled on the picture industry a burden of overcapitalization, with all its attendant wastefulness and warping of real values, the consequences of which are now so acutely apparent" would be eliminated in the reconstruction the industry is now undergoing.

New Chaplin Unit.

For the 'steenth time it is announced that Chaplin is about to re-embark on his picture career. This time, however, there is a new angle to his indicated return. Syd is reckoned as the probable director of the new picture unit starring Edna Purviance, for which papers of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Regent Film Company, the name of the organization.

The pictures of the Purviance company will be filmed at the Chaplin studio on La Brea avenue, where extensive additions are being made to enable Charlie to carry on his own activities before the camera without interfering with the progress of the company which will star Miss Purviance.

Syd Chaplin himself declared that there was nothing definite about his assuming the directorship. He has many business interests which occupy his time, and is still scheduled to appear in two pictures for Famous Players-Lasky. However, this would very likely not interfere if he really decides to go into the directing game.

General management of the affairs of the Regent company is vested in Alf Reeves, who acts in the same capacity for the Charlie Chaplin Studios, Inc.

As Nancy Sikes.

Gladys Brockwell has been selected to portray the role of Nancy Sikes in the Jackie Coogan production of "Oliver Twist," which is being directed by Frank Lloyd. Miss Brockwell was formerly starred by Fox.

BACK WITH UNIVERSAL.

Virginia Valli, who has just completed work in the leading feminine role in "The Storm," has been re-signed by Universal. Miss Valli will play opposite Herbert Rawlinson in a new mystery story, "The Black Bag." This picture will be Miss Valli's third for Universal. Her first for that company was "Tracked to Earth," in which she was featured in support of Frank Mayo at the Superba Theater two weeks ago.

Secrets Are Revealed at Pantages.

When you meet with an act like that which Alexander, "The Man Who Knows," puts on at Pantages this week, it is the part of discretion to bring to it a mind newly laundered or, else completely empty. For, whether there's a catch in it or not, this psychic gentleman has an uncanny faculty for giving you a mental once-over, and yesterday afternoon there were several members of the audience who must have found his remarks a trifle embarrassing, to say the least.

When a lady asks whether or not she shall marry a certain man, who is presumably sitting beside her at the time; and the answer she gets is: "Sure, go ahead; but don't treat him the way you did your first two"—anyone with a past is to be excused for nervousness.

All joking aside, Alexander is a very clever worker. It is permissible to disbelieve the "psychic" part of it all; but unless one can explain how the tricks are done, cries of "hokum" are unbecoming. So the reviewer simply confesses that he can't explain a bit of it, reserving meanwhile the privilege of personal doubt.

In many ways the best of the tricks is the producing of quite creditable portraits of persons not present upon bank canvases, without a stroke of the brush that any one can see. Two such canvases are put face to face in a frame with an electric light behind them, left there a few moments, and behold! when they are taken out again there is your portait. But the most interesting part of it is watching the image grow, and the fact that at first the eyes of these faces are closed and only open when the image has reached completion.

Yesterday's general opinion of Alexander seemed to be that of a man who came out just behind me, and said, after drawing a long breath: "Well, it's a darned good act, but it's too deep for me."

"The Bootshop" is amusing; Lazar and Dale are very amusing; and the Current of Fun and Langton, Smith and Langton are both amusing and out of the ordinary. The picture, "Billy Jim," with Fred Stone, is also good, so the show stacks up well this week; the chief trouble being that it's too long.

HIGH ATTENDANCE TOTALS.

"Foolish Wives" will today reach its one hundred and seventy-fifth performance at the Mission Theater. It is estimated that the attendance total is approximately $100,000. In the picture Erich Von Stroheim, who directed, plays the role of a Russian count, an adventurer, who uses Monte Carlo as his playground. He is supported by Maude George, Dale Fuller, Mae Busch, Miss DuPont and others.

ARTIST'S .. MASTERPIECE .. ARRIVES.

Three-Quarter Million-Dollar Painting Rolls in From East on Limited.

THE "Blue Boy" is in Los Angeles at last. Accompanied by Sir Joseph Duveen of the Duveen Art Galleries, New York, Thomas Gainsborough's most celebrated creation arrived here via the Santa Fe at 2:35 p.m. yesterday.

Henry E. Huntington, its new owner, was at the station to personally take charge of the famous picture, as well as to welcome Sir Joseph, who will be Mr. Huntington's guest at San Marino for several days.

Mr. Huntington smiled as the "Blue Boy" was taken from the special car and carefully removed to the Huntington truck for the last lap of the long journey from England, to which land the "Blue Boy" reluctantly bade adieu when the Duke of Westminster sold him to Mr. Huntington for three-quarters of a million good American dollars.

"When will the general public be invited to see the 'Blue Boy'?" Mr. Huntington was asked.

"I don't know," replied the sage of San Marino, "but the 'Blue Boy' is going to be a permanent resident in the Southland and the people will certainly be given a chance to look him over."

The 'Blue Boy' is probably the only boy who ever came all the way from New York to Los Angeles and arrived with a clean face. This was due to the fact that he was carefully wrapped and packed so that he was protected from dust and screened from the prying eyes of the crowds that gathered at the station to bid him welcome. The picture is five feet, ten inches high, and four feet wide.

"Sage of San Marino" Welcomes Canvas Worth a King's Ransom.

Sir Joseph Duveen, who is shown chatting with Mr. Huntington, above, accompanied the painting, which will be given a place of honor in either the power magnate's home or library at San Marino. He and his brothers are famous art dealers.

FIREMEN FILE SUITS.

Four Victims of Crash Demand Damages From Railway.

As a result of a collision at East Ninth and Stanford avenue, February 22, last, in which a number of firemen were injured, four suits against the Pacific Electric were filed yesterday for damages totaling $150,000.

At the time of the accident, the department was responding to a fire. A Pacific Electric car collided with the apparatus and Oscar Johns, John L. Doran, Wesley Donovan and Ralph Smith were injured. Donovan and Smith ask for $50,000 damages each; Johns and Doran for $25,000 each. They are represented by Attorney E. B. Drake.

SHIPBUILDER HERE.

Britisher and Wife Enjoying Six Months' Vacation in State.

George Strachan, one of the foremost shipbuilders of Britain, and Mrs. Strachan are visiting Mrs. J. Spiers Watson on the Watson avocado ranch, San Fernando. Mr. Strachan is secretary and director of the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering Works on the Clyde.

Having completed his fifty-first year in the firm's service he is taking a six months' vacation in California. Mr. Strachan has had a notable career. He early was associated with William (later Sir William) Pierce, who was pioneer of the Atlantic fliers of thirty-five years ago.

Guests Will Fly to Banquet in Santa Ana.

Twenty members and guests of the Commercial Aircraft Association of Southern California will start from the Kinner Airport at 11 a.m. today and, after flying over Whittier, Fullerton and Orange, land at Santa Ana, where they will be guests at a Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Santa Ana is to have a municipal airplane landing field and the Commercial Aircraft Association has volunteered to give the Chamber of Commerce some real "inside stuff" on commercial aviation and its possibilities.

Glen Martin, nationally recognized airplane manufacturer and designer, is a native of Santa Ana and will be present at the luncheon as a guest of honor. Mr. Martin will speak on aviation and its future.

Among the other guests and speakers will be Sheriff Traeger, Roy I. Gradle, president of the Commercial Aircraft Association; Robert W. Powell, president of the Aero Club of Southern California; J. B. Webster, E. M. Fisk, Earl S. Daugherty, George B. Harrison and Elliott H. Barrett.

Mr. Gradle, president of the Commercial Aircraft Association, declared recently that airplanes can make Southern California even as automobiles made Detroit and that it is the avowed purpose of the Commercial Aircraft Association to attain this end.

BUT "DAWNCES" WAS DIFFERENT.

Husband Objected When Dances Acquired the "W."

Howard H. Hague drew a difference with a distinction when he was called upon in Judge McLucas's court yesterday to answer the accusation of his wife, Annie Emma Hague. She sought a divorce and declared that her husband objected to her going to dances—this after a married life of twenty years When she insisted, she said he left her.

Mr. Hague testified it was all right as long as his wife went to dances. But after a time she started to go to "dawnces," he said, and this was the last straw. He quit.

The court granted Mrs. Hague a decree on the ground of desertion.

Law Governing Citrus Shipping Will be Tested.

Instituting a test case of the county and State laws regarding the shipping of asserted frozen citrus fruits, principally oranges, two new complaints were filed yesterday against C. H. Peppers of the Peppers Fruit Company, charging violations of both laws by the commission of one stated offense.

By virtual agreement Justice Hinshaw fixed bail at $25 on each charge. Immediately a writ of habeas corpus was sworn out and was set for hearing before Judge Willis for this morning. The purpose of the test case, it was stated, is to determine in what manner the State and county laws, which do not have the same terms, operate. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Becker is representing the District Attorney's office.

It is charged that shipments were made in which more than 15 per cent of the oranges were frozen, and that this tended to discredit the California citrus industry.

CHARGES MALICE.

O. A. Brown sued Frank Eckels for malicious prosecution yesterday, demanding damages of $42,876. He stated in his complaint, prepared by Attorney I. S. Baltimore, that he was accused of making false and fradulent misrepresentations; also with engaging in a conspiracy to defraud. The suit grows out, it is said, of an apartment-house deal.

Suit Filed to Decide Title to Tidelands.

A friendly suit to determine the ownership of twelve acres of land in Wilmington bordering the bay and channels, was filed yesterday by Lucy Banning Ross against the Burkhard Investment Company, the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, the city of Los Angeles, Hancock Banning, who is the plaintiff's brother, and others.

The plaintiff asserts that the tract is above high tide and was not included in the famous tidelands suit tried by Judge Bordwell a number of years ago. It is now worth approximately $80,000. It is stated that the tract belongs to the plaintiff under tideland patents.

The lands are claimed by the Burkhard interests as belonging to them by accretion; the shipyard company has a lease from the city of adjoining land which encroaches on the tract. Hancock Banning owns adjoining land, but he does not assert any claim against his sister. The suit was filed through Attorneys Ward and L. M. Chapman.

JAPANESE IS SUICIDE.

J. H. Suetake, a Japanese, ended his life in a North San Pedro street hotel yesterday morning by blowing off the top of his head with a shotgun. Despondency was given as the cause. The body was sent to the Japanese undertaking parlors.
